SUPPLEMENTAL DECLARATION OF DMITRY KRIVIN, A PARTNER OF MCKINSEY & COMPANY, INC. UNITED STATES, DISCLOSING
CONNECTIONS TO MATERIAL INTERESTED PARTIES IN CONNECTION WITH THE PUERTO RICO RECOVERY ACCURACY IN DISCLOSURES ACT

I, Dmitry Krivin, declare as follows:

1. I am employed as a partner at McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States (“McKinsey US”) with an office at 175 Greenwich Street, New York City, NY, 10007.

¹ The Debtors in these Title III Cases, along with each Debtor’s respective Title III case number and the last four (4) digits of each Debtor’s federal tax identification number, as applicable, are the (i) Commonwealth of Puerto Rico (Bankruptcy Case No. 17-BK-3283- LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 3481); (ii) Puerto Rico Sales Tax Financing Corporation (“COFINA”) (Bankruptcy Case No. 17-BK-3284-LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 8474); (iii) Puerto Rico Highways and Transportation Authority (“HTA”) (Bankruptcy Case No. 17-BK-3567-LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 3808); (iv) Employees Retirement System of the Government of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico (“ERS”) (Bankruptcy Case No. 17-BK-3566-LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 9686); (v) Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority (“PREPA”) (Bankruptcy Case No. 17- BK-4780-LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 3747); and (vi) Puerto Rico Public Buildings Authority (“PBA”) (Bankruptcy Case No. 19-BK-5523-LTS) (Last Four Digits of Federal Tax ID: 3801) (Title III case numbers are listed as Bankruptcy Case numbers due to software limitations).

McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey & Co.”) is the ultimate parent company of McKinsey US, McKinsey & Company Puerto Rico Consulting, Inc. (“McKinsey Puerto Rico”) and its affiliates (collectively, “McKinsey”).² I am duly authorized to make this declaration, which is being submitted to supplement my initial declaration filed on May 16, 2022 [Docket No. 20832] (the “Initial Declaration”),³ and the Initial Declaration as supplemented herein, the “Declaration”) ⁴ on behalf of the Proposed Professionals (as defined below) in connection with PRRADA (as defined below) and the Independent Contractor Services Agreement, effective as of July 1, 2021 (the “Current Contract”),⁵ between the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (the “FOMB”) and McKinsey Puerto Rico in connection with work for the Debtors related to the proceedings under Title III of the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management, and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA” and such proceedings, the “PROMESA Proceedings”).

2. I have been employed by McKinsey US since 2006, and I am a partner in the Risk practice. I serve clients on coordinating and executing supervisory remediation programs, setting up operational risk and compliance programs, and developing operational and risk processes to meet regulatory requirements and enforcement actions.

3. Except as otherwise noted, the statements set forth herein are based on knowledge I have from my employment position and diligence undertaken by me or professionals reporting to me and, if called and sworn as a witness, I would testify competently thereto.

³ The Initial Declaration was re-filed on May 24, 2022 in text-searchable format [Docket No. 20989].

⁴ A redline of this Declaration against the Initial Declaration is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

⁵ McKinsey and the FOMB have agreed to an Authorization to Continue Providing Services, dated July 1, 2022, to ensure the continuation of services while a new Independent Contractor Services Agreement for 2022-2023 is finalized.

Background

4. On January 20, 2022, President Biden signed into law the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (“PRRADA”). PRRADA sets forth disclosure requirements for professional persons seeking compensation pursuant to section 316 and 317 of PROMESA after PRRADA’s enactment. I am filing this Declaration in connection with PRRADA’s disclosure requirements, in accordance with implementing orders of the Court, because McKinsey Puerto Rico intends to seek such compensation.

5. On February 22, 2022, pursuant to PRRADA and Court order, the FOMB filed a proposed list of material interested parties for professionals to use in preparing PRRADA disclosures [Docket No. 20194, Ex. A].

6. On March 21, 2022, the Court entered the Order Regarding Proposed List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act [Docket No. 20419] (the “MIPL Order”), which, among other things, ordered the FOMB to submit an amended list of material interested parties.

7. On March 28, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Debtors filed an amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20455, Ex. A].

8. On March 29, 2022, the Debtors filed a further amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20458, Ex. A] (the “MIPL”, and such material interested parties, the “Material Interested Parties”), a copy of which is attached hereto on Schedule 1(a).

9. On March 30, 2022, the Court entered the Order Approving List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosure Act [Docket No. 20467], approving the MIPL.

10. On May 16, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Initial Declaration was filed.

11. Following the filing of the Initial Declaration, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Puerto Rico (the “U.S. Trustee”) requested certain additional information in connection with the disclosures set forth therein. I submit this Supplemental Declaration setting forth the disclosures in my Initial Declaration, supplemented by certain additional information requested by the U.S. Trustee. In addition to this Declaration, McKinsey Puerto Rico and its affiliates are also filing the Declaration of Casey S. Lipscomb, General Counsel of MIO Partners, Inc. (the “Lipscomb Declaration”); the Declaration of Joshua Dennis, A Partner of Stoneturn Group, LLP, in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (the “StoneTurn Declaration”); and the Declaration of Jonathan M. Davis, A Partner of McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States, in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act in response to questions received from the U.S. Trustee regarding my Initial Declaration.

12. I led a process similar to the one described below in connection with semiannual disclosures required of McKinsey Puerto Rico pursuant to the terms of (a) the Independent Contractor Services Agreements, effective as of July 1, 2019, between the FOMB and McKinsey Puerto Rico (the “2019-2020 Contract”); (b) the Independent Contractor Services Agreements, effective as of July 1, 2020, between the FOMB and McKinsey Puerto Rico (the “2020-2021 Contract”); and (c) the Current Contract (the Current Contract, the 2019-2020 Contract, and the 2020-2021 Contract are referred to collectively herein as the “Contracts”). The disclosures set forth in this Declaration include all disclosures made to the FOMB as a result of those processes, plus additional disclosures resulting from the process undertaken to comply with PRRADA as described below.

13. The Contracts required McKinsey to make certain conflict of interest certifications with respect to a list of interested parties attached to each Contract, which list was updated semiannually by the FOMB (the aggregated list of such interested parties as of May 16, 2022 is the “Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL”). Many of the parties listed on the MIPL were also included on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL. The list of parties on the MIPL, but not on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, comprise the “Supplemental PRRADA IPL.”

14. After the filing of the Initial Declaration, the FOMB provided the Proposed Professionals with an updated list of interested parties in connection with renewing McKinsey’s contract for 2022-2023 (the “Updated Contractual IPL”). Many of the parties listed on the Updated Contractual IPL were also included on the MIPL. The list of parties on the Updated Contractual IPL, but not on the MIPL, comprise the “Supplemental Contractual IPL” and are listed on Schedule 1(b) attached hereto.

15. Similarly, each set of McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts used a more current look-back period than the last set. Prior to my Initial Declaration, the most recent look-back period McKinsey reviewed in connection with its contractual disclosures to the FOMB was November 27, 2016—the date when McKinsey consulting affiliates first entered into a services contract with the FOMB—through December 31, 2021 (the “Contractual Look-Back Period”). The Working Group (as defined below) preparing this Declaration also reviewed additional periods from January 1, 2022, through February 28, 2022 (the “Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period”) and from November 27, 2014, through November 26, 2016 (the “Second Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period” and, together with the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period, the “Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Periods”). The combined period from November 27, 2014, through February 28, 2022, is the “Consolidated Look-Back Period.”

Engagement Team and Corporate Structure

16. As used in this Declaration, the term “Engagement Team” means the McKinsey consultants who comprise the working group that is directly providing services to the FOMB under the Contracts.⁶ This included all McKinsey professionals that billed time to providing services to the FOMB. While the Contracts are between the FOMB and McKinsey Puerto Rico, as is customary, McKinsey Puerto Rico utilizes certain consultants employed by its consulting affiliates (in this case, the other Proposed Professionals) in providing consulting services to the FOMB.

17. My team and I determined which McKinsey employees would be part of the Engagement Team by asking McKinsey’s finance department to identify all consulting personnel who charged time to the FOMB project number during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. The McKinsey entities that employ or employed the members of the Engagement Team, based on the finance department’s responses, are McKinsey Puerto Rico; McKinsey & Company, Inc. do Brasil Consultoria Ltda USD (“McKinsey Brazil”); McKinsey & Company Canada/McKinsey & Compagnie Canada (“McKinsey Canada”); McKinsey & Company Colombia, Inc. (“McKinsey Colombia”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. France (“McKinsey France”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Israel (“McKinsey Israel”); McKinsey & Company LME Limited (“McKinsey LME”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Mexico, S.C. (“McKinsey Mexico”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Panama (“McKinsey Panama”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Peru (“McKinsey Peru”);

⁶ Although the Protocol (as defined below) contemplates excluding personnel that only episodically provide such services, personnel serving the Debtors were not excluded from the definition of the Engagement Team on this basis. See Ex. A, Defined Terms (defining “Proposed Professional Personnel” as the “primary working group within a Proposed Professional entity that directly provides the services for which the Proposed Professional is retained in the particular bankruptcy case, and excludes personnel that only episodically provide such services”).

McKinsey & Company Singapore, Pte Ltd (“McKinsey Singapore”); McKinsey & Company Support Services C.R. (“McKinsey SSCR”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. United Kingdom (“McKinsey UK”); McKinsey US; McKinsey & Company, Inc. Washington D.C. (“McKinsey DC”); the Germany office of McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey Germany”); the India office of McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey India”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. (Malaysia) (“McKinsey Malaysia”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Italy (“McKinsey Italy”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Switzerland (“McKinsey Switzerland”); McKinsey & Company, Inc. The Netherlands (“McKinsey Netherlands”); McKinsey & Company, S.L. (“McKinsey SL”); McKinsey & Consulting Company Inc., Shanghai (“McKinsey Shanghai”); McKinsey Knowledge Center Poland sp. z o.o. (“McKinsey Poland”); McKinsey Knowledge Centre India Private Limited (“McKinsey Knowledge Centre”); McKinsey Global Services India Private Limited (“McKinsey Global Services”); and McKinsey Recovery and Transformation Services U.S., LLC (“RTS” and, collectively, the “Proposed Professionals”).

18. In connection with each prior set of disclosures made to the FOMB pursuant to the Contracts, using this same process, my team and I periodically had updated the list of consulting personnel comprising the “Engagement Team” to reflect the applicable look-back period covered by such disclosure. The Engagement Team for purposes of this Declaration was identified by combining the historical list of consulting personnel for the Contractual Look-Back Period with the list of consulting personnel identified for the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period.⁷

⁷ Although the Protocol (as defined below) contemplates excluding personnel that only episodically provide such services, all McKinsey professionals that billed any time to serving the FOMB were included on the “Engagement Team” list.

19. Other than McKinsey Brazil, the Proposed Professionals are all wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries of McKinsey & Co. McKinsey Brazil is a majority-owned indirect subsidiary of McKinsey & Co., with the remaining minority ownership stake being owned by the equity holders of McKinsey & Co.

20. McKinsey partners are the only equity holders of McKinsey & Co.

Disclosure Regarding Connections of the Proposed Professionals

General

21. McKinsey maintains a global database of client engagements but does not currently have in place any computerized conflicts database akin to the types used by a legal or accounting firm. More specifically, McKinsey's client database stores information relating to clients and client engagements, but does not capture information about third parties because consultants, unlike lawyers, do not always have adverse parties in their engagements.⁸ In addition, McKinsey at times serves companies with competing and overlapping interests, and thus maintains processes designed to ensure that the confidential information of its clients is protected. To that end, McKinsey has in place information barriers that prohibit confidential information from being shared within the firm, except on a need-to-know basis.

22. I led a working group of McKinsey professionals (the "Working Group")⁹ who undertook a multi-stage analysis of McKinsey's client and other connections with parties on the MIPL guided by a disclosure protocol ("Protocol") as initially filed in the bankruptcy case In re Westmoreland Coal Company, Inc., Case No. 18-35672-DRJ (Bankr. S.D. Tex.), on May 31,

⁸ The comprehensive process described herein is intended to substantially replicate the use of a computerized conflicts checking database. McKinsey has been working to create and implement a computerized conflicts checking database, which, when completed, will be used in connection with future disclosures of this nature.

2019, supplemented by additional procedures and disclosures described herein, including as agreed in the Order Approving Second Mediated Settlement Agreement Between the United States Trustee Program and McKinsey & Company, Inc. and its Affiliates (the “UST Settlement”). The Protocol is attached to this Declaration as Exhibit A, and the UST Settlement is available at In re Westmoreland Coal Company, Inc., Case No. 18-35672-DRJ (Bankr. S.D. Tex.), Docket No. 3203.

23. While the disclosures made under the 2019-2020 Contract and the 2020-2021 Contract initially were focused on the McKinsey entities that employed the then-current members of the Engagement Team, in February 2021, McKinsey began using the comprehensive process described herein to review connections of all of its consulting affiliates, with its first update to its disclosures made to the FOMB after approval of the UST Settlement. Thus, the processes used to identify connections described herein (and in my Initial Declaration) and those employed by representatives of MIO Partners, Inc., as described in the StoneTurn Declaration, are designed to search for and identify connections across all of McKinsey’s affiliates.

Client Connections

24. The first step in the Working Group’s process was to expand the MIPL to include all corporate affiliates that shared a common parent with each corporate party listed on the MIPL.¹⁰ My team and I already had expanded the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL in connection with McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts (such expanded list, the “Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL”). My team was able to extract the relevant corporate trees using information available on the S&P Capital IQ platform (“Capital IQ”), which is a widely used third-party platform that provides extensive capital structure and related information to facilitate the identification of such affiliates. Where the names of the entities on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL were incomplete or ambiguous, the scope of the Capital IQ searches was intentionally broad and inclusive. Affiliate relationships were deemed to exist where a parent company owned 20% or more of the equity of a subsidiary, analogous to the definition of a debtor affiliate in section 101(2) of the Bankruptcy Code.¹¹ Where Capital IQ's data indicated a corporate parent or subsidiary relationship existed but did not provide information sufficient to determine whether the applicable parent company owned 20% or more of the equity of a subsidiary, the entity was assumed to be above this ownership threshold and was included as an affiliate on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL out of an abundance of caution. In sum, the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL expanded the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL from 15,807 unique parties to 149,034 unique parties.

25. After the MIPL was approved and the Working Group determined the Supplemental PRRADA IPL, the Working Group's next step was to expand the Supplemental PRRADA IPL in the same manner (such expanded list, the "Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL"). In sum, the Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL expanded the Supplemental PRRADA IPL from 1,952 unique parties to 47,660 unique parties.

26. After McKinsey received the Updated Contractual IPL and the Working Group determined the Supplemental Contractual IPL, the Working Group's next step was to expand the Supplemental Contractual IPL in the same manner (such expanded list, the "Supplemental

¹¹ The Bankruptcy Code states that the term "affiliate" means "(A) entity that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, 20 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than an entity that holds such securities— (i) in a fiduciary or agency capacity without sole discretionary power to vote such securities; or (ii) solely to secure a debt, if such entity has not in fact exercised such power to vote; (B) corporation 20 percent or more of whose outstanding voting securities are directly or indirectly owned, controlled, or held with power to vote, by the debtor, or by an entity that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, 20 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than an entity that holds such securities— (i) in a fiduciary or agency capacity without sole discretionary power to vote such securities; or (ii) solely to secure a debt, if such entity has not in fact exercised such power to vote" 11 U.S.C. § 101(2).

Contractual Expanded IPL”). In sum, the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL expanded the Supplemental Contractual IPL from 380 unique parties to 35,499 unique parties.

27. After filing the Initial Declaration, the Working Group became aware of Naturgy being awarded an approximately $9 billion dollar contract with the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority in December 2019. Naturgy was not on the MIPL or Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL and, accordingly, McKinsey did not search for connections to Naturgy or its affiliates when preparing the Initial Declaration. However, out of an abundance of caution, McKinsey expanded Naturgy in the same manner as described above (such expanded list, the “Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL”). In sum, the Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL includes 251 unique parties.

28. The Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL, the Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL, the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL, and the Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL were combined to create the “Expanded MIPL.”

29. The Working Group then compiled a list of each client engagement of each of McKinsey’s consulting affiliates open during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. McKinsey’s finance department already had identified each such client engagement during the Contractual Look-Back Period in connection with McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts (the list of client names for such engagements, the “Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List”). McKinsey’s finance department then identified each client engagement of each of McKinsey’s consulting affiliates open during the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Periods. The list of client names for these engagements that were not on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List formed the “Supplemental PRRADA Client List.” The Supplemental PRRADA Client List was combined with the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List to create the “Consolidated Client List.”

30. The Working Group already had checked the names on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List against the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts. To prepare this Declaration, the Working Group also conducted additional checks such that, in sum, all of the names on the Consolidated Client List were checked against the Expanded MIPL. The scope of these checks was intentionally broad and inclusive. The matches previously disclosed pursuant to the Contracts and my Initial Declaration are set forth on Schedule 2(a), and those resulting from these additional checks are set forth on Schedule 2(b).¹² To the best of my knowledge, based on the results of the Surveys (as defined below), subject to the disclosures set forth herein, the connections set forth on Schedules 2(a) and 2(b) (a) do not constitute interests adverse to the Debtors and (b) involve matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

Vendor Connections and Banking Connections

31. The Working Group already had compared McKinsey's records of ordinary-course vendor and banking connections during the Contractual Look-Back Period applicable for each set of prior disclosures under the Contracts against the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts. To prepare this Declaration, the Working Group conducted additional checks such that, in sum, all of McKinsey's ordinary-course vendor and banking connections during the Consolidated Look-Back Period were checked against the Expanded MIPL. The scope of these checks was intentionally broad and inclusive. The matches previously disclosed pursuant to the Contracts and my Initial Declaration are set forth on Schedule 2(a), and those resulting from these additional checks are set forth on Schedule 2(b). To the best of my knowledge, as ordinary-course vendor and banking connections, none of these connections constitute interests adverse to the Debtors.

Questionnaires

32. In addition to the connection checking process described above, several different sets of surveys were prepared and distributed by the Working Group in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts and as part of preparing this Declaration (collectively, the "Surveys").¹³

33. Specifically in connection with preparation of these disclosures, first, an email survey including substantively identical questions and information as Protocol Exhibit B was sent to all professional personnel (as distinguished from staff, support, or administrative personnel) of McKinsey's consulting affiliates worldwide, inquiring if any such person (i) held debt or other claims against Puerto Rico (other than investments, including through mutual funds and other investment vehicles, that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion) at any time after 90 days prior to the date that McKinsey first entered into a services contract with the FOMB in 2016; (ii) had previously been employed by Puerto Rico, or (iii) had any connections to any of the judges, mediators, or employees of the office of the United States Trustee, in each case working on the PROMESA Proceedings. Such surveys were also sent to all directors and officers of McKinsey entities other than MIO, which as described below, is operated separately from McKinsey's consulting business. The results of these surveys, and of similar surveys distributed in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

¹³ The Surveys prepared and distributed by the Working Group in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts and as part of preparing this Declaration instructed recipients to please respond even if they had previously responded to earlier surveys, in order to ensure that survey responses were updated during each connection-checking process.

34. Second, in preparing my Initial Declaration, in addition to each DCS receiving the survey identified in paragraph 33, an additional email survey was sent to each director of client services ("DCS") or McKinsey partner most knowledgeable about a particular engagement for each of the engagements for a client on the Supplemental PRRADA Client List that matches an entity on the Expanded MIPL and any engagements during the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Periods of previously disclosed client matches. In connection with this Declaration, such survey was sent, in sum, to each DCS or partner most knowledgeable about a particular engagement for any client on the Consolidated Client List identified as a match with any party on the Expanded MIPL. The DCS for an engagement is the leader of the client services team and the lead client contact. This survey requested that each recipient indicate, to the best of his or her knowledge, whether the work for his or her client, in any engagement for the client known to the recipient, was in any way related to Puerto Rico. If the answer was yes, the recipient was asked to provide additional information concerning the connection with Puerto Rico for further review by McKinsey and its counsel. The results of these surveys, and of similar surveys distributed in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

35. Third, an email survey was sent to each member of the Engagement Team still employed by McKinsey including a link to the MIPL and asking whether such member (i) had personal connections with parties on the MIPL, i.e., connections other than professional client connections already being reviewed as part of the client checking process described above, including direct equity holdings in such parties, at any time after 90 days prior to the date that the Proposed Professionals first entered into a services contract with the FOMB in 2016, (ii) knew of any person or entity not included on the MIPL that, to such member's knowledge, should have been included because such party was an interested party in the PROMESA Proceedings (for example, because it is or was a creditor of, or has or had some other business connection to, Puerto Rico, Puerto Rico's assets, or the work being performed by the Consolidated Engagement Team), (iii) had ever discussed any aspect of MIO, including its investment or operations, with anyone who, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period, was a member of the MIO board of directors, or (iv) was related to or had a connection with any such MIO director other than arising out of having McKinsey as a common employer. A similar survey was sent to each member of the Engagement Team regarding the recently received Updated Contractual IPL. The results of this survey, and of similar surveys distributed in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

MIO Disclosures

36. MIO is a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of McKinsey & Co. and is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") as an investment adviser.¹⁴ The FOMB is not seeking to engage MIO, nor has it engaged MIO in the past. MIO does not provide any client consulting services. Rather, it manages assets for (i) pension plans sponsored by McKinsey & Co. ("Pension Plans") in which roughly 30,000 current and former McKinsey employees participate, and (ii) privately offered investment vehicles ("MIO Funds") in which McKinsey partners, former partners, and their immediate family members can invest. Substantially all the assets under management at MIO are owned for the benefit (direct or indirect) of current and former McKinsey employees and their immediate family members.

¹⁴ The only common parent company of McKinsey, on the one hand, and MIO, on the other, is McKinsey & Co.

37. By design, MIO is operated separately from McKinsey's consulting services, including for the purpose of ensuring McKinsey's unbiased service to its consulting clients. The staff of MIO is dedicated exclusively to MIO. No MIO investment professional, meaning the members of MIO's investment management team who are responsible for all investment decisions made by MIO, is engaged in any activity or work related to the service of McKinsey's clients or is an employee of any McKinsey affiliate that provides client consulting services.¹⁵ Except to the extent described below in paragraphs 40 and 41 regarding MIO board members, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period McKinsey consulting professionals and staff had no control over the investments made by the Pension Plans or the MIO Funds, no ability to direct purchases or sales of any asset in the Pension Plans or the MIO Funds, and no access to non-public information about any underlying investment in the fund of funds structure. McKinsey does not earn money from the operations of MIO; to the contrary, McKinsey subsidizes MIO's operations.

38. Pursuant to McKinsey data protection protocols, client information obtained in the course of serving clients is maintained on systems that MIO employees lack the credentials to access. Similarly, MIO maintains information (electronic documents and files) related to its past and existing investments on servers that are controlled by MIO, and only New York-based MIO employees have access to the information contained on these servers. There are also physical barriers to ensure no confidential information or resources are shared, including separate MIO and McKinsey office spaces.

¹⁵ The term "investment professional" excludes MIO's Client Services and Advisory Personnel. These personnel are wealth management professionals who provide wealth management advice and services to McKinsey partners, operate independently from MIO's investment professional team, do not have access to non-public information regarding the identities of third-party managers or security-level investments made by third-party managers or MIO directly, and are not incentivized to recommend MIO-managed or -sponsored investment products.

39. The operational separation between MIO and McKinsey is designed to restrict the flow of information between MIO staff and McKinsey consultants and ensure that information regarding MIO investments will not influence McKinsey's client engagements and that information from McKinsey's client engagements will not influence MIO's investment decisions. MIO and McKinsey maintain policies and procedures designed to ensure separation. MIO staff and McKinsey consultants must regularly certify compliance with these policies and procedures. These MIO and McKinsey policies and procedures are designed to ensure that (i) MIO's investment decisions described above do not violate the laws prohibiting trading on the basis of material non-public information, and (ii) McKinsey has no participation in, control of, or knowledge concerning investment decisions made by MIO.

40. Until October 2021, MIO's board of directors included both current and former McKinsey partners and independent directors who were not current or former McKinsey partners. As of the date hereof, MIO's board of directors is comprised entirely of retired McKinsey partners and independent members who are not current or former McKinsey partners.¹⁶ While members of the MIO board of directors have oversight responsibilities with respect to MIO's management of the assets of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds, to the best of my knowledge, based on the Surveys, no member of the Engagement Team served on that board, or discussed any aspect of MIO, including its investment or operations, with anyone who, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period, was a member of the MIO board of directors.

41. The MIO board has delegated responsibility for making investment decisions on behalf of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds to MIO's professional staff. This professional staff is principally responsible for selecting and overseeing third-party managers who make specific instrument-level investment decisions based on their own discretion.¹⁷

42. On November 19, 2021, MIO agreed to pay a $18 million civil money penalty to the SEC to resolve charges relating to MIO's policies and procedures. More specifically, the SEC charged that MIO failed to "establish, maintain, and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed . . . to prevent the misuse of material, nonpublic information" and to "adopt and implement written policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent violations" of the laws and rules applicable to investment advisers.¹⁸ The SEC's public order did not identify any instances of misuse of material nonpublic information by either MIO or McKinsey. As described above, since October 2021, MIO's board of directors no longer includes any active McKinsey partners.

43. More details regarding MIO's operations, policies and procedures are contained in the StoneTurn Declaration and the Lipscomb Declaration.¹⁹

44. MIO qualifies as a "Type 2 AMA" under the Protocol,²⁰ because it (i) employs robust information barriers; (ii) is registered with the SEC and is subject to its regulatory

¹⁸ In re MIO Partners, Inc., Investment Advisors Act Release No. 5912 ¶¶ 32–33, 2021 WL 5415361 (Nov. 19, 2021).

¹⁹ The number of third-party fund managers MIO invests with varies over time, but is typically over 100. MIO currently invests MIO's assets under management with approximately 170 third-party managers.

²⁰ Under the Protocol, a Type 2 AMA is an "affiliate or division of a Proposed Professional that is actively engaged in managing or owning financial investments" that: (i) employs information barriers; (ii) is subject to both (a) registration (and attendant regulation) as an investment advisor by the SEC, as a securities broker/dealer by FINRA, or under the requirements of the CFTC, and (b) periodic regulatory examinations by the SEC, FINRA, or the NFA; (iii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from a proposed professional's current and former ultimate beneficial owners, employees and their immediate family members, and not from third parties; (iv) does not make direct investments in named issuers (i.e., issuers of debt or equity securities, including parties that could become a debtor in a bankruptcy case), but only, if at all, holds investments in named issuers as investments that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion; and (v) does not have independent personnel and management (as described in the Protocol).

oversight; (iii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from related investors and not from third parties; (iv) does not make direct investments in the debt or equity of individual corporate or governmental issuers, except securities issued by sovereign governments; and (v) had at least one active McKinsey employee on its board of directors during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. See Ex. A § 5.

45. To facilitate MIO's connections checking process, on April 11, 2022, counsel to McKinsey provided counsel to MIO the Expanded MIPL used for my Initial Declaration. On June 7, 2022 and August 11, 2022, counsel to McKinsey provided counsel to MIO with additional lists of parties that had been added to the Expanded MIPL, including the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL and Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL. Disclosures regarding the connections of MIO and the process used by MIO to generate such disclosures are set forth in the StoneTurn Declaration, and will be supplemented as necessary and appropriate during the PROMESA Proceedings.

Other Disclosures

46. The Protocol provides:

Process to Check for Conflicts and Connections. Every Proposed Professional should perform (in connection with its other new matter intake procedures) a process to check such Proposed Professional's client databases for conflicts and Connections with IPL Parties. A Proposed Professional should utilize a process designed to identify Connections adequately in the context of the size and organizational complexity of the Proposed Professional. For entities with a significant number of professionals, this process often utilizes computer software. For Proposed Professionals with a large number of professionals, this Protocol recommends deployment of adequate software within a reasonable time. Pending such deployment, a Proposed Professional may retain an independent third party to assess the adequacy of the alternative procedures the Proposed Professional uses to identify and appropriately disclose Connections.

Ex. A § 7(b).

47. In accordance with this guidance, because, as noted above, McKinsey does not maintain a computerized conflicts database, McKinsey retained BDO USA, LLP (“BDO”) to assess the adequacy of the connections-checking procedures used by my team and I to identify and disclose connections. Based on BDO’s review and testing of the procedures performed by the Working Group (as described herein) to identify connections as disclosed herein, BDO determined that the Working Group’s procedures were reasonable, adequate and consistent with the general guidelines and recommendations in the Protocol. BDO also reviewed and tested the additional procedures that were above and beyond the recommendations in the Protocol, and BDO found that these procedures were performed accurately. BDO also reviewed this Declaration and verified that the connections were adequately disclosed.

48. McKinsey’s consulting affiliates provide services to an array of clients in restructuring and turnaround engagements. They also serve clients across a broad range of industries, functions and geographies, and, within industries, serve competitors, in each case in a manner and through use of means, including information barriers between client service teams that are described more fully below, that protect the confidentiality of each client’s information (including the confidentiality of the engagement itself, unless otherwise public). As a result, McKinsey may have served or have been served by, and may in the future serve or may be served by, certain parties listed on the MIPL in matters unrelated to FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings—though such clients may have assets or operations in Puerto Rico—either individually or as part of an engagement for an ad hoc group or official committee of creditors or interest holders. To the best of my knowledge, (i) all such connections during the Consolidated Look-Back Period are described in this Declaration or listed on Schedules 2(a) and 2(b) attached hereto, and (ii) based on the results of the Surveys, subject to the disclosures set forth herein, (a) none of these connections constitute interests adverse to the Debtors and (b) all of these connections involved consulting matters unrelated to FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

49. Pursuant to the McKinsey Firmwide Information Sharing Policy, confidential information acquired or developed in connection with a client engagement may only be shared within the firm on a need-to-know basis. In particular, any information developed from nonpublic client sources, whether written or not, is confidential to that client, including information from third-party sources that is available to the client service team only through access provided by the client. Such confidential client information may not be shared outside of the client service team. McKinsey employees are subject to annual compliance training and certification on this and other policies. These certifications are made to McKinsey's compliance department.

50. McKinsey also uses password-protected "virtual team rooms"—secure electronic workspaces accessible only by members of the client service team—to store work product and confidential client information. Moreover, at the time they begin their employment, McKinsey employees are required to sign nondisclosure agreements that prohibit disclosure of confidential client information, even to other employees of the firm. Employees are required to report potential or actual violations of McKinsey's policies.

51. No client connection listed on Schedule 2(a) or 2(b) attached hereto accounted for more than 1.00% of the gross revenue of McKinsey during the period from March 1, 2021 through February 28, 2022 (the "Revenue Period"). Other than as disclosed below, and other than the FOMB, no client connection listed on Schedule 2(a) or 2(b) attached hereto accounted for more than 1.00% of the gross revenue of any Proposed Professional during the Revenue

Period. As requested by the U.S. Trustee, subsequent paragraphs of this Declaration provide more detail about McKinsey's engagements for client connections that accounted for more than 2.00% of the gross revenue for each Proposed Professional. with parties on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or with funds sponsored by or affiliated with such parties. Subject to the disclosures set forth herein, the results of the Surveys establish that no such professional holds an interest adverse to the Debtors. As described above, certain professionals employed by McKinsey may also invest in certain pre-tax (Pension Plan) or after-tax funds, with assets managed by MIO. The third-party managers under contract with MIO to invest those assets, including those disclosed in Schedule 1 to the StoneTurn Declaration, may maintain investment funds that invest in Puerto Rico's debt or that of other interested parties.

150. As previously disclosed to the FOMB, one or more McKinsey consulting affiliates have invested funds with MIO solely for the purpose of satisfying obligations to guarantee benefits to Pension Participants in defined-benefit pension plans in Germany and Japan. McKinsey & Co., as plan sponsor, maintains investments in certain MIO funds in order to backstop the defined benefit obligations of McKinsey Germany to participants in the German Pension Promise, all of whom are former or current employees of McKinsey Germany.²⁴ Similarly, McKinsey International Inc., a wholly owned direct subsidiary of McKinsey & Co., as plan sponsor, maintains investments in certain MIO funds on behalf of current employees of its Portugal branch office as part of a defined contribution plan.

151. As previously disclosed to the FOMB, certain McKinsey consulting affiliates, from time to time, have received non-cash compensation (such as equity securities or equity-like interests in a client) pursuant to alternative fee arrangements or other similar engagements. To the best of my knowledge, McKinsey has no such connection with any entity on the MIPL, but I nonetheless note that McKinsey has or may have such connections with the following entities on the Expanded MIPL: Alto Experience Inc., certain AMG-related entities,²⁵ Element AI Inc., Eigen Technologies Limited, Eightfold AI Inc., Evelo Biosciences, Inc., Fair Financial Corp., Fortis Therapeutics,²⁶ General Fusion Inc., Hi.Q, Inc., ICHX Tech Pte. Ltd, Infotel Communications,²⁷ Locus Pharmaceuticals, Inc.,²⁸ OnMobile Global,²⁹ Siemens Energy, Inc.,³⁰ Vodafone,³¹ and Zymergen, Inc.

152. As previously disclosed to the FOMB, in the ordinary course of business, McKinsey at times is engaged to serve as a subcontractor, or engages another service provider as a subcontractor, on a larger service contract for a client. For completeness, to the best of my knowledge, (i) the ultimate end clients for services during the Consolidated Look-Back Period are set forth on Schedules 2(a) and 2(b) attached hereto and (ii) McKinsey had subcontracting relationships during the Consolidated Look-Back Period with the following entities on the Expanded MIPL: Accenture Federal; AECOM; APP; Argos & Celsia; ATLAS; Bank of China Hong Kong; BIL; Brisas; Butler Snow LLP; COFCO; Daimler; Deloitte; Faurecia; First Data; Grant Thornton; Grant Thornton LLC; HRI; Infosys; Maaden Aluminum Company; Microsoft; MITRE; MTS; Nalco; Numericable-SFR; Portugal Telecom; Qatar National Bank; RCS

²⁵ McKinsey's connection is to AMG, which may be affiliated with Norwest AMG, Inc., AMG Capital LLC, AMG – Crockett, LLC, AMG – Livingston, LLC, AMG – Southern Tennessee, LLC, AMG – Trinity, LLC, AMG – Hillside, LLC, and AMG – Logan LLC.

²⁹ McKinsey's connection is to OnMobile Systems, Inc., which may be affiliated with OnMobile Global.

³⁰ McKinsey's connection is to STAR Siemens (Siemens Energy), which may be affiliated with Siemens Energy, Inc.

MediaGroup; Skidmore, Owings & Merrill; St. Jude; Synergy; Tetra Tech; Trilogy; Trusted; Trusted Technologies; Uniqlo; United Healthcare Services, Inc.; URS Corporation and Volvo Car.

153. Pursuant to McKinsey's personal trading policy (the "Personal Trading Policy"), employees have been, absent an approved exception, strictly prohibited from buying or selling single-name publicly traded securities of any McKinsey client.³² This prohibition includes securities issued by a state, local, or municipal governmental entity of the United States or its territories where McKinsey serves the issuing entity, and therefore applies in this case not only to buying and selling securities in the FOMB, if any, but to securities issued by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico more broadly. Employees are permitted to own single-name publicly traded securities of a McKinsey client if the securities were acquired prior to the employee joining McKinsey or prior to the period during which the issuer was a McKinsey client. The Personal Trading Policy is distributed annually for employees' review and certification of compliance, and new employees are asked to review and certify their compliance within a month of their start date. Pursuant to the Personal Trading Policy in effect up until August 1, 2022, before an employee would purchase or sell a security, the employee would be required to confirm whether the security was or was not on a list of prohibited securities. In particular and as relevant here, if an employee wished to purchase or sell a municipal security, the employee would be required to contact McKinsey Legal for clearance. The results of the Surveys, and subsequent follow up, indicated compliance with the Personal Trading Policy subject to paragraph 156 below, and that,

³² No such clearance or approved exception has been given by McKinsey Legal for any McKinsey employee to purchase securities in or issued by the FOMB or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico since McKinsey began providing services to the FOMB.

subject to the disclosures set forth herein, no such professional holds a material interest adverse to the Debtors.³³

154. In addition, effective as of August 1, 2022, a revised Personal Trading Policy prohibits all McKinsey employees from purchasing the single-name publicly traded securities of any company, including clients.

155. Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, three McKinsey consulting professionals were identified as holding interests in debt securities issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities listed on the MIPL. None of the three professionals is on the Engagement Team, and therefore all of them are subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB. One of the three professionals left McKinsey in October 2021, and as part of preparing this Declaration, the Working Group reconfirmed through billing records that he never had been part of the Engagement Team. The two professionals still employed by McKinsey have each certified that they never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that they never have been part of the Engagement Team.

156. Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, it was determined that one McKinsey consulting professional previously held, by virtue of an inheritance from a family member, roughly $300,000 in interests in debt securities issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities listed on the MIPL. This employee is not on the Engagement Team, and therefore has been and remains subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the ³³ Consistent with Protocol Exhibit B, the surveys did not seek responses regarding ownership or beneficial interests in such securities constituting investments (including through mutual funds and other investment vehicles) that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion.

FOMB. The individual sold the securities in order to liquidate the inheritance, without an exception approved by McKinsey Legal and in violation of McKinsey's Personal Trading Policy. Upon discovering the employee's trading activities, McKinsey Legal initiated an investigation and remedial action was taken. In connection with that investigation, the employee certified that he never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that he never has been part of the Engagement Team.

157. Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, it was determined that one McKinsey consulting professional owns shares in Assured Guaranty, a bond insurer, which has exposure to Puerto Rico. The value of these shares is currently estimated to be under $10,000. This employee is not on the Engagement Team, and therefore has been and remains subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB. This employee has recently reconfirmed that he will abide by McKinsey's Personal Trading Policy with respect to these shares, and has certified that he never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that he never has been part of the Engagement Team.

158. McKinsey employees may have been formerly employed by, or otherwise affiliated with, parties that may be listed on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or other financial or professional services firms that serve or served such parties. Similarly, former McKinsey employees may have been or may be currently employed by, or otherwise affiliated with, parties that may be listed on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or other financial or professional services firms that serve or served such parties.

159. In the ordinary course of providing services to the FOMB pursuant to the Contracts, members of the Engagement Team have developed social and professional relationships with the FOMB members and their current and former staff.

160. As previously disclosed to the FOMB, in 2014, McKinsey founded Generation, a nonprofit entity that has and may continue to operate in Puerto Rico, among other locations. Generation provides opportunities for unemployed or underemployed people to prepare for and launch sustainable careers. Generation offered programs in 28 professions across 14 countries, making it the largest global organization by annual volume that trains and places learners in jobs. Generation has graduated over 40,000 participants. Generation services have been and may in the future be provided by employees of the Proposed Professionals.

161. LUMA, which operates certain PREPA assets, was not a McKinsey client during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. However, Quanta Services, Inc., ATCO, Ltd. and Canadian Utilities Limited, LUMA affiliates, were McKinsey clients in that time period. McKinsey's services for Quanta Services, Inc. related to engagements relating to strategy and growth opportunities. McKinsey's services for ATCO, Ltd. related to decarbonization pathways, value creation strategies, and market positioning. McKinsey's services for Canadian Utilities Limited related to decarbonization pathways. Based on the results of the Surveys or as otherwise known to me, none of those services were related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

162. Recent media reports have asserted a connection between Contractual Interested Party New Fortress Energy and SoftBank. Although New Fortress Energy was not a McKinsey client during the Consolidated Look-Back Period and McKinsey is unable to confirm the precise nature of any connection between New Fortress Energy and SoftBank, out of an abundance of caution, McKinsey's connections to SoftBank have been identified on Schedule 2.

163. Proskauer Rose LLP ("Proskauer"), a Material Interested Party, previously provided advice to McKinsey and its affiliated personnel regarding bankruptcy matters, including McKinsey's connections disclosures in bankruptcy cases. In addition, Proskauer has represented McKinsey & Co., Inc., certain of its affiliates, and certain McKinsey personnel as defendants in Jay Alix v. McKinsey & Co., Inc., et al., Case No. 18-cv-04141 (the "Alix Litigation"),³⁴ pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. Proskauer has withdrawn as counsel to McKinsey & Co., Inc. and its affiliated defendants, except for one individual defendant in connection with the Alix Litigation. Proskauer has previously advised the Court on the record of its representation of McKinsey and of its use of the law firm Luskin, Stern & Eisler LLP to represent the FOMB in matters involving McKinsey. See Transcript of Omnibus Hearing at 5:20– 7:14, In re Fin. Oversight & Mgmt. Bd. for P.R., No. 3:17-BK-3283 (Bankr. D.P.R. Nov. 7, 2018).

164. On February 4, 2021, McKinsey entered into a $573 million settlement agreement with 49 State Attorneys General, the District of Columbia and five U.S. territories, including the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, to resolve litigation relating to its prior work for opioid manufacturers. This litigation was unrelated to the PROMESA Proceedings. Leading up to the settlement agreement, McKinsey negotiated with an Executive Committee team of attorney generals for a period beginning in January 2021 through early 2021. There were no representatives from Puerto Rico on the Executive Committee. McKinsey became aware that

³⁴ Jay Alix asserts these claims as assignee of AlixPartners LLP, which served as an advisor to the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority prior to the commencement of the PROMESA Proceedings and is affiliated with Zolfo Cooper, LLC, a Material Interested Party.

Puerto Rico had a claim during the general negotiation process with the Executive Committee in early 2021. Puerto Rico's claim was not a separate or distinct claim that was addressed or discussed during the negotiations, and McKinsey did not directly engage with Puerto Rico in the negotiation process. Once there was a final agreed-upon deal in early 2021, McKinsey learned that Puerto Rico would also join the settlement.

165. In summer 2022, as part of its ongoing contract review processes, the FOMB began sending emails to certain of its professionals, including McKinsey, seeking information about each such professional's connections to certain potential contract counterparties, counterparty principals and other counterparty principal stakeholders in advance of engaging such professionals to assist with contract reviews. In each case, McKinsey has been checking the names provided by the FOMB against McKinsey's client list since November 27, 2014 and indicating to the FOMB whether any such names are or were McKinsey clients during that time period. To the extent these counterparties, principals and other stakeholders were already on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, MIPL, or Updated Contractual IPL, they were already included in the connection-checking processes described herein. To the extent these counterparties, principals, and other stakeholders were not already on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, MIPL, or Updated Contractual IPL, in the interest of transparency, McKinsey discloses here that as part of this separate connections checking exercise, McKinsey has disclosed client connections to FOMB to the following entities, their affiliates, and/or principals associated with such entities: 1-800 Contacts, Aireko Construction Management Services LLC, Apex Capital, Avangrid Networks Inc., Bayer CropScience AG, Bayer CropScience S.A., Bayer CropScience LP, Bayer CropScience Ltda., Bayer CropScience Schweiz AG, Bayer CropScience, Inc., Bayer CropScience, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Florida, Inc., CGI Technologies and Solutions, Inc.,

CIMIC Group Limited, EDP Comercial Comercialização de Energia, S.A., Dept. of Housing, EDP Renewables Europe, S.L., EDP Renewables North America LLC, FuelCell Energy, Inc., Galp Gas Natural Distribucao, S.A., GDF Suez, GuideWell Mutual Holding Corporation, GuideWell, Inc., Hispasat, S.A., HPS Investment Partners, Impregilo S.p.A., Integra MLTC, ISA - Interconexion Electrica, Legato Health Technologies, LLP, Luminaires LED Roadway, Madison Dearborn Partners, Naturgas, Pavimental S.p.A, Praxair, QUEST PR, Red de Carreteras de Occidente, S.A.B. de C.V., Repsol, Repsol Bolivia, Repsol Butano, Repsol Norway, Repsol Exploracion, S.A., Repsol Oil and Gas Canada Inc., Repsol Quimica, Repsol, S.A., Repsol Sinopec Resources UK Ltd, Transfield Services Limited, Vattenfall AB, Vattenfall Europe Windkraft GmbH, WeBuild S.p.A., Wellpoint, and Xome.

166. Out of an abundance of caution, and in accordance with the Protocol, I note the following connections to the parties listed on the Expanded MIPL that were disclosed in the Survey results or otherwise are known to me. To the best of my knowledge, subject to the disclosures set forth herein (i.e., except to the extent otherwise indicated below), none of these connections constitute an interest adverse to the Debtors or is related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

- a. Bertil Chappuis, a DCS for the FOMB and a member of the Engagement Team, has social relationships with executives and directors at Triple-S Corp and Banco Popular; is the brother of an executive at Morgan Stanley; and was employed by TRÓPICO, an entity of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, as an analyst in 1989-90. His son may be competing at the Youth World Rowing Championships in July 2022, representing Puerto Rico. In addition, certain members of his extended family own equity in Mendez & Co Inc. To his knowledge, none of these family members has worked or is working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

- b. Michael Granados, a member of the Engagement Team, was an intern for Credit Suisse's investment banking division in Mexico, where he worked on matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- c. Jodi Pearlstein, a member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by JPMorgan, where she worked on matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- d. Jonathan Davis, a member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by the Internal Revenue Service. In addition, he has a cousin employed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. To his knowledge, this cousin has not worked and is not working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- e. Justin Reed, a former member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Conway MacKenzie. He is no longer an employee of McKinsey.
- f. Adam Gerard, a former member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Boston Consulting Group. He is no longer an employee of McKinsey.
- g. Thomas Chatzieleftheriou, a member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Boston Consulting Group, where he worked on matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

- h. James Ivers, a member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Citibank N.A. and the U.S. Department of the Treasury, where he worked on matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings. His ex-wife was previously employed by the U.S. Department of Commerce and is currently an attorney at White & Case LLP. His step-father is an employee of Dentons US LLP. His step-brother is an employee of the U.S. Department of Justice and was previously employed by U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. To his knowledge, none of these family members has worked or is working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- i. Sarah Tucker-Ray, a member of the Engagement Team, was previously employed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, where she worked on matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- j. Stuart Skeates, a member of the Consolidated Engagement Team, has a sister-in-law employed by Alvarez & Marsal in the United Kingdom. To his knowledge, his sister-in-law has not worked and is not working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

- k. Charlotte Clinger, a former member of the Engagement Team, was previously an intern in the securities division of Goldman Sachs. She is no longer an employee of McKinsey.
- l. Ojas Shah, a member of the Engagement Team, has a social relationship with a managing director at Ankura Consulting Group. In addition, he has a brother who is a Partner at AlixPartners, LLP. To his knowledge, his brother has not worked and is not working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- m. Akshay Gupta, a member of the Engagement Team, has a mother employed by JP Morgan Chase. To his knowledge, his mother has not worked and is not working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- n. Neha Sahgal, a member of the Engagement Team, has a cousin who was previously employed by Deloitte. To his knowledge, his cousin has not worked and is not working on matters related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- o. Bob Morse, a director of Rock Solid, is a former McKinsey client.
- p. Jeremiah Connolly, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, is the husband of an attorney at Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP who represented PREPA in hearings before Judge Besosa.
- q. Lauren Kaley, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, was previously employed by IBM, where she worked on an engagement in Puerto Rico for LUMA.

- r. Maxwell Tobin, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Perella Weinberg Partners, LP, where he was on a team providing services to the Puerto Rico Ad Hoc Group of Constitutional Debtholders.
- s. Zachary Silverman, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, was previously employed by AlixPartners, LLP, where he was on a team providing services to PREPA.
- t. Prajwal Rastogi, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, was previously employed by Deloitte, where he was on a team providing services to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico on matters unrelated to the FOMB or the PROMESA Proceedings.
- u. Stuart Hazlett, a senior advisor to McKinsey, provided hurricane support to Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities while serving in the U.S. armed forces.
- v. Sebastian Negron Reichard, who worked for the FOMB from 2017 - 2020, most recently as Chief of Staff, has accepted an offer to be a summer intern with McKinsey in 2023.
- w. McKinsey is sponsoring an upcoming Harvard roundtable on crisis management. Harvard, with no involvement from McKinsey, has invited Omar Marrero, the Puerto Rican government's representative to the FOMB, to the event.

167. I am not related or connected to and, to the best of my knowledge based on the Surveys, no other professional of McKinsey is related or connected to, any judges, mediators, or employees of the office of the United States Trustee, in each case working on the PROMESA Proceedings, except in each case as described in this paragraph. Out of an abundance of caution, and in accordance with the Protocol, I note that, based on the results of the Surveys or as otherwise known to me, (i) Anne Marie Hawley, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, had Judge Ambro of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit as a college professor, and they remain social acquaintances, (ii) Matt Donovan, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, is the husband of a former law clerk to Judge Howard of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, and (iii) several McKinsey personnel may have met or worked with employees in the Office of the U.S. Trustee in the limited contexts of McKinsey's roles in other bankruptcy cases or may have otherwise met or appeared before certain bankruptcy judges in connection with such bankruptcy cases.

168. Accordingly, except as otherwise set forth herein, insofar as I have been able to determine after reasonable inquiry and to the best of my knowledge, I believe that neither the Proposed Professionals, nor their affiliates, nor any member of the Engagement Team holds or represents any interest adverse to the Debtors or their estates, and the Proposed Professionals constitute "disinterested persons" as that term is defined in section 101(14) of the Bankruptcy Code, as modified by Bankruptcy Code section 1107(b), in that each of the Proposed Professionals and each member of the Engagement Team:

- a. is not a creditor, equity security holder, or insider of the Debtors;
- b. was not, within two years before the date of filing of the Debtors' petitions, a director, officer, or employee of the Debtors; and
- c. does not have an interest materially adverse to the interest of the Debtors' estates or any class of creditors or equity security holders, by reason of

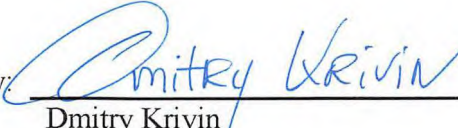

any direct or indirect relationship to, connection with, or interest in, the Debtors, or for any other reason.

169. The Proposed Professionals will endeavor to supplement this Declaration in the event they become aware of any connection or other information that requires disclosure.

Protocol

HOUSTON DISCLOSURE PROTOCOL

Summary

The following Houston Disclosure Protocol addresses the complex legal and business issues surrounding the disclosure obligations arising from a Proposed Professional's retention under Section 327¹ in bankruptcy cases involving more than $50 million in claims. The Protocol addresses Proposed Professionals of varying types, including law, accounting, financial advisory, and investment banking firms, that seek compensation from a bankrupt estate. A Schedule of Defined Terms immediately follows this Summary, and capitalized terms used in this Summary and in the Protocol have the meanings ascribed to them there. This Summary outlines the Protocol's disclosure recommendations and the means or process to satisfy them.

The Protocol focuses on a Proposed Professional's disclosure regarding Connections to parties that could affect the Proposed Professional's "disinterestedness" and contemplates that the debtor will create and maintain an Interested Party List to facilitate identification of Connections (Exhibit "A" to the Protocol addresses the IPL). The Protocol recommends that a Proposed Professional obtain the data to support disclosure of Connections by procedures that include, as applicable, a computerized search of client databases, distribution of a questionnaire (a proposed form of which is provided in Exhibit "B" to the Protocol), and inquiry of the Proposed Professional's AMAs (if any), as discussed below. While recognizing that a Proposed Professional bears the burden of adequate disclosure in its retention application and an Estate Professional bears that burden in all appropriate supplemental disclosures, the Protocol provides that disclosure of Connections should be based on a Proposed Professional's actual knowledge of them, including from the results of a computer search and questionnaire process, as applicable.

The Protocol distinguishes Connections arising from the different kinds of the Proposed Professional's affiliates, including: (a) Retained Affiliates, which the Protocol classifies as generating Direct Connections of the Proposed Professional, and (b) Unretained Affiliates (including AMAs), which the Protocol classifies as generating Indirect Connections. As set forth in the Protocol, the disclosure of known Connections and the process to obtain knowledge of them should vary in accordance with the characteristics of each Proposed Professional and its AMAs and other Unretained Affiliates.

The Protocol classifies AMAs into 4 Types and recommends a process to obtain and disclose information regarding Connections that varies based on the extent to which the AMA: (i) is subject to Securities Registration, Regulatory Oversight, and/or Independent Personnel and Management; (ii) refrains from investing directly in Named Issuers; and (iii) accepts investment funds from third parties rather than Related Investors. The Protocol recommends that: (a) Proposed Professionals that qualify as Type 1 Financial Organizations or have Type 1 AMAs disclose only Direct Connections known to the Proposed Professional without review of the IPL by an AMA; (b) Proposed Professionals with Type 2, 3 or 4 AMAs should also disclose Direct Connections known to the Proposed Professional; (c) Proposed Professionals with Type 2 AMAs should also disclose the names of IPL Parties with Indirect Connections known to the Type 2 AMA as reported by the Type 2 AMA to the Proposed Professional; (d) Proposed Professionals with Types 3 and /or 4 AMAs should disclose Indirect Connections known to the AMA(s) and reported to the Proposed Professional, including direct investments in Named Issuers that are IPL Parties, and (e) Proposed Professionals with Type 4 AMAs should make such additional disclosures, if any, as may be appropriate in the circumstances.

The Protocol recognizes that disclosure of Connections may vary in response to, inter alia, the size of the bankruptcy case and should exclude de minimis matters. The de minimis concept is applicable to both the IPL and the disclosure of Connections in a Proposed Professional's retention application. De minimis exclusions can be based, for example, on the small value of a claim, the small ownership percentage and value of an equity interest, or other, similar considerations. An IPL, and a Proposed Professional's disclosure of Connections in its retention application, should state the criteria applied in making de minimis exclusions.

DEFINED TERMS

AMA means an affiliate or division of a Proposed Professional that is actively engaged in managing or owning financial investments. For clarity, AMA does not refer either to assets that might be held through investment vehicles or to such investment vehicles, e.g., mutual funds, but does refer to the entity managing such investment vehicles, i.e., a mutual fund manager.

CFTC means the Commodities Futures Trading Commission.

Connection means, in the context of Section 327 and Rule 2014, an association or relationship with an IPL Party that a reasonable person might find bears on whether the Proposed Professional “holds or represents an interest adverse to the estate” and is “disinterested” under Section 327 and Section 101(14), based on the facts of a particular bankruptcy case.

De minimis means a matter too distant in time, remote in probability, or insignificant to warrant consideration in the context of a particular bankruptcy case.

Direct Connection means a known Connection between a Proposed Professional and an IPL Party (other than an Indirect Connection).

Estate Professional means a Proposed Professional whose retention has been approved by the Bankruptcy Court.

FINRA means the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority.

Immediate Indirect Connection means a known Connection between an IPL Party and a Proposed Professional’s Unretained Affiliate (including an AMA).

Independent Personnel and Management means, with respect to an AMA of a Proposed Professional, the employment or engagement of management, professional and other personnel separate from those of such Proposed Professional, (e.g., excluding the Proposed Professional’s active employees from the AMA’s management, so that only independent directors/managers or professionals that are not active employees of (or that have retired from) the related Proposed Professional serve on the AMA’s board of directors (or other equivalent governing body)).

Indirect Connection means an Immediate Indirect Connection or a Remote Indirect Connection.

Information Barriers means policies and procedures of a referenced entity (including but not limited to policies and procedures adopted in compliance with Rule 10b5-1) that seek reasonably to ensure that (a) such entity’s investment decisions not violate the laws prohibiting trading on the basis of MNPI, and (b) Proposed Professional Personnel have no participation in or knowledge concerning investment decisions made by the Proposed Professional or its affiliates.

Interested Party List or IPL means a list of parties with Connections to the debtor’s estate (other than de minimis connections).

IPL Parties means the persons or parties listed on an IPL.

MNPI means material non-public information.

Named Issuers means an issuer of debt or equity securities (including a municipality), including parties that could become a debtor in a bankruptcy case.

NFA means the National Futures Association.

Other Regulatory Oversight means examination by any federal, state or foreign regulatory authority regarding compliance with regulatory requirements, other than Regulatory Oversight.

Proposed Professional means a professional person or entity proposed to be retained in connection with a pending bankruptcy case under Section 327. As used in this Protocol, the term “Proposed Professional” includes Retained Affiliates.

Proposed Professional Personnel means the primary working group within a Proposed Professional entity that directly provides the services for which the Proposed Professional is retained in the particular bankruptcy case, and excludes personnel that only episodically provide such services.

Regulatory Oversight means periodic regulatory examinations by the SEC, FINRA, or the NFA.

Related Investors means, with respect to a Proposed Professional, the Proposed Professional’s current and former ultimate beneficial owners, employees and their immediate family members.

Remote Indirect Connection means a known Connection arising from a relationship between a Proposed Professional’s Unretained Affiliate (including an AMA) and a third party, which third party, in turn, has a Connection with an IPL Party.

Retained Affiliates means those affiliates of a Proposed Professional that employ professional personnel for whom the Proposed Professional will seek compensation pursuant to Section 330 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Rule 10b5-1 means 17 C.F.R. 240.10b-5.

Rule 2014 means Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2014.

SEC means the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

Section 101(14) means 11 U.S.C. § 101(14).

Section 327 means 11 U.S.C. § 327.

Securities Registration means, with respect to a referenced entity, such entity’s registration (and attendant regulation) as an investment advisor by the SEC, as a securities broker/dealer by FINRA, or under the requirements of the CFTC.

Survey means the Summary of Industry Affiliate Investment Disclosures. In re: Westmoreland Coal Co., Case No. 18-35672 (Bankr. S.D. Tex.), ECF No. 1659-1 pp. 2-66.

Third-Party Managed Investments means investments (including through mutual funds and other investment vehicles) that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion.

Type means one of the four (4) types of AMAs that are classified in this Protocol.

Type 1 AMA means an AMA that either:

- A. (i) employs Information Barriers, (ii) is subject to both Securities Registration and Regulatory Oversight, and (iii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from third parties (i.e., parties other than Related Investors); or
- B. qualifies under the criteria provided in subsections (A)(i) and (ii), above, but obtains most or all of its assets under management from Related Investors and not from third parties, and also insulates its personnel and management by means of Independent Personnel and Management.

Type 2 AMA means an AMA that: (i) qualifies under the criteria provided in subsections (A)(i) and (ii) in the definition of Type 1 AMA, above; (ii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from Related Investors and not from third parties; (iii) does not make direct investments in Named Issuers but only, if at all, holds investments in Named Issuers as Third-Party Managed Investments; and (iv) does not have Independent Personnel and Management.

Type 3 AMA means an AMA that: (i) employs Information Barriers; (ii) is subject to either: (A) Regulatory Oversight, or (B) Other Regulatory Oversight; (iii) obtains its assets under management from Related Investors or third parties; and (iv) may make direct investments in the debt or equity of Named Issuers, whether or not it also holds such investments as a result of Third-Party Managed Investments.

Type 4 AMA means an AMA not qualifying as a Type 1, Type 2 or Type 3 AMA.

Type 1 Financial Organization means a Proposed Professional, including an investment banking or similar institution (including a financial advisor affiliated with an investment bank), that has Information Barriers and other characteristics of and would therefore qualify as a Type 1 AMA. A Type 1 Financial Organization retains its classification as such even if it does not have assets under management. A Type 1 Financial Organization also retains its classification as such notwithstanding that it may include affiliates of other Types (e.g., Type 3 AMAs engaged in insurance activities, and Type 4 AMAs acting in various capacities in ownership and/or management of investment assets).

Unretained Affiliate means an affiliate of a Proposed Professional other than a Retained Affiliate.

Introduction

Rule 2014 requires disclosure of connections between a Proposed Professional and certain parties in interest in bankruptcy cases. None of Rule 2014, Section 327, or the decisional law construing any of them provides Proposed Professionals (and Estate Professionals) and in particular, those having an AMA, any clear guidance regarding adequate disclosure of their AMA's connections with parties in interest in a bankruptcy case. This Protocol: (a) suggests definitions for a Connection requiring disclosure and categorizes such Connections; (b) classifies AMAs within four Types; (c) differentiates the disclosure of Connections recommended for the four Types of AMAs; (d) discusses knowledge of Connections and the means to obtain it; and (e) addresses confidentiality concerns and requirements for updating disclosure of Connections.

This Protocol does not endeavor to and could not effectively provide definitive guidance to all Proposed Professionals in all circumstances. Proposed Professionals range from sole practitioners or single office practices to complex international firms with thousands of professionals and multiple AMAs of various Types. Proposed Professionals may similarly be subject to a wide range of regulation, including self-regulatory rules and standards governing legal and accounting professionals, and Securities Registration and/or Regulatory Oversight to which financial advisory and investment banking firms may be subject. Proposed Professionals also are subject to a broad range of consequences for violation of the respective rules, regulations and laws that govern them, including license suspension or loss, enforcement under Securities Registration and/or Regulatory Oversight, and potential civil and criminal liabilities for misuse of MNPI. This Protocol therefore provides general guidance regarding how Proposed Professionals may obtain information and make proper disclosures to support their retention in U.S. bankruptcy cases that are within the scope of this Protocol, but this Protocol does not provide specific guidance for all Proposed Professionals, regardless of their type, size and structure, or in all bankruptcy cases, regardless of their size, scope, or operative facts. This Protocol recognizes that a Proposed Professional may deviate from its suggested data gathering procedures and disclosure recommendations based upon its particular facts and circumstances. No such deviation, per se, however, should support a contention that a Proposed Professional is not disinterested or that its retention should not be approved.

A Proposed Professional bears the burden of making appropriate disclosure of Connections in its initial retention application and an Estate Professional bears a continuing burden to supplement that disclosure as appropriate in the circumstances. This Protocol proposes a framework for disclosure of Connections by Proposed Professionals, Estate Professionals, and their affiliates in bankruptcy cases involving more than $50 million in liabilities.

Connection should be broadly defined to respect the term's ordinary meaning and accomplish the important purposes of Rule 2014 and Section 327 to ensure that a Proposed Professional is a "disinterested person" as defined in Section 101(14). Section 327's primary functions include: (a) allowing the estate to obtain and retain expertise to fulfill its essential functions; (b) requiring disclosure of matters that might affect Estate Professionals' performance of their duty of loyalty; and (c) maintaining the integrity of the bankruptcy process and promoting the parties' and the public's confidence in that integrity. Section 327 requires that Proposed Professionals "not hold or represent an interest adverse to the estate" and are "disinterested persons." Section 101(14)(c) requires that a disinterested person "not have an interest materially adverse to the interest of the estate or of any class of creditors or equity security holders, by reason of any direct or indirect relationship to, connection with, or interest in the debtor, or for any other reason.” Rule 2014 disclosure is intended to provide the Bankruptcy Court and parties in interest in a bankruptcy case with information adequate to evaluate whether a Proposed Professional is a disinterested person and qualified to serve under Section 327.

The definition of Connection and Rule 2014’s related disclosure obligations should not impair an effective evaluation of disinterestedness by requiring disclosure of every possible connection, no matter how de minimis. Further, Rule 2014 disclosure should not impractically require disclosure of unknown information or ignore valid confidentiality concerns.

The formulation of this Protocol has been informed by the Survey. The Survey reflects that, in the absence of any definition of Connection and disclosure guidelines, Proposed Professionals have adopted widely disparate practices governing disclosure of Connections, even among similarly situated Proposed Professionals. This Protocol was further informed by the results of telephonic interviews conducted with representatives of more than a dozen separate professional firms with significant Chapter 11 experience, who expressed their willingness to discuss (for themselves and not as an expression of their firm’s policies or procedures), in a candid, off-the-record context and not for attribution in the Protocol, disclosure issues arising from the retention application process. This Protocol provides guidance to Proposed Professionals regarding such disclosures.

1. Description of Connections

a. Requirement of Disclosure. Rule 2014 requires disclosure of the Connections of the “person to be employed,” and Section 101(14) refers to “direct or indirect relationships,” but neither Rule 2014 nor related decisional law addresses whether Indirect Connections (i.e., Connections created by affiliates of a Proposed Professional) must be disclosed.

b. Interested Parties and Interested Party List. In order to facilitate a Proposed Professional’s disclosure of Connections, the debtor, in consultation with its outside restructuring counsel, should prepare and make an Interested Party List (or IPL) available to all Proposed Professionals. If a Proposed Professional believes that the then-current IPL should be amended, such Proposed Professional should so advise the debtor’s counsel. If no IPL has been prepared when a Proposed Professional files its retention application, the retention application should disclose that fact and explain how the Proposed Professional identified Connections. Exhibit “A” to this Protocol includes an IPL template, as well as guidelines for a debtor’s consideration in preparing an IPL in light of the particular facts and circumstances of a bankruptcy case.

c. Retained Affiliates. A Proposed Professional should: (i) seek retention (and include the identity) of Retained Affiliates in its retention application; and (ii) ensure that its retention application discloses all known Connections (other than de minimis connections) among IPL Parties and such Retained Affiliates.

d. Protocol Organization. Paragraph 2 provides for certain disclosures relating to Immediate Indirect Connections. Paragraph 6 addresses what constitutes knowledge in connection with preparing retention application disclosures. Paragraph 8 discusses confidential treatment for Connections and IPL Parties in certain circumstances.

e. De Minimis* Exclusions. Effective disclosure in large bankruptcy cases requires reasonable exclusion of de minimis connections and parties that should not qualify as IPL Parties (e.g., small creditor, vendor, customer exclusions, and investments falling below a threshold), as described on Exhibit “A.” Section 101(14)(c)’s reference to “material” supports excluding de minimis connections. For instance, a Proposed Professional may determine that an equity investment in an IPL Party of less than 1% of the outstanding equity or debt (with a value the Proposed Professional determines to be de minimis) need not be disclosed. Each IPL and each Proposed Professional’s retention application that excludes de minimis parties or connections should state the criteria, based on the facts and circumstances of the case (commonly, a dollar and/or percentage amount) applied to make such exclusions from disclosure.

f. Disclosure under this Protocol. Subject to de minimis exclusions as set forth herein, this Protocol recommends:

(i) A Proposed Professional (including Retained Affiliates) should disclose all known Direct Connections, and also disclose all Indirect Connections known to its Unretained Affiliates (including AMAs) and reported to it. Except as otherwise provided in this Protocol (including in Paragraph 8 regarding confidentiality), disclosed Connections should be identified by name and adequately described.

(ii) A Proposed Professional should obtain knowledge of Connections through its new matter intake process, by computer database searches, questionnaires and otherwise as described in this Protocol.

(iii) A Proposed Professional should disclose whether it has any AMAs, and if it does, it should describe such AMAs’ classification by Type as provided for in this Protocol, including (as applicable) such AMAs’: (A) Information Barriers; (B) Related Investors; (C) practices regarding direct investments in Named Issuers and/or through Third-Party Managed Investments; (D) Independent Personnel and Management; and (E) Regulatory Oversight and/or Other Regulatory Oversight.

(iv) A Proposed Professional that does not qualify as a Type 1 Financial Organization or have a Type 1 AMA, and does have one or more Type 2, 3 and/or 4 AMAs, should provide the IPL to such Type 2, 3 and/or 4 AMAs and request the AMAs to report Indirect Connections to the Proposed Professional as provided in this Protocol (including enhanced disclosure for Type 3 and 4 AMAs).

2. Indirect Connections

a. Requirement of Disclosure. Immediate Indirect Connections should be disclosed, as bearing upon whether the Proposed Professional “holds or represents an interest adverse to the debtor,” including Immediate Indirect Connections of: (i) Unretained Affiliates (as disclosed pursuant to an applicable questionnaire process), and (ii) Type 2, 3 and 4 AMAs (as disclosed in response to the distribution of the IPL), all as discussed below.

b. Remote Indirect Connection. The Survey reflects that Remote Indirect Connections are not generally disclosed, likely because Proposed Professionals have no knowledge of them. This Protocol recommends disclosure of a Remote Indirect Connection (other than a de minimis connection) only if the Proposed Professional has knowledge thereof. A Proposed Professional's retention application should disclose the potential existence of unknown Remote Indirect Connections with IPL Parties. A Proposed Professional is not required to conduct procedures other than those set forth in this Protocol to identify Remote Indirect Connections.

3. Indirect Connections through Asset Management Affiliates

a. AMA Disclosure. When a Proposed Professional (including, without limitation, a law, accounting, financial advisory or investment banking firm) has an Unretained Affiliate that is an AMA, additional disclosure may be required to explain the AMA's Connections and their impact, if any, on the Proposed Professional's disinterestedness. That additional disclosure should also describe whether the AMA accepts funds from third parties or Related Investors, and whether the AMA makes direct investments in the debt or equity securities (i.e., buys or sells short, long, option or other positions) of Named Issuers or holds investments in Named Issuers through Third-Party Managed Investments, or both. Based on the Survey, many Proposed Professionals do not identify such AMAs individually by name, but rather identify them descriptively and generically. This Protocol does not intend to change that practice. The description of such AMAs should categorize them by reference to the applicable "Types" described below. Most Proposed Professionals (in common with most employers) maintain 401(k) programs and support various other pension and/or other retirement account programs for their employees' benefit as Third-Party Managed Investments and without using an AMA; such arrangements do not trigger any requirement for analysis as an AMA under this Protocol.

b. Material Non-Public Information; Regulation and Oversight. Proposed Professionals, Estate Professionals and their respective AMAs frequently possess MNPI and often implement Information Barriers to address this. These entities may also be subject to regulation and oversight, including Securities Registration and/or Regulatory Oversight.

c. AMA Classification. This Protocol identifies four Types of AMAs (Types 1, 2, 3 and 4) and proposes corresponding disclosure requirements for each Type. If a Proposed Professional believes its AMA has characteristics of more than one Type, its retention application should discuss these characteristics and include disclosure applicable to the higher numbered Type (e.g., an AMA with characteristics of both a Type 3 and Type 4 AMA should make the disclosure required for a Type 4 AMA). If a Proposed Professional believes its AMA should be classified differently from these Types, its retention application should discuss this and include disclosure most appropriate to such AMA.

d. Change in AMA Type. An AMA's classification can change over time. For example: a Type 4 can qualify as a Type 3 by implementing Information Barriers and becoming subject to Regulatory Oversight or Other Regulatory Oversight; a Type 3 can qualify as a Type 2 by becoming subject to Securities Registration (and, if applicable, Regulatory Oversight rather than Other Regulatory Oversight) and holding investments in Named Issuers only as Third-Party Managed Investments; and a Type 2 can become a Type 1 by implementing Independent Personnel and Management. With respect to each bankruptcy case in which a Proposed Professional files a retention application, however, the Proposed Professional should classify its AMA(s) (as a Type 1, 2, 3 or 4) based on the AMA's characteristics when the Proposed Professional files its initial retention application in such case, and this classification should remain in effect throughout the course of such case (i.e., the same classification should apply to an Estate Professional's updated retention application disclosures). Accordingly, the same AMA of a Proposed Professional may be classified differently in different bankruptcy cases, based on its characteristics at the time that the Proposed Professional files its initial retention application in the different bankruptcy cases.

4. Disclosures Relating to Type 1 Financial Organizations and Type 1 AMAs

a. Present Type 1 Financial Organization and Type 1 AMA Disclosure. The Survey indicates that a retention application for a Proposed Professional qualifying as a Type 1 Financial Organization or having an AMA that this Protocol categorizes as a Type 1 AMA commonly discloses only Direct Connections known to the Proposed Professional Personnel because its Information Barriers, Securities Registration and Regulatory Oversight fully protect MNPI, and insulate the Proposed Professional Personnel from any effects that MNPI could potentially create with respect to the Proposed Professional's disinterestedness. Such Proposed Professional Personnel generally have no knowledge of (and therefore the Proposed Professional does not disclose) debt or equity investments in IPL Parties because of the effectiveness of the Information Barriers applicable to communication and misuse of MNPI and insulating Proposed Professional Personnel from participation in or knowledge of investment decisions.

b. Proposed Type 1 Financial Organization and Type I AMA Disclosure. This Protocol proposes that the disclosures of Connections in a retention application of a Proposed Professional qualifying as a Type 1 Financial Organization or having a Type 1 AMA may properly be limited to identifying the names (subject to confidentiality considerations) of Direct Connections (other than de minimis connections) known to such Proposed Professional in reliance on the presumed effectiveness of Information Barriers. Such named entities should ordinarily be described as "a current or former client, but with respect to matters unrelated to the Debtor," absent facts or circumstances that require enhanced disclosure. Bankruptcy Courts have consistently approved retention applications based upon such disclosures.

5. Disclosures relating to Type 2, 3 and 4 AMAs

a. Present Type 2, 3 and 4 AMA Disclosure. The Survey indicates that retention applications for a Proposed Professional with an AMA that this Protocol categorizes as a Type 2, 3, or 4 AMA include increased disclosures because: (i) such a firm accepts most or all of its investments from Related Investors; (ii) a Type 3 AMA may be subject only to Other Regulatory Oversight (and may not be subject to any Securities Registration); (iii) a Type 4 AMA may not be subject to regulatory examinations or Securities Registration at all; and (iv) a Type 3 or 4 AMA may make direct investments in Named Issuers, rather than investing exclusively through Third-Party Managed Investments.

b. Considerations for Type 2 AMA Disclosures. A Proposed Professional with an AMA that this Protocol categorizes as a Type 2 AMA could credibly contend that its disclosure obligations in respect of its Type 2 AMA should be the same as the disclosure obligations in respect of Type 1 AMAs because its Type 2 AMA protects MNPI by means of the same Information Barriers enforced by the same Securities Registration and Regulatory Oversight as those that apply to Type 1 AMAs. In addition, a Type 2 AMA refrains from direct investments in Named Issuers, and a Type 1 AMA may make direct investments in Named Issuers. Nonetheless, this Protocol recommends increased disclosure by a Proposed Professional with a Type 2 AMA in order to advance the purposes of (i) protecting public confidence in the integrity of the restructuring process, and (ii) ensuring an absence of self-dealing because a Type 2 AMA obtains most or all of its funds under management from Related Investors and may be managed and controlled by active professional personnel that also manage and control the related Proposed Professional (rather than utilizing Independent Personnel and Management).

c. Proposed Type 2 AMA Disclosure. A retention application for a Proposed Professional (other than a Type 1 Financial Organization) with a Type 2 AMA should disclose known (i) Direct Connections of the Proposed Professional, and (ii) Immediate Indirect Connections of its Type 2 AMA, in each case other than de minimis connections. Disclosure of known Immediate Indirect Connections (other than de minimis connections) of a Type 2 AMA will consist of identifying the IPL Parties, if any, to which the Type 2 AMA has Immediate Indirect Connections, if and as reported by the Type 2 AMA to its related Proposed Professional. A Proposed Professional with a Type 2 AMA should provide the IPL to its Type 2 AMA, and request its Type 2 AMA to inform it of known Immediate Indirect Connections (other than de minimis connections) to IPL Parties for potential disclosure in the Proposed Professional's retention application pursuant to this Protocol, including Paragraph 6, below, regarding knowledge.

d. Proposed Type 3 AMA Disclosure. A retention application for a Proposed Professional (other than a Type 1 Financial Organization) with a Type 3 AMA should contain enhanced disclosure that reflects (i) such AMA's Regulatory Oversight or Other Regulatory Oversight, as applicable; and (ii) the extent of any Securities Registration applicable to such AMA. Such retention application disclosure should also address how, if at all, these characteristics of its AMA could cause any potential impairment to the Proposed Professional's perceived or actual disinterestedness. Because Type 3 AMAs may make direct investments in Named Issuers, the disclosures required from such a Proposed Professional with a Type 3 AMA should disclose known Indirect Connections (other than de minimis connections) between the Type 3 AMA and IPL Parties including those arising from any such direct investments in Named Issuers that appear in the IPL, in each case as reported by the Type 3 AMA to its related Proposed Professional.

e. Proposed Type 4 AMA Disclosure. A retention application for a Proposed Professional (other than a Type 1 Financial Organization) with a Type 4 AMA should contain enhanced disclosure that sets forth the Securities Registration, Regulatory Oversight and/or Other Regulatory Oversight (or lack thereof) applicable to the Proposed Professional. Such retention application disclosure should also address how, if at all, these characteristics of its AMA could cause any potential impairment to the Proposed Professional's perceived or actual disinterestedness. If the applicable Type 4 AMA makes direct investments in Named Issuers, the disclosures required from such a Proposed Professional with such Type 4 AMA should disclose known Indirect Connections (other than de minimis connections) between the Type 4 AMA and IPL Parties, including those arising from any such direct investments in Named Issuers that appear in the IPL, in each case if and as reported by the Type 4 AMA to its related Proposed Professional. The disclosures required in a retention application of a Proposed Professional with a Type 4 AMA should be informed by the disclosure provided with respect to other categories of AMAs and supplemented as appropriate based on the facts and circumstances applicable to the particular AMA and bankruptcy case.

6. Disclosure Based on Actual Knowledge

The disclosure obligations of a Proposed Professional under this Protocol derive from the Proposed Professional's knowledge of Connections (other than de minimis connections), including the knowledge of Connections of a Proposed Professional's AMAs (if any) which the AMA may report to the Proposed Professional. In the case of Type 2, 3 and 4 AMAs with only Third-Party Managed Investments, disclosure of investments in Named Issuers included in the IPL Parties that such managers may make from time to time would be impractical because of, inter alia, the frequency of trading in such positions, and the AMA's limited knowledge thereof (if any). To be sure, Proposed Professionals cannot disclose unknown Connections, and this Protocol does not suggest that they do so. Instead, this Protocol provides procedures to obtain such knowledge. For purposes of this Protocol, a Proposed Professional's knowledge of Connections means actual knowledge derived from its new matter intake process and the results of the Proposed Professional's: (a) computer client database check (as described in Paragraph 7, below); (b) any applicable inquiry of its professional personnel (and Unretained Affiliates other than AMAs) by a questionnaire process or otherwise (also as described in Paragraph 7, below); (c) review of the report it receives of its AMA's (if applicable) check for conflicts and Connections (or any other applicable) process; and (d) review of any other process for its Unretained Affiliates (if any, and other than an AMA). All references to "knowledge" in this Protocol refer to actual knowledge. As discussed in Paragraph 7(e), below, if a Proposed Professional limits its retention application disclosure to the knowledge of Proposed Professional Personnel, that limitation should be disclosed in the retention application. A retention application of a Proposed Professional with knowledge of Direct Connections or Indirect Connections with IPL Parties (other than de minimis connections), should disclose all such Connections. In addition, if a Proposed Professional has knowledge of a Connection (other than a de minimis connection) with a person not included in the IPL, such Connection should be disclosed.

7. Determination of Whether a Connection Exists

Proposed Professionals should obtain knowledge of whether Connections exist generally by following the procedures discussed below, subject to adaptations to disclose particular circumstances affecting a particular Proposed Professional and bankruptcy case. Each retention application for a Proposed Professional should describe the process and procedures it utilized to obtain knowledge of Connections.

a. Interested Party List. Subject to Paragraph 6 of this Protocol regarding knowledge, Proposed Professionals can reasonably and in good faith rely on the list of IPL Parties, consistent with the description and template attached as Exhibit "A," prepared (and periodically updated, with information derived from the debtor's bankruptcy schedules and otherwise, as described in Exhibit "A" and in Paragraph 10, below) by the debtor.

b. Process to Check for Conflicts and Connections. Every Proposed Professional should perform (in connection with its other new matter intake procedures) a process to check such Proposed Professional's client databases for conflicts and Connections with IPL Parties. A Proposed Professional should utilize a process designed to identify Connections adequately in the context of the size and organizational complexity of the Proposed Professional. For entities with a significant number of professionals, this process often utilizes computer software.¹ For Proposed Professionals with a large number of professionals, this Protocol recommends deployment of adequate software within a reasonable time. Pending such deployment, a Proposed Professional may retain an independent third party to assess the adequacy of the alternative procedures the Proposed Professional uses to identify and appropriately disclose Connections.

A Proposed Professional (other than a Type 1 Financial Organization or a Proposed Professional with Type 1 AMAs) should distribute the IPL to its Type 2, 3 and 4 AMAs, request them to report any Connections (other than de minimis connections) to the Proposed Professional, and disclose in its retention application all Connections so reported. In addition, a Proposed Professional should distribute the IPL to its Proposed Professional Personnel, request them to report any Connections (other than de minimis connections) to the Proposed Professional, and disclose in its retention application all Connections so reported.

c. Questionnaires. A Proposed Professional should disclose in its retention application the results from written inquiries of the Proposed Professional's professional personnel (as distinguished from staff, support or administrative personnel), and (to the extent, if any, appropriate) Unretained Affiliates (if any) controlled by the Proposed Professional regarding: (i) their known equity or debt investments in the debtor (e.g., excluding Third-Party Managed Investments); and (ii) other connections or relationships with the debtor (other than the Proposed Professional's proposed engagement), the Bankruptcy Court judges, or United States Trustee personnel. Exhibit "B" to this Protocol presents a sample questionnaire. Particularly for Proposed Professionals organized in complex global structures, Exhibit "B" may require substantial modification, or a different (or even no) approach to seeking this information from certain of its professional employees and affiliates may be appropriate.

d. AMA's Report. A Proposed Professional should set forth in its retention application the results reported to the Proposed Professional from its AMA's (if applicable) search with respect to IPL Parties (including any alternative processes or rationale for omission thereof).

e. Type 1 Financial Organizations and Type 1 AMAs. As discussed above, Type 1 Financial Organizations and Type 1 AMAs are subject to Information Barriers that not only protect against misuse of MNPI but also insulate Proposed Professional Personnel from participation in or knowledge concerning investment decisions. Accordingly, it may be appropriate for such Proposed Professionals to obtain knowledge of Connections from their new matter intake procedures and computer client database reviews and base their disclosures on the knowledge of their Proposed Professional Personnel derived therefrom, without using questionnaires (other than directed to its Proposed Professional Personnel) or other procedures.

8. Confidentiality Considerations

If a Connection (or the identity of an IPL Party) that should be disclosed under this Protocol is subject to confidentiality considerations and the Proposed Professional seeks not to disclose the Connection or the name of the IPL Party, the following steps should be taken:

¹ Law firms generally use proprietary software licensed from vendors, while financial advisory firms more typically develop such software themselves or through third-party consultants.

a. Description in IPL. The Connection (or IPL Party) should be described (but not identified) in sufficient detail to permit informed decisions concerning the Proposed Professional's "disinterestedness" (as defined in Section 101 (14));

b. Identity Filed Under Seal. The party seeking to preserve confidentiality with respect to IPL Parties or Connections may file a motion for leave to file the identity of the confidential party under seal under Rule 9018, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, on notice to the Office of the U.S. Trustee, the Debtor, any official committee, the holders of the 20 largest claims against the Debtor, any party that has requested notice pursuant to Rule 2002, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, any applicable local rule, and all other parties entitled to notice of motions of this type under orders of the Bankruptcy Court in the Debtor's bankruptcy case. If the Bankruptcy Court enters an order granting such relief, in whole or in part, the party obtaining such relief should proceed in accordance therewith; and

c. Access to Sealed Information. Subject to the provisions of any particular Bankruptcy Court's sealing order, any party in interest, including the United States Trustee, may ask the Bankruptcy Court for permission to review (or for their counsel to review) the sealed information, and the party seeking access to the information bears the burden of proof regarding such request. The Bankruptcy Court order granting such access may protect the information's continuing confidentiality. See, e.g., Order Authorizing Evercore Group L.L.C. To File Under Seal Certain Confidential Information Related to Evercore's Retention Application, In re: Jones Energy, Inc., et al., Case No. 19-32112 (Bankr. S. D. Tex.), ECF No.210.

9. Look-back Period and Diligence

a. Time Period. A Proposed Professional should disclose Connections during the three years preceding the commencement of the bankruptcy case unless the circumstances reasonably warrant a longer period. For example, if a Proposed Professional represented a party in interest in a leveraged buy-out of the debtor eight years before the petition date, the Connection should be disclosed. Conversely, if a Proposed Professional represented a creditor of the debtor in a matter unrelated to the debtor four years before the petition date, no disclosure of that connection should be required.

b. Additional Processes. A Proposed Professional (and AMAs and other Unretained Affiliates) may, but should not be required to, conduct a process or procedure to identify Connections in addition to those set forth in this Protocol.

10. Updates

A Proposed Professional, once retained, has ongoing disclosure obligations. The debtor has the continuing obligation to update the IPL. This Protocol recommends that a debtor update, file and serve the IPL in a manner that clearly identifies changes thereto from prior versions no less frequently than every 90 days, including in connection with the filing of the debtor's schedules and statements, the passage of the claims bar date, the commencement of adversary proceedings, and filings under Bankruptcy Rule 2019 or by prospective purchasers of the debtor's assets. Estate Professionals should supplement their Rule 2014 disclosures, to the extent necessary as a result of updated IPLs and other developments in the bankruptcy case, including by reason of newly discovered or inadvertently omitted Connections. Without limiting Estate Professionals' obligations relating to prompt disclosure of known Connections, Estate

Professionals may maintain continuing compliance with their supplemental disclosure obligations under Rule 2014 by updating their disclosures in accordance with this Protocol within a reasonable time after the debtor's filing of updated IPLs, to the extent required as a result thereof.

³ Defined terms used and not otherwise defined in this Exhibit have the meanings ascribed to them in the Protocol.

GUIDELINES AND TEMPLATE FOR INTERESTED PARTY LIST

“Interested Parties List” or “IPL” means a list of people and entities, grouped into categories of their Connections, identified by name, and prepared to assist Proposed Professionals in complying with disclosure obligations under Rule 2014. The debtor, with the assistance of its outside restructuring counsel, should compile the initial IPL as part of due diligence leading up to the bankruptcy filing. An IPL categorizes each IPL Party in accordance with the nature of the Connection it has with the debtor, parties associated with the debtor (e.g., current directors, executive officers and debt and equity holders), and other IPL Parties (e.g., vendors, customers, contract, lease and litigation counterparties). Proposed Professionals rely on the IPL to provide the names of parties to review for possible Connections. In bankruptcy cases involving issuers of public debt or equity securities, it may be most efficient to construct the IPL using commercially available databases that offer exact legal names of entities and their affiliates.

An IPL may be both broader and narrower than the persons or entities the debtor lists in schedules and statements of financial affairs. An IPL (and updates to it as provided for in the Protocol) should include, without limitation, members of official committees, proposed purchasers of the debtor’s assets, and other Estate Professionals, none of which may appear in the debtor’s schedules and statements. An IPL may exclude de minimis potential IPL Parties that the debtor’s schedules and statements will include. Particularly in larger cases, the debtor’s schedules and statements may not be available before a Proposed Professional files its retention application. Accordingly, an IPL that the debtor makes available may form the best source of this information available to a Proposed Professional filing its retention application early in the bankruptcy case.

As set forth in the Protocol, a debtor should change and update the IPL during the course of a bankruptcy case, at intervals no less than 90 days, to reflect changing facts and circumstances in the case, including new developments, as well as to cure inadvertent omissions. Updates should reflect, among other things, the matters, events and circumstances addressed in the template provided below.

EXHIBIT “A”

IPL TEMPLATE

In its initial compilation of the IPL, the debtor should consider including the following categories of parties with Connections, as applicable:

- Debtor(s)
- Debtor affiliates and subsidiaries
- Current and former officers and directors (within the last 3 years)
- Affiliates of current and former officers and directors
- Significant equity holders (more than 5%)
- Prepetition lenders / noteholders
- Prepetition Indenture trustees / agents
- Initial DIP lenders
- U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judges serving in the District (as updated, only the Bankruptcy Judge presiding over the bankruptcy case will remain an IPL Party)
- U.S. District Court Judges for the applicable district
- U.S. Trustee (for the applicable region) and Staff Attorneys and Trial Attorneys in the District in which the case is filed
- Top 50 unsecured creditors
- Identified bankruptcy professionals
- Ordinary course professionals
- Contract counter-parties (other than de minimis)
- Vendors / suppliers (other than de minimis)
- Customers (other than de minimis)
- Competitors (other than de minimis)
- Landlords and lease counter-parties (other than de minimis)
- Licensees and licensors (including under intellectual property rights) (other than de minimis)
- Utility companies (other than de minimis)
- Litigation counter-parties (other than de minimis)
- Regulatory agencies / governmental bodies
- Taxing authorities (other than de minimis)
- Labor unions
- Depository banks (other than de minimis)
- L/C issuers
- Lien claimants
- Insurance providers and agents
- Surety bonds and surety providers
- Other IPL Parties significant to the bankruptcy case, and not included above.

The parameters for excluding de minimis parties from the IPL depend on the facts and circumstances of each particular bankruptcy case. In each category appropriate for de minimis exclusions, the debtor should consider a practical de minimis limitation so that category will contain only IPL Parties that bear on a Proposed Professional’s disinterestedness. The IPL should disclose the dollar amount, percentage amount or other criteria (e.g., limiting equity holders to thresholds based on value and percentage interest) chosen for de minimis exclusions in each applicable category.

Updates

As set forth in the Protocol, the IPL is a dynamic document, and a debtor should change and update the IPL during the course of a bankruptcy case. The debtor should update the IPL no less frequently than every 90 days to reflect changing facts and circumstances, new developments, and information learned during the bankruptcy case, as well as to cure inadvertent omissions. After the filing of the bankruptcy case, the IPL should be updated to include additional IPL Parties identified in:

- The debtor's schedules and statements (including any amendments)
- Proofs of Claim
- Notices of appearance
- Adversary proceedings and other motions or applications
- Filings by prospective purchasers of debtor's assets, plan proponents and under Bankruptcy Rule 2019
- Appointments of official committees and retention of Estate Professionals

(Name of Proposed Professional) represents (or is applying for Bankruptcy Court authorization to represent) (name of entity) and its affiliates listed below (collectively, the “Debtors”) or (the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors) (or other applicable official committee or party; as the case may be, the “Client”)) in their (recently filed) (contemplated) chapter 11 bankruptcy cases in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the _____ District of _____.

As an advisor to the Client, there are several types of disclosures that we must make in order for the Bankruptcy Court to approve retention of our firm. Most of the information required to be disclosed can be obtained from the databases and conflicts records our firm maintains. That process is underway. A limited amount of information, however, may most efficiently be obtained directly from professionals employed by our firm and affiliates of our firm who receive this Questionnaire (collectively, the “Questionnaire Recipients”). This request relates to the second type of material listed above, which is why you are being contacted. The specific disclosures that we are required to make are listed below.

First, we must disclose to the Bankruptcy Court presiding over the Debtors' cases any holdings by the Questionnaire Recipients in either the debt or equity securities of the Debtors (e.g., excluding any investments, whether held through mutual funds or other investment vehicles, that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion; “Third-Party Managed Investments”), as well as the existence of any other claims against the Debtors held by any Questionnaire Recipient.

Second, we must disclose to the Bankruptcy Court whether any Questionnaire Recipient has any connections to the United State Trustee or any person employed in the Office of the United States Trustee for the _____ District of _____.

Third, we must disclose to the Bankruptcy Court whether any Questionnaire Recipient has any connections to any of the Bankruptcy Judges for the _____ District of _____.

Please respond to this email no later than [, 20] at noon EST:

1. Debt or Equity Securities, or Other Claims Against the Debtors.

Please indicate by replying to this email whether you, on or after [90 days prior to the date of this questionnaire] have owned or held a beneficial interest in any debt or equity securities (other than Third Party Managed Investments) of, or claims against, any of the Debtors. To reply, review the options listed below and (electronically check the appropriate box) (select the appropriate button at the top of this message).

Option #1 -- I have not held and do not hold debt or equity securities of, or other claims against, any of the Debtors.

Option #2 -- I have held but no longer hold debt or equity securities (other than Third-Party Managed Investments) of, or other claims against, any of the Debtors.

Option #3 -- I currently hold debt or equity securities (other than Third-Party Managed Investments) of, or other claims against, one or more of the Debtors. (If selecting this option, please describe in your reply the type of debt or equity securities that you hold, the name of the issuer, and/or the nature of any claim that you may hold or assert. To do this, select "Edit the response before sending" option to enter your comments.)

2. Connections to the United States Trustee or any Person Employed by the Office of the United States Trustee for the _____ District of _____.

The names of the United States Trustee and employees in the office of the United States Trustee for the _____ District of _____ are listed below.

To reply, review the options listed below and (electronically check the appropriate box) or (select the appropriate button at the top of this message).

Option #1 - I have no connections to the United States Trustee or to anyone employed in the office of the United States trustee for the _____ District of _____

Option #2 - I have the following connections to the United States trustee or to someone employed in the office of the United States Trustee for the _____ District of _____. (If selecting this option, please describe in your reply the connections that you have to the United States Trustee or to anyone employed in the office of the United States Trustee for the _____ District of _____. To do this, select "Edit the response before sending" option to enter your comments.)

3. Connections to any Bankruptcy Judges in the _____ District of _____. The names of the Bankruptcy Judges in the _____ District of _____ are listed below.

To reply, review the options listed below and (electronically check the appropriate box) or (select the appropriate button at the top of this message).

Option #1 - I have no connections to any of the Bankruptcy Judges for the _____ District of _____.

Option #2 - I have the following connections to a Bankruptcy Judge for the _____ District of _____ (If selecting this option, please describe in your reply the connections that you have to a Bankruptcy Judge for the _____ District of _____). To do this, select "Edit the response before sending" to enter your comments).

I, Dmitry Krivin, declare as follows:

1. I am employed as a partner at McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States (“McKinsey US”) with an office at 175 Greenwich Street, New York City, NY, 10007. McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey & Co.”) is the ultimate parent company of McKinsey US, McKinsey & Company Puerto Rico Consulting, Inc. (“McKinsey Puerto Rico”) and its ~~consulting~~-affiliates (collectively, “McKinsey”).² I am duly authorized to make this declaration ~~(this, which is being submitted to supplement my initial declaration filed on May 16, 2022 [Docket No. 20832] (the “Initial Declaration”,³ and the Initial Declaration as supplemented herein, the “Declaration”))⁴~~ on behalf of the Proposed Professionals (as defined below) in connection with PRRADA (as defined below) and the Independent Contractor Services Agreement, effective as of July 1, 2021 (the “Current Contract”),⁵ between the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (the “FOMB”) and McKinsey Puerto Rico in connection with work for the Debtors related to the proceedings under Title III of the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management, and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA” and such proceedings, the “PROMESA Proceedings”).

2. I have been employed by McKinsey US since 2006, and I am a partner in the Risk practice. I serve clients on coordinating and executing supervisory remediation programs, setting

² ~~The term “McKinsey” includes any McKinsey entity that provides consulting (including bankruptcy advisory) services.~~ The term “McKinsey” does not include investment affiliate MIO Partners, Inc. up operational risk and compliance programs, and developing operational and risk processes to meet regulatory requirements and enforcement actions.

3. Except as otherwise noted, the statements set forth herein are based on knowledge I have from my employment position and diligence undertaken by me or professionals reporting to me and, if called and sworn as a witness, I would testify competently thereto.

Background

4. On January 20, 2022, President Biden signed into law the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (“PRRADA”). PRRADA sets forth disclosure requirements for professional persons seeking compensation pursuant to section 316 and 317 of PROMESA after PRRADA’s enactment. I am filing this Declaration ~~to satisfy~~ in connection with PRRADA’s disclosure requirements, in accordance with implementing orders of the Court, because McKinsey Puerto Rico intends to seek such compensation.

5. On February 22, 2022, pursuant to PRRADA and Court order, the FOMB filed a proposed list of material interested parties for professionals to use in preparing PRRADA disclosures [Docket No. 20194, Ex. A].

6. On March 21, 2022, the Court entered the Order Regarding Proposed List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in ~~Disclosure~~ Disclosures Act [Docket No. 20419] (the “MIPL Order”), which, among other things, ordered the FOMB to submit an amended list of material interested parties.

7. On March 28, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Debtors filed an amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20455, Ex. A].

8. On March 29, 2022, the Debtors filed a further amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20458, Ex. A] (the “MIPL”, and such material interested parties, the “Material Interested Parties”), a copy of which is attached hereto ~~as~~on Schedule 1(a).

9. On March 30, 2022, the Court entered the Order Approving List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosure Act [Docket No. 20467], approving the MIPL.

10. On May 16, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Initial Declaration was filed.

11. Following the filing of the Initial Declaration, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Puerto Rico (the “U.S. Trustee”) requested certain additional information in connection with the disclosures set forth therein. I submit this Supplemental Declaration setting forth the disclosures in my Initial Declaration, supplemented by certain additional information requested by the U.S. Trustee. In addition to this Declaration, McKinsey Puerto Rico and its affiliates are also filing the Declaration of Casey S. Lipscomb, General Counsel of MIO Partners, Inc. (the “Lipscomb Declaration”); the Declaration of Joshua Dennis, A Partner of Stoneturn Group, LLP, in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (the “StoneTurn Declaration”); and the Declaration of Jonathan M. Davis, A Partner of McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States, in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act in response to questions received from the U.S. Trustee regarding my Initial Declaration.

12. ~~10.~~ I led a process similar to the one described below in connection with semiannual disclosures required of McKinsey Puerto Rico pursuant to the terms of (a) the Independent Contractor Services Agreements, effective as of July 1, 2019, between the FOMB

and McKinsey Puerto Rico (the “2019-2020 Contract”); (b) the Independent Contractor Services Agreements, effective as of July 1, 2020, between the FOMB and McKinsey Puerto Rico (the “2020-2021 Contract”); and (c) the Current Contract (the Current Contract, the 2019-2020 Contract, and the 2020-2021 Contract are referred to collectively herein as the “Contracts”). The disclosures set forth in this Declaration include all disclosures made to the FOMB as a result of those processes, plus additional disclosures resulting from the process undertaken to comply with PRRADA as described below.

13. ~~11.~~ The Contracts required McKinsey to make certain conflict of interest certifications with respect to a list of interested parties attached to each Contract, which list was updated semiannually by the FOMB (the aggregated list of such interested parties as of May 16, 2022 is the “Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL”). Many of the parties listed on the MIPL were also included on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL. The list of parties on the MIPL, but not on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, comprise the “Supplemental PRRADA IPL.”

14. After the filing of the Initial Declaration, the FOMB provided the Proposed Professionals with an updated list of interested parties in connection with renewing McKinsey’s contract for 2022-2023 (the “Updated Contractual IPL”). Many of the parties listed on the Updated Contractual IPL were also included on the MIPL. The list of parties on the Updated Contractual IPL, but not on the MIPL, comprise the “Supplemental Contractual IPL” and are listed on Schedule 1(b) attached hereto.

15. ~~12.~~ Similarly, each set of McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts used a more current look-back period than the last set. ~~The~~ Prior to my Initial Declaration, the most recent look-back period McKinsey reviewed in connection with its contractual disclosures to the FOMB was November 27, 2016—the date when McKinsey consulting affiliates first entered into a services contract with the FOMB—through December 31, 2021 (the “Contractual Look-Back Period”). The Working Group (as defined below) preparing this Declaration also reviewed ~~an~~ additional ~~period~~periods from January 1, 2022, through February 28, 2022 (the “Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period”) and from November 27, 2014, through November 26, 2016 (the “Second Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period” and, together with the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period, the “Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Periods”). The combined period from November 27, ~~2016~~2014, through February 28, 2022, is the “Consolidated Look-Back Period.”

Engagement Team and Corporate Structure

16. ~~13.~~ As used in this Declaration, the term “Engagement Team” means the McKinsey consultants who comprise the working group that is directly providing services to the FOMB under the Contracts.³⁶ This included all McKinsey professionals that billed time to providing services to the FOMB. While the Contracts are between the FOMB and McKinsey Puerto Rico, as is customary, McKinsey Puerto Rico utilizes certain consultants employed by its consulting affiliates (in this case, the other Proposed Professionals) in providing consulting services to the FOMB.

17. ~~14.~~ My team and I determined which McKinsey employees would be part of the Engagement Team by asking McKinsey’s finance department to identify all consulting personnel who charged time to the FOMB project number during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. The McKinsey entities that employ or employed the members of the Engagement Team, based on the finance department's responses, are McKinsey Puerto Rico; McKinsey & Company, Inc. do Brasil Consultoria Ltda USD ("McKinsey Brazil"); McKinsey & Company Canada/McKinsey & Compagnie Canada ("McKinsey Canada"); McKinsey & Company Colombia, Inc. ("McKinsey Colombia"); McKinsey & Company, Inc. France ("McKinsey France"); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Israel ("McKinsey Israel"); McKinsey & Company LME Limited ("McKinsey LME"); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Mexico, S.C. ("McKinsey Mexico"); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Panama ("McKinsey Panama"); McKinsey & Company, Inc. Peru ("McKinsey Peru"); McKinsey & Company Singapore, Pte Ltd ("McKinsey Singapore"); McKinsey & Company Support Services C.R. ("McKinsey Poland"); McKinsey Knowledge Centre India Private Limited ("McKinsey Knowledge Centre"); McKinsey Global Services India Private Limited ("McKinsey Global Services"); and McKinsey Recovery and Transformation Services U.S., LLC ("RTS" and, collectively, the "Proposed Professionals").

³⁶ Although the Protocol (as defined below) contemplates excluding personnel that only episodically provide such services, personnel serving the Debtors were not excluded from the definition of the Engagement Team on this basis. See Ex. A, Defined Terms (defining “Proposed Professional Personnel” as the “primary working group within a Proposed Professional entity that directly provides the services for which the Proposed Professional is retained in the particular bankruptcy case, and excludes personnel that only episodically provide such services”).

18. ~~15.~~ In connection with each prior set of disclosures made to the FOMB pursuant to the Contracts, using this same process, my team and I periodically had updated the list of consulting personnel comprising the "Engagement Team" to reflect the applicable look-back period covered by such disclosure. The Engagement Team for purposes of this Declaration was identified by combining the historical list of consulting personnel for the Contractual Look-Back Period with the list of consulting personnel identified for the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period.⁴⁷

19. ~~16. As noted above, McKinsey & Co is the ultimate parent company of McKinsey Chile and its consulting affiliates.~~ Other than McKinsey Brazil, the Proposed Professionals are all wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries of McKinsey & Co. McKinsey Brazil is a majority-owned indirect subsidiary of McKinsey & Co., with the remaining minority ownership stake being owned by the equity holders of McKinsey & Co.

20. McKinsey partners are the only equity holders of McKinsey & Co.

Disclosure Regarding Connections of the Proposed Professionals

General

21. ~~17.~~ McKinsey maintains a global database of client engagements but does not currently have in place any computerized conflicts database akin to the types used by a legal or accounting firm. More specifically, McKinsey's client database stores information relating to clients and client engagements, but does not capture information about third parties because consultants, unlike lawyers, do not always have adverse parties in their engagements.⁸ In addition, McKinsey at times serves companies with competing and overlapping interests, and thus maintains processes designed to ensure that the confidential information of its clients is protected. To that end, McKinsey has in place information barriers that prohibit confidential information from being shared within the firm, except on a need-to-know basis.

⁴⁷ Although the Protocol (as defined below) contemplates excluding personnel that only episodically provide such services, ~~personnel~~ all McKinsey professionals that billed any time to serving the FOMB were ~~not excluded from~~ included on the "Engagement Team" list.

22. ~~18.~~ I led a working group of McKinsey professionals (the “Working Group”)⁵⁹ who undertook a multi-stage analysis of McKinsey’s client and other ~~relationships~~connections with parties on the MIPL guided by a disclosure protocol (“Protocol”) as initially filed in the bankruptcy case In re Westmoreland Coal Company, Inc., Case No. 18-35672-DRJ (Bankr. S.D. Tex.), on May 31, 2019, supplemented by additional procedures and disclosures described herein, including as agreed in the Order Approving Second Mediated Settlement Agreement Between the United States Trustee Program and McKinsey & Company, Inc. and its Affiliates (the “UST Settlement”). The Protocol is attached to this Declaration as Exhibit A, and the UST Settlement is available at In re Westmoreland Coal Company, Inc., Case No. 18-35672-DRJ (Bankr. S.D. Tex.), Docket No. 3203.

23. ~~19.~~ While the disclosures made under the 2019-2020 Contract and the 2020-2021 Contract initially were focused on the McKinsey entities that employed the then-current members of the Engagement Team, in February 2021, McKinsey began ~~systematically reviewing~~using the comprehensive process described herein to review connections of all of its consulting affiliates ~~in February 2021,~~ with its first update to its disclosures made to the FOMB after approval of the UST Settlement. Thus, the processes used to identify connections described herein (and in my Initial Declaration) and those employed by representatives of MIO Partners, ⁵⁹ The Working Group that assisted with preparing the disclosures contained in this Declaration consisted of a core team of myself, Anubhav Jha, Pranav Vadrevu, Raisa Flor, ~~and~~ Ada Han, Sourav Sarkar, Meghan Suffield and Dina Akimova.

Inc., as described in the StoneTurn Declaration, are designed to search for and identify connections across all of McKinsey's affiliates.

Client Connections

24. ~~20.~~ The first step in the Working Group's process was to expand the MIPL to include all corporate affiliates that shared a common parent with each corporate party listed on the MIPL.⁶¹⁰ My team and I already had expanded the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts (such expanded list, the "Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL"). My team was able to extract the relevant corporate trees using information available on the S&P Capital IQ platform ("Capital IQ"), which is a widely used third-party platform that provides extensive capital structure and related information to facilitate the identification of such affiliates. Where the names of the entities on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL were incomplete or ambiguous, the scope of the Capital IQ searches was intentionally broad and inclusive. Affiliate relationships were deemed to exist where a parent company owned 20% or more of the equity of a subsidiary, analogous to the definition of a debtor affiliate in section 101(2) of the Bankruptcy Code.¹¹ Where Capital IQ's data indicated a corporate parent or subsidiary relationship existed but did not provide information sufficient to determine whether the ~~parent would constitute an affiliate based on this definition~~applicable parent company owned 20% or more of the equity of a subsidiary, the entity was assumed to ~~fall within the definition~~be above this ownership threshold and was included as an affiliate on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL out of an abundance of caution. In sum, the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL expanded the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL from 15,807 unique parties to 149,034 unique parties.

⁶¹⁰ The Protocol does not require such an expansion of the MIPL. The Proposed Professionals undertook this analysis out of an abundance of caution, in part to account for the lack of a computerized conflict-checking database.

¹¹ The Bankruptcy Code states that the term "affiliate" means "(A) entity that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, 20 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than an entity that holds such securities— (i) in a fiduciary or agency capacity without sole discretionary power to vote such securities; or (ii) solely to secure a debt, if such entity has not in fact exercised such power to vote; (B) corporation 20 percent or more of whose outstanding voting securities are directly or indirectly owned, controlled, or held with power to vote, by the debtor, or by an entity that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, 20 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than an entity that holds such securities—(i) in a fiduciary or agency capacity without sole discretionary power to vote such securities; or (ii) solely to secure a debt, if such entity has not in fact exercised such power to vote" 11 U.S.C. § 101(2).

25. After the MIPL was approved and the Working Group determined the Supplemental PRRADA IPL, the Working Group's next step was to expand the Supplemental PRRADA IPL in the same manner (such expanded list, the "Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL"). In sum, the Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL expanded the Supplemental PRRADA IPL from 1,952 unique parties to 47,660 unique parties.

26. After McKinsey received the Updated Contractual IPL and the Working Group determined the Supplemental Contractual IPL, the Working Group's next step was to expand the Supplemental Contractual IPL in the same manner (such expanded list, the "Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL"). In sum, the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL expanded the Supplemental Contractual IPL from 380 unique parties to 35,499 unique parties.

27. After filing the Initial Declaration, the Working Group became aware of Naturgy being awarded an approximately $9 billion dollar contract with the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority in December 2019. Naturgy was not on the MIPL or Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL and, accordingly, McKinsey did not search for connections to Naturgy or its affiliates when preparing the Initial Declaration. However, out of an abundance of caution, McKinsey expanded Naturgy in the same manner as described above (such expanded list, the "Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL"). In sum, the Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL includes 251 unique parties.

28. ~~21.~~ The Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL, the Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL ~~was combined with the~~ the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL, and the Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL were combined to create the “Expanded MIPL.”⁷

29. ~~22.~~ The Working Group then compiled a list of each client engagement of each of McKinsey’s consulting affiliates open during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. McKinsey’s finance department already had identified each such client engagement during the Contractual Look-Back Period in connection with McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts (the list of client names for such engagements, the “Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List”). McKinsey’s finance department then identified each client engagement of each of McKinsey’s consulting affiliates open during the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back ~~Period~~ Periods. The list of client names for these engagements that were not on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List formed the “Supplemental PRRADA Client List.”⁷ The Supplemental PRRADA Client List was combined with the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List to create the “Consolidated Client List.”⁷

30. ~~23.~~ The Working Group already had checked the names on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Client List against the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL in connection with McKinsey’s disclosures under the Contracts. To prepare this Declaration, the Working Group also ~~checked~~ conducted additional checks such that, in sum, all of the names ~~(i)~~ on the Consolidated Client List were checked against the ~~Supplemental PRRADA-Expanded IPL and~~ (ii) on the Supplemental PRRADA Client List against the Contractual Expanded IPL MIPL. The scope of these checks was intentionally broad and inclusive. The matches previously disclosed pursuant to the Contracts and my Initial Declaration are set forth on Schedule 2(a), and those resulting from these additional checks are set forth on Schedule 2.¹² ~~(b).~~ To the best of my knowledge, based on the results of the Surveys (as defined below), subject to the disclosures set forth herein, the connections set forth on ~~Schedule~~ Schedules 2(a) and 2(b) (a) do not constitute interests adverse to the Debtors and (b) involve matters unrelated to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

Vendor Connections and Banking ~~Relationships~~ Connections

31. ~~24.~~ The Working Group already had compared McKinsey's records of ordinary-course vendor and banking ~~relationships~~ connections during the Contractual Look-Back Period applicable for each set of prior disclosures under the Contracts against the Pre-PRRADA Contractual Expanded IPL in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts. To prepare this Declaration, the Working Group ~~also compared~~ conducted additional checks such that, in sum, all of McKinsey's ~~records of~~ ordinary-course vendor and banking ~~relationships~~ (i) connections during the Consolidated Look-Back Period were checked against ~~the Supplemental PRRADA Expanded IPL and (ii) during the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back Period against~~ the Expanded MIPL. The scope of these checks was intentionally broad and inclusive. The matches previously disclosed pursuant to the Contracts and my Initial Declaration are set forth on Schedule 2(a), and those resulting from these additional checks are set forth on Schedule 2(b). To the best of my knowledge, as ordinary-course vendor and banking

~~relationships~~connections, none of these ~~relationships~~connections constitute interests adverse to the Debtors.

Questionnaires

32. ~~25.~~ In addition to the connection checking process described above, several different sets of surveys were prepared and distributed by the Working Group in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts and as part of preparing this Declaration (collectively, the "Surveys").¹³

33. ~~26.~~ Specifically in connection with preparation of ~~this Declaration~~these disclosures, first, an email survey including substantively identical questions and information as Protocol Exhibit B was sent to all professional personnel (as distinguished from staff, support, or administrative personnel) of McKinsey's consulting affiliates worldwide, inquiring if any such person (i) held debt or other claims against Puerto Rico (other than investments, including through mutual funds and other investment vehicles, that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion) at any time after 90 days prior to the date that McKinsey ~~Puerto Rico~~ first entered into a services contract with the FOMB in 2016; (ii) had previously been employed by Puerto Rico, or (iii) had any connections to any of the judges, mediators, or employees of the office of the United States Trustee, in each case working on the PROMESA Proceedings. Such surveys were also sent to all directors and officers of McKinsey entities other than MIO, which as described below, is operated separately from McKinsey's consulting business. The results of ~~this survey~~these surveys, and of similar surveys distributed in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

34. ~~27.~~ Second, ~~an~~ in preparing my Initial Declaration, in addition to each DCS receiving the survey identified in paragraph 33, an additional email survey was sent to each director of client services ("DCS") or McKinsey partner most knowledgeable about a particular engagement for each of the engagements for a client on the Supplemental PRRADA Client List that matches an entity on the Expanded MIPL and any ~~new~~ engagements during the Supplemental PRRADA Look-Back ~~Period~~ Periods of previously disclosed client matches. In connection with this Declaration, such survey was sent, in sum, to each DCS or partner most knowledgeable about a particular engagement for any client on the Consolidated Client List identified as a match with any party on the Expanded MIPL. The DCS for an engagement is the leader of the client services team and the lead client contact. This survey requested that each ~~DCS~~ recipient indicate, to the best of his or her knowledge, whether the work for his or her client, in any engagement for the client known to the ~~DCS~~ recipient, was in any way related to Puerto Rico. If the answer was yes, the ~~DCS~~ recipient was asked to provide additional information concerning the ~~relationship~~ connection with Puerto Rico for further review by McKinsey and its counsel. The results of ~~this survey~~ these surveys, and of similar surveys distributed ~~to the DCS~~ in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

35. ~~28.~~ Third, an email survey was sent to each member of the Engagement Team still employed by McKinsey including a link to the MIPL and asking whether such member (i) had personal connections with parties on the MIPL, i.e., connections other than professional client ~~relationships~~ connections already being reviewed as part of the client checking process described above, including direct equity holdings in such parties, at any time after 90 days prior to the date that the Proposed Professionals first entered into a services contract with the FOMB in 2016, (ii) knew of any person or entity not included on the MIPL that, to such member's knowledge, should have been included because such party was an interested party in the PROMESA Proceedings (for example, because it is or was a creditor of, or has or had some other business connection to, Puerto Rico, Puerto Rico's assets, or the work being performed by the Consolidated Engagement Team), (iii) had ever discussed any aspect of MIO ~~Partners Inc.~~ ("MIO"), including its investment or operations, with anyone who, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period, was a member of the MIO board of directors, or (iv) was related to or had a ~~relationship~~connection with any such MIO director other than arising out of having McKinsey as a common employer. A similar survey was sent to each member of the Engagement Team regarding the recently received Updated Contractual IPL. The results of this survey, and of similar surveys distributed in connection with McKinsey's disclosures under the Contracts, are reflected in the disclosures set forth herein.

MIO Disclosures

36. ~~29.~~ MIO is a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of McKinsey & Co. and is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") as an investment adviser.⁸¹⁴ The FOMB is not seeking to engage MIO, nor has it engaged MIO in the past. MIO does not provide any client consulting services. Rather, it manages assets for (i) pension plans sponsored by McKinsey & Co. ("Pension Plans") in which roughly 30,000 current and former McKinsey employees participate (~~"Pension Participants"~~), and (ii) privately offered investment vehicles (“MIO Funds”) in which McKinsey partners, former partners, and their immediate family members can invest. Substantially all the assets under management at MIO are owned for the benefit (direct or indirect) of current and former McKinsey employees and their immediate family members.

37. ~~30.~~ By design, MIO is operated separately from McKinsey’s consulting services, including for the purpose of ensuring McKinsey’s unbiased service to its consulting clients. The staff of MIO is dedicated exclusively to MIO. No MIO investment professional, meaning the members of MIO’s investment management team who are responsible for all investment decisions made by MIO, is engaged in ~~McKinsey client~~ any activity or work related to the service activities of McKinsey’s clients or is an employee of any McKinsey affiliate that provides client consulting services.⁹¹⁵ Except to the extent described below in ~~paragraph 33 and 34~~ paragraphs 40 and 41 regarding MIO board members, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period McKinsey consulting professionals and staff had no control over the investments made by the Pension Plans or the MIO Funds, no ability to direct purchases or sales of any asset in the Pension Plans or the MIO Funds, and no access to non-public information about any underlying investment in the fund of funds structure. McKinsey does not earn money from the operations of MIO; to the contrary, McKinsey subsidizes MIO’s operations.

38. ~~31.~~ Pursuant to McKinsey data protection protocols, client information obtained in the course of serving clients is maintained on systems that MIO employees lack the credentials to access. Similarly, MIO maintains information (electronic documents and files) related to its past and existing investments on servers that are controlled by MIO, and only New York-based MIO employees have access to the information contained on these servers. There are also physical barriers to ensure no confidential information or resources are shared, including separate MIO and McKinsey office spaces.

⁹¹⁵ The term “investment professional” excludes MIO’s Client Services and Advisory Personnel. These personnel are wealth management professionals who provide wealth management advice and services to McKinsey partners, operate independently from MIO’s investment professional team, do not have access to non-public information regarding the identities of third-party managers or security-level investments made by third-party managers or MIO directly, and are not incentivized to recommend MIO-managed or -sponsored investment products.

39. ~~32.~~ The operational separation between MIO and McKinsey is designed to restrict the flow of information between MIO staff and McKinsey consultants and ensure that information regarding MIO investments will not influence McKinsey's client engagements and that information from McKinsey's client engagements will not influence MIO's investment decisions. MIO and McKinsey maintain policies and procedures designed to ensure separation. MIO staff and McKinsey consultants must regularly certify compliance with these policies and procedures. These MIO and McKinsey policies and procedures are designed to ensure that (i) MIO's investment decisions described above do not violate the laws prohibiting trading on the basis of material non-public information, and (ii) McKinsey has no participation in, control of, or knowledge concerning investment decisions made by MIO.

40. ~~33.~~ Until October 2021, MIO's board of directors included both current and former McKinsey partners and independent directors who were not current or former McKinsey partners. As of the date hereof, MIO's board of directors is comprised entirely of retired McKinsey partners and independent members who are not current or former McKinsey partners.⁴⁰¹⁶ While members of the MIO board of directors have oversight responsibilities with respect to MIO's management of the assets of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds, to the best of my knowledge, based on the Surveys, no member of the Engagement Team served on that board, or discussed any aspect of MIO, including its investment or operations, with anyone who, during the Consolidated Look-Back Period, was a member of the MIO board of directors.

41. ~~34.~~ The MIO board has delegated responsibility for making investment decisions on behalf of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds to MIO's professional staff. This professional staff is principally responsible for selecting and overseeing third-party managers who make specific instrument-level investment decisions based on their own discretion.¹¹~~MIO contracts with third-party managers to invest approximately 90% of its assets under management.¹²Any information that MIO receives from third-party managers regarding their investments is subject to the strict information barriers that are the subject of formal compliance training and monitoring as described above. For approximately 10% of MIO's assets under management, MIO professional staff makes instrument-level investment decisions on behalf of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds in investment vehicles operated by MIO. As a matter of MIO policy, however, primarily to avoid any appearance of conflicts of interest with McKinsey's consulting businesses, MIO is prohibited from directly investing in the debt or equity of single-named issuers or governmental issuers, except securities issued by sovereign governments. For clarity, "sovereign governments" does not include Puerto Rico. This policy prohibiting direct investments in the debt or equity of single-named issuers or governmental issuers has been in effect since at least 2012, and was updated as discussed in paragraph 38 below.~~¹⁷

¹¹~~Notwithstanding the disclosures made herein, the Proposed Professionals reserve their rights to rely upon information barriers to maintain the confidentiality of all MIO investment information.~~

¹²~~The number of third-party fund managers MIO invests with varies over time, but is typically over 100. MIO currently invests MIO's assets under management with approximately 170 third-party managers.~~

¹⁷Notwithstanding the disclosures made herein, the Proposed Professionals reserve their rights to rely upon information barriers to maintain the confidentiality of all MIO investment information.

42. On November 19, 2021, MIO agreed to pay a $18 million civil money penalty to the SEC to resolve charges relating to MIO's policies and procedures. More specifically, the SEC charged that MIO failed to "establish, maintain, and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed . . . to prevent the misuse of material, nonpublic information" and to "adopt and implement written policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent violations" of the laws and rules applicable to investment advisers.¹⁸ The SEC's public order did not identify any instances of misuse of material nonpublic information by either MIO or McKinsey. As described above, since October 2021, MIO's board of directors no longer includes any active McKinsey partners.

43. More details regarding MIO's operations, policies and procedures are contained in the StoneTurn Declaration and the Lipscomb Declaration.¹⁹

44. ~~35.~~ MIO qualifies as a "Type 2 AMA" under the Protocol,⁴³²⁰ because it (i) employs robust information barriers; (ii) is registered with the SEC and is subject to its regulatory oversight; (iii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from related investors and not from third parties; (iv) does not make direct investments in the debt or equity

¹⁸ In re MIO Partners, Inc., Investment Advisors Act Release No. 5912 ¶¶ 32–33, 2021 WL 5415361 (Nov. 19, 2021).

¹⁹ The number of third-party fund managers MIO invests with varies over time, but is typically over 100. MIO currently invests MIO's assets under management with approximately 170 third-party managers.

⁴³²⁰ Under the Protocol, a Type 2 AMA is an "affiliate or division of a Proposed Professional that is actively engaged in managing or owning financial investments" that: (i) employs information barriers; (ii) is subject to both (a) registration (and attendant regulation) as an investment advisor by the SEC, as a securities broker/dealer by FINRA, or under the requirements of the CFTC, and (b) periodic regulatory examinations by the SEC, FINRA, or the NFA; (iii) obtains most or all of its assets under management from a proposed professional's current and former ultimate beneficial owners, employees and their immediate family members, and not from third parties; (iv) does not make direct investments in named issuers (i.e., issuers of debt or equity securities, including parties that could become a debtor in a bankruptcy case), but only, if at all, holds investments in named issuers as investments that are managed by third parties with delegated investment authority and discretion; and (v) does not have independent personnel and management (as described in the Protocol).

of individual corporate or governmental issuers, except securities issued by sovereign governments; and (v) had at least one active McKinsey employee on its board of directors during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. See Ex. A § 5.

45. To facilitate MIO's connections checking process, on April 11, 2022, counsel to McKinsey provided counsel to MIO the Expanded MIPL used for my Initial Declaration. On June 7, 2022 and August 11, 2022, counsel to McKinsey provided counsel to MIO with additional lists of parties that had been added to the Expanded MIPL, including the Supplemental Contractual Expanded IPL and Supplemental Naturgy Expanded IPL. Disclosures regarding the connections of MIO and the process used by MIO to generate such disclosures are set forth in the StoneTurn Declaration, and will be supplemented as necessary and appropriate during the PROMESA Proceedings.

~~36. Consistent with the Protocol, counsel for McKinsey sent the MIPL and the Expanded MIPL to counsel for MIO to facilitate MIO's search for connections. MIO then compared such lists to a list, compiled to the best of its knowledge, of its third-party investment managers, direct investments, financial counterparties, and service providers (such as vendors) for the Consolidated Look-Back Period. MIO then delivered the results of this comparison to counsel for McKinsey, and the resulting matches are set forth on Schedule 3 attached hereto.¹⁴Based on~~

¹⁴. The "Connection Type" column in Schedule 3 identifies each MIO connection as a Third-Party Manager/Managed Fund, Direct Investment, Counterparty, or Vendor. Third-Party Manager/Managed Funds are third-party managers with which MIO has contracted, or third-party funds managed by a third-party manager. Direct Investments reflect security-level investments made by MIO's professional investment staff pursuant to the MIO Direct Trading Policy, including debt or equity indices and exchange-traded funds, bonds issued by sovereigns, municipalities, or government agencies, credit default swaps on financial counterparties of MIO-managed funds, the sale of in-kind distributions of securities received from third-party funds, or the sale of securities in liquidated separately-managed accounts. MIO-Managed Funds are MIO-controlled investment vehicles that hold assets for the Pension Plans and MIO Funds. Counterparties are financial counterparties of MIO-managed funds. Vendors are service providers retained by MIO.

~~the results provided by MIO, to the best of my knowledge, subject to the disclosures set forth herein, none of these relationships result in McKinsey holding an interest adverse to the Debtors.~~

~~37. For the sake of completeness, I note that Schedule 3 attached hereto discloses an investment-related connection to the Puerto Rico Sales Tax Financing Corporation. My understanding is that this connection relates to an investment in certain COFINA bonds, which was described on page 72 of the Final Investigative Report of the Special Counsel to the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico [Docket No. 5154] (the “Special Counsel Report”):~~

~~MIO also held a direct investment in COFINA bonds through a Non-Investable Compass Fund. In 2014, MIO purchased $58,345,000 par value of COFINA bonds at a steep discount. MIO disposed of $8,345,000 par value in three transactions in the first quarter of 2017, and disposed of the remaining $50,000,000 par value in two transactions in April 2018. The Non-Investable Compass Fund realized a total profit of approximately $765,000 on this investment. MIO made the decision to dispose of the investment independently and without information received from the consulting side of McKinsey. This investment was not disclosed in any public filings and no one working on McKinsey’s Puerto Rico service team would have been able to learn of this investment at any time prior to the filing of this Report. MIO has represented to LS&E that it does not currently have any other Direct Investments in Puerto Rico public debt.~~

~~The Special Counsel Report indicates that such investment was disposed of by MIO in the first quarter of 2017 and April 2018, and MIO’s counsel has further confirmed that MIO had no direct investments in any Puerto Rico public debt instruments after April 2018, but the bonds are listed in Schedule 3 because Schedule 3 contains all connections from the entire Consolidated Look-Back Period. I also note that Schedule 3 attached hereto discloses a connection to three MIO-managed funds (Compass CSS High Yield LLC, Compass ESMA LP, and Compass TSMA LP). My understanding is that these connections related to proofs of claim filed by~~

~~third-party managers retained by MIO on behalf of separately managed accounts in MIO-managed funds that held positions in Puerto Rico public debt, which was described on pages 67-69 of the Special Counsel Report.¹⁵~~

~~38. Although MIO policy previously permitted direct investments in the debt of municipal issuers (such as Puerto Rico), a provision of the MIO Direct Trading Policy that was adopted on March 13, 2019, which remains in effect, no longer permits MIO to invest directly in debt issued by municipalities. Since that time, MIO has been and remains prohibited from directly investing in the debt or equity of single-named issuers or governmental issuers, except securities issued by sovereign governments. As noted above, “sovereign governments” does not include Puerto Rico.~~

46. ~~39.~~ The Protocol provides:

Process to Check for Conflicts and Connections. Every Proposed Professional should perform (in connection with its other new matter intake procedures) a process to check such Proposed Professional’s client databases for conflicts and Connections with IPL Parties. A Proposed Professional should utilize a process designed to identify Connections adequately in the context of the size and organizational complexity of the Proposed Professional. For entities with a significant number of professionals, this process often utilizes computer software. For Proposed Professionals with a large number of professionals, this Protocol recommends deployment of adequate software within a reasonable time. Pending such deployment, a Proposed Professional may retain an independent third party to assess the adequacy of the alternative procedures the Proposed Professional uses to identify and appropriately disclose Connections.

¹⁵- ~~Specifically, the Special Counsel Report at page 68 indicates: “As discussed more fully in Section X.A.2 above, investments through Separately Managed Accounts, while made in the name of and nominally owned by an MIO-controlled Compass fund, are made by Third-Party Managers — in this case, ASA and Aristeia. Each of ASA and Aristeia was delegated authority to invest and reinvest in the name of the particular fund in accordance with investment guidelines attached to their agreements with MIO and the fund. MIO exercises no discretion over these investments; they are managed by ASA and Aristeia, respectively. MIO’s investments through these Third-Party Managers pre-dated McKinsey USG’s retention by the Oversight Board.”~~

Ex. A § 7(b).

47. ~~40.~~ In accordance with this guidance, because, as noted above, McKinsey does not maintain a computerized conflicts database, McKinsey retained BDO USA, LLP (“BDO”) to assess the adequacy of the connections-checking procedures used by my team and I to identify and disclose connections ~~under the 2019-2020 Contract. Upon completion of its assessment of those procedures, BDO determined that.~~ Based on BDO’s review and testing of the procedures performed by the ~~original~~ Working Group “(as described herein) to identify connections as disclosed herein, BDO determined that the Working Group’s procedures were reasonable, adequate and consistent with the general guidelines and recommendations in the Protocol.” ~~As described above, the procedures used by the Working Group to identify and disclose connections in~~ BDO also reviewed and tested the additional procedures that were above and beyond the recommendations in the Protocol, and BDO found that these procedures were performed accurately. BDO also reviewed this Declaration ~~are consistent with, or enhanced versions of, those original procedures. BDO is currently assessing the adequacy of the procedures used by the Working Group to identify and disclose connections to parties listed on the Expanded MIPL. To the extent BDO’s assessment identifies any additional connections for disclosure, McKinsey will supplement this Declaration and verified that the connections were adequately disclosed.~~

48. ~~41.~~ McKinsey’s consulting affiliates provide services to an array of clients in restructuring and turnaround engagements. They also serve clients across a broad range of industries, functions and geographies, and, within industries, serve competitors, in each case in a manner and through use of means, including information barriers between client service teams that are described more fully below, that protect the confidentiality of each client’s information

(including the confidentiality of the engagement itself, unless otherwise public). As a result, McKinsey may have served or have been served by, and may in the future serve or may be served by, certain parties listed on the MIPL in matters unrelated to FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings—though such clients may have assets or operations in Puerto Rico—either individually or as part of an engagement for an ad hoc group or official committee of creditors or interest holders. To the best of my knowledge, (i) all such ~~relationships~~connections during the Consolidated Look-Back Period are described in this Declaration or listed on ~~Schedule~~Schedules 2(a) and 2(b) attached hereto, and (ii) based on the results of the Surveys, subject to the disclosures set forth herein, (a) none of these ~~relationships~~connections constitute interests adverse to the Debtors and (b) all of these ~~relationships~~connections involved consulting matters unrelated to FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

49. ~~42.~~ Pursuant to the McKinsey Firmwide Information Sharing Policy, confidential information acquired or developed in connection with a client engagement may only be shared within the firm on a need-to-know basis. In particular, any information developed from nonpublic client sources, whether written or not, is confidential to that client, including information from third-party sources that is available to the client service team only through access provided by the client. Such confidential client information may not be shared outside of the client service team. McKinsey employees are subject to annual compliance training and certification on this and other policies. These certifications are made to McKinsey's compliance department.

50. ~~43.~~ McKinsey also uses password-protected “virtual team rooms”—secure electronic workspaces accessible only by members of the client service team—to store work

product and confidential client information. Moreover, at the time they begin their employment, McKinsey employees are required to sign nondisclosure agreements that prohibit disclosure of confidential client information, even to other employees of the firm. Employees are required to report potential or actual violations of McKinsey's policies.

51. ~~44. Other than as disclosed below, and other than the FOMB, no~~No client connection listed on Schedule 2(a) or 2(b) attached hereto accounted for more than 1.00% of the gross revenue of McKinsey ~~or any Proposed Professional~~ during the period from March 1, 2021 through February 28, 2022 (the "Revenue Period"). ~~Other than as disclosed below, and other than the FOMB, no client connection listed on Schedule 2(a) or 2(b) attached hereto accounted for more than 1.00% of the gross revenue of any Proposed Professional during the Revenue Period. As requested by the U.S. Trustee, subsequent paragraphs of this Declaration provide more detail about McKinsey's engagements for client connections that accounted for more than 2.00% of the gross revenue for each Proposed Professional.~~ To the best of my knowledge, based on the results of the Surveys, none of the services provided to any of these clients is or was related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

148. McKinsey provided advisory support to a group of ad hoc lenders of Arch Coal relating to the Arch Coal bankruptcy that included certain Material Interested Parties and/or their affiliates, some of whom appear on the Expanded IPL, including: Credit Suisse Loan Funding LLC, Credit Suisse Securities, GoldenTree Asset Management LP, Invesco Senior Secured Management, Inc., Marathon Asset Management, LLC, Monarch Master Funding Ltd., Oaktree Capital Management LP, Oppenheimer Senior Floating Rate Fund, Oppenheimer Senior Floating Rate Plus Fund, Oppenheimer Master Loan Fund, LLC, Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America, and Whitebox Advisors LLC.

149. ~~71.~~ Certain professionals employed by McKinsey may have mortgages, consumer loans, investments, brokerage accounts, or other banking, brokerage, or customer relationships with parties on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or with funds sponsored by or affiliated with such parties. Subject to the disclosures set forth herein, the results of the Surveys establish that no such professional holds an interest adverse to the Debtors. As described above, certain professionals employed by McKinsey may also invest in certain pre-tax (Pension Plan) or after-tax funds, with assets managed by MIO. The third-party managers under contract with MIO to invest those assets, including those disclosed in Schedule ~~3-attached hereto~~ 1 to the StoneTurn Declaration, may maintain investment funds that invest in Puerto Rico's debt or that of other interested parties.

150. ~~72.~~ As previously disclosed to the FOMB, one or more McKinsey consulting affiliates have invested funds with MIO solely for the purpose of satisfying obligations to guarantee benefits to Pension Participants in defined-benefit pension plans in Germany and Japan. McKinsey & Co., as plan sponsor, maintains investments in certain MIO funds in order to backstop the defined benefit obligations of McKinsey Germany to participants in the German Pension Promise, all of whom are former or current employees of McKinsey Germany.⁺⁸²⁴ Similarly, McKinsey International Inc., a wholly owned direct subsidiary of McKinsey & Co., as plan sponsor, maintains investments in certain MIO funds on behalf of current employees of its Portugal branch office as part of a defined contribution plan.

151. ~~73.~~ As previously disclosed to the FOMB, certain McKinsey consulting affiliates, from time to time, have received non-cash compensation (such as equity securities or equity-like interests in a client) pursuant to alternative fee arrangements or other similar engagements. To the best of my knowledge, McKinsey has no such ~~relationship~~connection with any entity on the MIPL, but I nonetheless note that McKinsey has or may have such ~~relationships~~connections with the following entities on the Expanded MIPL: Alto ~~Solutions, Inc.~~⁺⁹ Experience Inc., certain AMG-related entities,²⁵ Element AI Inc., Eigen Technologies Limited, Eightfold AI Inc., Evelo Biosciences, Inc., Fair Financial Corp., Fortis Therapeutics,²⁶ General Fusion Inc., Hi.Q, Inc.,

153. ~~75. Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, three McKinsey consulting professionals currently hold interests in debt securities issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities listed on the MIPL. None of the three professionals is on the Engagement Team, and therefore all of them are subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB.~~ Pursuant to McKinsey's personal trading policy (the "Personal Trading Policy"), employees ~~are~~have been, absent an approved exception, strictly prohibited from buying or selling single-name publicly traded securities of any McKinsey client.³² This prohibition includes securities issued by a state, local, or municipal governmental entity of the United States or its territories where McKinsey serves the issuing entity, and therefore applies in this case not only to buying and selling securities in the FOMB, if any, but to securities issued by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico more broadly. Employees are permitted to own single-name publicly traded securities of a McKinsey client if the securities were acquired prior to the employee joining McKinsey or prior to the period during which the issuer was a McKinsey client. The Personal Trading Policy is distributed annually for employees' review and certification of compliance, and new employees are asked to review and certify their compliance within a month of their start date. Pursuant to the Personal Trading Policy in effect up until August 1, 2022, before an employee would purchase or sell a security, the employee would be required to confirm whether the security was or was not on a list of prohibited securities. In particular and as relevant here, if an employee wished to purchase or sell a municipal security, the employee would be required to contact McKinsey Legal for clearance. The results of the

³² No such clearance or approved exception has been given by McKinsey Legal for any McKinsey employee to purchase securities in or issued by the FOMB or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico since McKinsey began providing services to the FOMB.

Surveys, and subsequent follow up, indicated compliance with the Personal Trading Policy subject to paragraph 156 below, and that, subject to the disclosures set forth herein, no such professional holds a material interest adverse to the Debtors.²²³³

154. In addition, effective as of August 1, 2022, a revised Personal Trading Policy prohibits all McKinsey employees from purchasing the single-name publicly traded securities of any company, including clients.

155. Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, three McKinsey consulting professionals were identified as holding interests in debt securities issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities listed on the MIPL. None of the three professionals is on the Engagement Team, and therefore all of them are subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB. One of the three professionals left McKinsey in October 2021, and as part of preparing this Declaration, the Working Group reconfirmed through billing records that he never had been part of the Engagement Team. The two professionals still employed by McKinsey have each certified that they never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that they never have been part of the Engagement Team.

156. ~~76.~~ Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, it was determined that one McKinsey consulting professional previously held, by virtue of an inheritance from a family member, roughly $300,000 in interests in debt securities issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities listed on the MIPL. This employee is not on the Engagement Team, and therefore has been and remains subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB. The individual sold the securities in order to liquidate the inheritance, without an exception approved by McKinsey Legal and in violation of McKinsey's Personal Trading Policy. Upon discovering the employee's trading activities, McKinsey Legal initiated an investigation and remedial action was taken. In connection with that investigation, the employee certified that he never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that he never has been part of the Engagement Team.

157. ~~77.~~ Based on the results of the Surveys, and as previously disclosed to the FOMB, it was determined that one McKinsey consulting professional owns shares in Assured Guaranty, a bond insurer, which has exposure to Puerto Rico. The value of these shares is currently estimated to be under $10,000. This employee is not on the Engagement Team, and therefore has been and remains subject to the information barriers and other protections safeguarding the Proposed Professionals' non-public information about the FOMB. This employee has recently reconfirmed that he will abide by McKinsey's Personal Trading Policy with respect to these shares, and has certified that he never held material non-public information regarding the securities in question and that he never has been part of the Engagement Team.

158. ~~78.~~ McKinsey employees may have been formerly employed by, or otherwise affiliated with, parties that may be listed on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or other financial or professional services firms that serve or served such parties. Similarly, former McKinsey employees may have been or may be currently employed by, or otherwise affiliated with, parties that may be listed on the MIPL or the Expanded MIPL, or other financial or professional services firms that serve or served such parties.

159. In the ordinary course of providing services to the FOMB pursuant to the Contracts, members of the Engagement Team have developed social and professional relationships with the FOMB members and their current and former staff.

160. ~~79.~~ As previously disclosed to the FOMB, in 2014, McKinsey founded Generation, a nonprofit entity that has and may continue to operate in Puerto Rico, among other locations. Generation provides opportunities for unemployed or underemployed people to prepare for and launch sustainable careers. Generation offered programs in 28 professions across 14 countries, making it the largest global organization by annual volume that trains and places learners in jobs. Generation ~~had~~has graduated over 40,000 participants. Generation services have been and may in the future be provided by employees of the Proposed Professionals.

161. LUMA, which operates certain PREPA assets, was not a McKinsey client during the Consolidated Look-Back Period. However, Quanta Services, Inc., ATCO, Ltd. and Canadian Utilities Limited, LUMA affiliates, were McKinsey clients in that time period. McKinsey's services for Quanta Services, Inc. related to engagements relating to strategy and growth opportunities. McKinsey's services for ATCO, Ltd. related to decarbonization pathways, value creation strategies, and market positioning. McKinsey's services for Canadian Utilities Limited related to decarbonization pathways. Based on the results of the Surveys or as otherwise known to me, none of those services were related to the FOMB, the Debtors, or the PROMESA Proceedings.

162. Recent media reports have asserted a connection between Contractual Interested Party New Fortress Energy and SoftBank. Although New Fortress Energy was not a McKinsey client during the Consolidated Look-Back Period and McKinsey is unable to confirm the precise nature of any connection between New Fortress Energy and SoftBank, out of an abundance of caution, McKinsey's connections to SoftBank have been identified on Schedule 2.

163. Proskauer Rose LLP ("Proskauer"), a Material Interested Party, previously provided advice to McKinsey and its affiliated personnel regarding bankruptcy matters, including McKinsey's connections disclosures in bankruptcy cases. In addition, Proskauer has represented McKinsey & Co., Inc., certain of its affiliates, and certain McKinsey personnel as defendants in Jay Alix v. McKinsey & Co., Inc., et al., Case No. 18-cv-04141 (the "Alix Litigation"),³⁴ pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. Proskauer has withdrawn as counsel to McKinsey & Co., Inc. and its affiliated defendants, except for one individual defendant in connection with the Alix Litigation. Proskauer has previously advised the Court on the record of its representation of McKinsey and of its use of the law firm Luskin, Stern & Eisler LLP to represent the FOMB in matters involving McKinsey. See Transcript of Omnibus Hearing at 5:20– 7:14, In re Fin. Oversight & Mgmt. Bd. for P.R., No. 3:17-BK-3283 (Bankr. D.P.R. Nov. 7, 2018).

164. On February 4, 2021, McKinsey entered into a $573 million settlement agreement with 49 State Attorneys General, the District of Columbia and five U.S. territories, including the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, to resolve litigation relating to its prior work for opioid manufacturers. This litigation was unrelated to the PROMESA Proceedings. Leading up to the settlement agreement, McKinsey negotiated with an Executive Committee team of attorney generals for a period beginning in January 2021 through early 2021. There were no representatives from Puerto Rico on the Executive Committee. McKinsey became aware that

³⁴ Jay Alix asserts these claims as assignee of AlixPartners LLP, which served as an advisor to the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority prior to the commencement of the PROMESA Proceedings and is affiliated with Zolfo Cooper, LLC, a Material Interested Party.

Puerto Rico had a claim during the general negotiation process with the Executive Committee in early 2021. Puerto Rico's claim was not a separate or distinct claim that was addressed or discussed during the negotiations, and McKinsey did not directly engage with Puerto Rico in the negotiation process. Once there was a final agreed-upon deal in early 2021, McKinsey learned that Puerto Rico would also join the settlement.

165. In summer 2022, as part of its ongoing contract review processes, the FOMB began sending emails to certain of its professionals, including McKinsey, seeking information about each such professional's connections to certain potential contract counterparties, counterparty principals and other counterparty principal stakeholders in advance of engaging such professionals to assist with contract reviews. In each case, McKinsey has been checking the names provided by the FOMB against McKinsey's client list since November 27, 2014 and indicating to the FOMB whether any such names are or were McKinsey clients during that time period. To the extent these counterparties, principals and other stakeholders were already on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, MIPL, or Updated Contractual IPL, they were already included in the connection-checking processes described herein. To the extent these counterparties, principals, and other stakeholders were not already on the Pre-PRRADA Contractual IPL, MIPL, or Updated Contractual IPL, in the interest of transparency, McKinsey discloses here that as part of this separate connections checking exercise, McKinsey has disclosed client connections to FOMB to the following entities, their affiliates, and/or principals associated with such entities: 1-800 Contacts, Aireko Construction Management Services LLC, Apex Capital, Avangrid Networks Inc., Bayer CropScience AG, Bayer CropScience S.A., Bayer CropScience LP, Bayer CropScience Ltda., Bayer CropScience Schweiz AG, Bayer CropScience, Inc., Bayer Cropscience, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Florida, Inc., CGI Technologies and Solutions, Inc.,

167. ~~81.~~ I am not related or connected to and, to the best of my knowledge based on the Surveys, no other professional of McKinsey is related or connected to, any judges, mediators, or employees of the office of the United States Trustee, in each case working on the PROMESA Proceedings, except in each case as described in this paragraph. Out of an abundance of caution, and in accordance with the Protocol, I note that, based on the results of the Surveys or as otherwise known to me, (i) Anne Marie Hawley, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, had Judge Ambro of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit as a college professor, and they remain social acquaintances, (ii) Matt Donovan, a McKinsey employee not on the Engagement Team, is the husband of a former law clerk to Judge Howard of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, and (iii) several McKinsey personnel may have met or worked with employees in the Office of the U.S. Trustee in the limited contexts of McKinsey's roles in other bankruptcy cases or may have otherwise met or appeared before certain bankruptcy judges in connection with such bankruptcy cases.

168. ~~82.~~ Accordingly, except as otherwise set forth herein, insofar as I have been able to determine after reasonable inquiry, ~~and to the best of my knowledge, I believe that~~ neither the Proposed Professionals, nor their ~~consulting~~ affiliates, nor any member of the Engagement Team holds or represents any interest adverse to the Debtors or their estates, and the Proposed Professionals constitute "disinterested persons" as that term is defined in section 101(14) of the Bankruptcy Code, as modified by Bankruptcy Code section 1107(b), in that each of the Proposed Professionals and each member of the Engagement Team:

- a. is not a creditor, equity security holder, or insider of the Debtors;
- b. was not, within two years before the date of filing of the Debtors' petitions, a director, officer, or employee of the Debtors; and
- c. does not have an interest materially adverse to the interest of the Debtors' estates or any class of creditors or equity security holders, by reason of any direct or indirect relationship to, connection with, or interest in, the Debtors, or for any other reason.

169. ~~83.~~ The Proposed Professionals will endeavor to supplement this Declaration in the event they become aware of any ~~relationship~~connection or other information that requires disclosure.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

1. I am employed as a Partner at McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States (“McKinsey US”) with an office at 1200 19th Street, NW, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20036. McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey & Co.”) is the ultimate parent company of McKinsey US, McKinsey & Company Puerto Rico Consulting, Inc. (“McKinsey Puerto Rico”) and its affiliates (collectively, “McKinsey”).² I am duly authorized to make this declaration in connection with PRRADA (as defined below) and the Independent Contractor Services Agreement, effective as of July 1, 2021, between the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (the “FOMB”) and McKinsey Puerto Rico in connection with work for the Debtors related to the proceedings under Title III of the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management, and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA” and such proceedings, the “PROMESA Proceedings”).

2. I have been employed by McKinsey US since 2014, and I am a Partner in the public sector practice. I have been a member of the McKinsey team serving the FOMB since 2016.

3. Except as otherwise noted, the statements set forth herein are based on knowledge I have from my employment position and diligence undertaken by me or professionals working with me on the team serving the FOMB and, if called and sworn as a witness, I would testify competently thereto.

Background

4. On January 20, 2022, President Biden signed into law the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (“PRRADA”). PRRADA sets forth disclosure requirements for professional persons seeking compensation pursuant to section 316 and 317 of PROMESA after PRRADA's enactment. I am filing this Declaration in connection with PRRADA's disclosure requirements, in accordance with implementing orders of the Court, because McKinsey Puerto Rico intends to seek such compensation.

5. On February 22, 2022, pursuant to PRRADA and Court order, the FOMB filed a proposed list of material interested parties for professionals to use in preparing PRRADA disclosures [Docket No. 20194, Ex. A].

6. On March 21, 2022, the Court entered the Order Regarding Proposed List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosure Act [Docket No. 20419] (the "MIPL Order"), which, among other things, ordered the FOMB to submit an amended list of material interested parties.

7. On March 28, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Debtors filed an amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20455, Ex. A].

8. On March 29, 2022, the Debtors filed a further amended list of material interested parties [Docket No. 20458, Ex. A] (the "MIPL", and such material interested parties, the "Material Interested Parties").

9. On March 30, 2022, the Court entered the Order Approving List of Material Interested Parties Pursuant to the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosure Act [Docket No. 20467], approving the MIPL.

10. On May 16, 2022, in accordance with the MIPL Order, the Declaration of Dmitry Krivin, a Partner of McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States, Disclosing Connections to Material Interested Parties in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (the "Initial Krivin Declaration") was filed.

11. Following the filing of the Initial Krivin Declaration, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Puerto Rico (the “U.S. Trustee”) requested certain additional information in connection with the disclosures set forth therein. I am submitting this Declaration to provide additional information responsive to certain of those requests.

McKinsey’s Work for the FOMB

12. McKinsey consulting affiliates first entered into a services contract with the FOMB on November 27, 2016. Since the commencement of the PROMESA Proceedings, McKinsey consulting affiliates have supported the FOMB and its staff with respect to both Title III and non-Title III activities. The scope of work under the most recent contracts, effective as of July 1, 2021, is described below. McKinsey’s Title III and non-Title III service contracts are available on the FOMB’s website.³ The attachments to each of those contracts describing McKinsey’s scope of work are attached hereto as Exhibit [A].

A. Title III Services

13. Under its most recent contracts with the FOMB, McKinsey has performed services for the FOMB in connection with the Commonwealth Title III proceedings, the PREPA Title III proceedings; the HTA Title III proceedings, and non-Title III topics, including the following:

Support for the Commonwealth Title III proceedings

- a. Providing support on fiscal plan modeling and integration to enable continuity on underlying logic and assumptions;
- b. Simplifying fiscal plan processes and continuing to build FOMB staff capabilities to further the goal of the FOMB leading fiscal plan processes;

³ <https://oversightboard.pr.gov/fomb-contracts/>

- c. Providing targeted expertise in key fiscal plan domains; and
- d. Supporting the restructuring and plan of adjustment process.

Support for the PREPA Title III proceedings

- a. Providing support on fiscal plan modeling and integration to enable continuity on underlying logic and assumptions;
- b. Simplifying fiscal plan processes and continuing to enable FOMB staff with the goal of FOMB leading fiscal plan processes;
- c. Providing targeted expertise in key fiscal plan domains; and
- d. Supporting restructuring and plan of adjustment process.

Support for the HTA Title III proceedings

- a. Supporting FOMB staff as they lead the HTA working group for Title III, including expert advice, preparation of analyses, and help with templates and tools;
- b. Supporting FOMB staff as they refine or update the transformation plan and/or models for HTA for Title III;
- c. Supporting FOMB staff with expertise and materials on rationalizing infrastructure delivery, including the fiscal plan implications of a re-organization of HTA, optimal organizational ownership for current HTA assets, concrete plans for reorganization and implementation plans;
- d. Reviewing and providing feedback on submissions related to the Title III proceedings, including plan of adjustment, financial disclosures, implementation plans as it relates to the fiscal plan;

- e. Leading preparation of “best interests” analysis in coordination with other FOMB advisors;
- f. Preparing analyses and advise FOMB staff on matters related to liquidity of HTA; and
- g. Supporting FOMB staff as they prepare for public facing engagement on topics related to HTA’s fiscal plan.

B. Non-Title III Services

14. Under its current non-Title III services contract with the FOMB, the services that McKinsey has performed for the FOMB in matters unrelated to the PROMESA Proceedings include:

- a. Advising FOMB leadership and staff on fiscal topics related to the University of Puerto Rico, including by providing “deep dive” support on specific high priority analyses, targeted capability building exercises for FOMB staff, and problem solving support to refine approach to implementation monitoring;
- b. Supporting FOMB staff on a handful of more complex reviews of the fiscal implications of government contracts, rules, regulations, executive orders and legislation, including compliance with the applicable fiscal plan(s);
- c. Providing subject matter expertise to FOMB staff as they prepare materials and analyses related to fiscal plan implementation monitoring and updates across UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA; and

- d. Continuing support on cross-FOMB capacity building and provisions of expert support to FOMB leadership to ensure that cross-FOMB capacity building efforts keep momentum.

C. Puerto Rico Securities

15. I also understand that the U.S. Trustee has asked whether McKinsey performed any work for the FOMB relating to certain Puerto Rico securities in which MIO Partners, Inc. (“MIO”) may have had historical investments. I am not aware of the securities in which MIO may have invested, but I can provide information about the work that McKinsey has performed for the FOMB over time. Specifically, McKinsey has worked with FOMB to develop fiscal plans for the Commonwealth and several of its instrumentalities. These fiscal plans estimate the resources available to the applicable entities, as well as the projected expenditures over time before considering debt service. The fiscal plans developed prior to confirmed plan(s) of adjustment did not address the treatment of any particular class of Debtor obligations, including securities, and McKinsey did not have any direct involvement in formulating restructuring terms for any particular class of Debtor securities. Finally, when requested by FOMB, McKinsey assisted in analyzing the fiscal plan implications of terms that it was considering as part of the debt restructuring process.

16. McKinsey professionals prepared reports, submitted declarations, and testified regarding PROMESA section 314(b)(6)’s requirement that a plan of adjustment be in the best interests of creditors, in connection with the confirmation of Title III plans of adjustment for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico [Case No. 17-BK-3283-LTS, Docket No. 17628, Exhibit P], Puerto Rico Public Buildings Authority [Case No. 17-BK-3283-LTS, Docket No. 18369-1], The Employees Retirement System of the Government of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico [Case

No. 17-BK-3566-LTS, Docket No. 1160] and The Puerto Rico Highways and Transportation Authority [Case No. 17-BK-3567-LTS, Docket No. 1354-1]. Those reports, however, estimate a range of recoveries for creditors (including securityholders) based on certain assumptions (including some provided by other FOMB professionals) in the event the applicable Title III case was dismissed by estimating the amount of resources available in such a scenario and applying those resources to the statutory waterfall of creditor obligations.

17. I am also aware that in 2018 the FOMB retained Luskin, Stern & Eisler LLP to conduct an investigation following reports in the press about investments by MIO in Puerto Rico public debt. Following that investigation, Luskin, Stern & Eisler LLP issued a report (the “Special Counsel Report”), which is publicly available on the bankruptcy docket at In re The Fin. Oversight & Mgmt. Board for Puerto Rico, No. 17-03283 (LTS) (D.P.R. Feb. 18, 2019), Dkt. 5154. The Special Counsel Report concluded that it had “uncovered no evidence that the McKinsey employees working on the Oversight Board engagement were aware of any MIO investments in COFINA bonds” and that “McKinsey and MIO have strict policies in place to make sure that McKinsey consultants never learn about such investments, and the McKinsey partners in charge of the Oversight Board engagement did not, in fact, know about MIO’s investments in Puerto Rico public debt.”⁴ The Special Counsel Report further indicated that:

MIO has during the course of McKinsey’s engagement for the Oversight Board held direct (now liquidated) and third-party managed (still in existence) investments in Puerto Rico public debt. However, we have seen no evidence indicating that McKinsey consulting personnel knew about those investments prior to the inquiries from the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times or that McKinsey personnel were in a position to take or actually took any action intended to influence the terms of the COFINA settlement. Indeed, McKinsey did not have any involvement in the negotiations related to the PSBTA allocation, the

COFINA plan of adjustment, or the terms of the securities that have now been issued pursuant to the confirmed COFINA plan of adjustment.⁵

D. FOMB Review of Contracts

18. Section 204 of PROMESA authorizes the FOMB to review contracts that the Government of Puerto Rico, and its instrumentalities, seek to execute:

The Oversight Board may establish policies to require prior Oversight Board approval of certain contracts, including leases and contracts to a governmental entity or government-owned corporations rather than private enterprises that are proposed to be executed by the territorial government, to ensure such proposed contracts promote market competition and are not inconsistent with the approved Fiscal Plan.⁶

19. Issued in November 2017 and as modified as of October 2020, the FOMB Policy: Review of Contracts (the “Review Policy”) outlines the scope of the Board’s review as follows:

The FOMB will review contracts to determine whether they promote market competition and are consistent with the applicable fiscal plan. To the extent contracts are related to disaster aid spending, eligibility for federal funding and/or reimbursement will also be reviewed; provided, however, that the contracting parties retain responsibility for fulfilling any federal funding or reimbursement requirements notwithstanding any approval under this Policy.

20. The services McKinsey has provided to the FOMB related to contract review have evolved over time. During some periods of time before the FOMB hired a dedicated contract review staff, McKinsey project teams conducted some level of fiscal analysis of nearly all contracts that the FOMB reviewed mainly to ensure fiscal plan compliance, as described below. Over time, as the FOMB contract review staff were hired, McKinsey became less involved in the day-to-day contract review process. At this point, McKinsey is only consulted by the FOMB on select larger contracts where specialized analyses are needed and where McKinsey possesses the relevant expertise. In addition to the foregoing, at times the FOMB has consulted McKinsey for advice relating to procurement best practices in earlier stages of the process, but such advice would not be particular to any specific counterparty.

21. As noted above, the FOMB contract review policy is triggered when the Government (including its instrumentalities) propose to enter a contract. In other words, the contract review is initiated once the counterparty to the contract has already been selected and the terms to the proposed contract have been negotiated and agreed upon, but prior to execution.

22. The McKinsey team performing contract review services for the FOMB did not play any role in assisting any entity in obtaining contracts with any Commonwealth affiliated entities, or in securing FOMB approval of a contract. Instead, McKinsey's role was circumscribed to the following fiscal analyses:

- a. Fiscal Plan Consistency Check. Based on the information submitted, the contract value and sources of funds would be verified against the applicable FOMB-certified fiscal plan and budget.
- b. Additional Fiscal Analysis. The Review Policy reserves the right for the FOMB to expand the scope of its review of any particular contract. For example, if the size of a given contract was material relative to an entity's fiscal plan and/or budget, the Board has at times asked for deeper review of the contract terms to ensure that the overall projected cost and outcomes are reasonable, and that potential risks to compliance with the fiscal plan and/or budget were identified. When the FOMB requested that McKinsey support an expanded review, McKinsey generally assigned a senior consultant on the project team with particular subject-matter expertise to provide additional insights to the FOMB. The FOMB has been selective in requesting this level of analysis, generally for larger and/or more complex contracts.

- c. Contract Analysis Write Up. The summary findings from the Fiscal Plan Consistency Check and/or any additional fiscal analyses performed would be documented so that the FOMB would have the necessary fact base to inform its determination of whether to accept or reject the contract.

23. Although I am aware that some of the contracts that McKinsey reviewed may have involved counterparties that were McKinsey clients, McKinsey's role in reviewing such contracts was limited as indicated above. As noted above, the Board contract review process is triggered once a counterparty has been selected and the Commonwealth or its related entities are proposing to enter into a contract. For the avoidance of doubt, McKinsey did not have any role in selecting proponents, negotiating contracts, or determining the terms of such contracts. In addition, McKinsey provided factual analyses about the contracts to the FOMB, but did not make decisions as to whether to approve or reject such contracts. In addition, I have reviewed the accompanying Krivin Declaration, and according to the analyses presented in that declaration, McKinsey did not serve or assist any clients in connection with work relating to the PROMESA proceedings, including such contracting with the Government of Puerto Rico or its instrumentalities.

CONSULTING AGREEMENT

Scope of Work

Services:

McKinsey will support the Board in achieving the following objectives:

- 1. Standing up the Board for success (Objective 1): McKinsey will establish the Board's organization and processes to enable it to operate and scale immediately.

Activities:

- Assisting the Board in developing a comprehensive planning process for its own organization in line with the requirements of PROMESA (e.g. fiscal plan assessment, expediting critical projects, achieving a debt solution) including:
 - Develop the operating model for the Board
 - Establish a project management office ("PMO"), including putting in place project management systems and processes (including potentially cash management capabilities to monitor Government finances)
 - Design detailed plans for implementing Board tasks and PROMESA requirements
 - Provide best practices and recommendations to promote transparency and public participation
- Develop an actionable 120-day work plan, including a core strategy and budget for implementation by the Board:
 - Determine a mission, core values and guiding principles
 - Develop Board strategy and targets
 - Establish success metrics for the Board
 - Create a budget and set overall financial goals
 - Create a realistic, actionable 120-day work plan
- Design the Board's organizational and support structure
 - Translate the strategic plan into the Board's organization
 - Design the organizational structure and staffing levels
 - Define role descriptions
 - Outline key organizational processes
 - Design and put in place administrative and essential services (e.g. admin, IT)

Timeline:

To deliver the above, McKinsey will put in place a PMO to provide broad-based interim capacity for the Board as it builds its team and internal capacity. McKinsey will complete these workstreams within the first 90 days of engagement and continue to refine and update through the full 180-day period.

- 2. Establish the frameworks to support Board deliberation and decision-making (Objective 2): McKinsey will develop the base knowledge, frameworks, analytical tools and processes that will enable the Board to effectively make decisions and fulfill its statutory responsibilities across the key focus areas, with an initial emphasis on assessing the Fiscal Plan.

Activities:

- Aspirational Vision for Puerto Rico: McKinsey will assist the Board, in consultation with the Government of Puerto Rico and other Puerto Rico stakeholders, to define key aspirational goals, benchmarks and metrics for a ten year vision for Puerto Rico. This aspirational vision should drive Puerto Rico to stabilize its current economic, social, demographic and financial situation, increase the economy's resilience, shore up public finances, support long-term, durable growth, address basic needs and restore opportunity for the people of Puerto Rico. This shared aspirational vision should be incorporated in the central Government Fiscal Plan.
- Fiscal Plan Framework and Stress Testing: McKinsey will develop a framework and approach for the Board to evaluate and certify fiscal plans and annual budgets presented to the Board, stress test the revenue, expenditure and balance sheet of the Government public finances (including an initial assessment of the central Government, Aqueduct and Sewer Authority (PRASA) and Electric Power Authority (PREPA) fiscal plans). McKinsey will provide suggested adaptations to the Fiscal Plan framework for other PROMESA covered instrumentalities. To date, in addition to the central Government, the Client has required separate fiscal plans from: PRASA, PREPA, Government Development Bank, Highway and Transportation Authority, Public Corporation for the Supervision and Insurance of Cooperatives (COSSEC) and the University of Puerto Rico. McKinsey will help Client identify the interconnections between the fiscal plans of covered instrumentalities. McKinsey will conduct a deep-dive of the revenue, expenditure and balance sheet, positioning the findings for the Board in relation to proprietary benchmarks, focusing on the central Government fiscal plan. In conducting the stress test, McKinsey will:
 - Build a high level model (or use models developed by the Government of Puerto Rico's advisors) to assess the budget against the Fiscal Plan, pressure testing across dynamic variables (e.g., cost of borrowing, macroeconomic forecast assumptions, population migration, government performance assumptions)
 - Build a debt sustainability model as required for the certification of the Fiscal Plan
 - Prioritize critical inputs that are non-negotiables to inform scenario testing and outline key assumptions (e.g., future utilities revenues, operating expenses, capital investment, maintenance, pensions and debt coverage)
 - Identify and assemble structural reforms, including reforms proposed or otherwise successfully executed in other jurisdictions, that could help improve the long-term growth potential of the Puerto Rican economy
 - Develop future scenarios to test in model, potentially including, but not limited to: multinational performance (e.g., company concentration analysis, potential for contraction in key sectors), analysis of potential impacts related to potential changes in tax policy (e.g., Act 154, transition to source income rule, other US and global tax proposals), potential risks related to federal education and health grants given "high risk" designations, spending reductions, revenue enhancements, potential changes to the

- educational funding model, potential consolidation of central government and municipal functions, improved processes and IT systems, and identify structural reforms, including reforms proposed or otherwise successfully executed in other jurisdictions
- Outline top risks and recommend ideas for initiatives to mitigate risks
 - Litigation Framework and Strategy: McKinsey will work with Board counsel to build a baseline assessment of legal proceedings and litigation, develop a framework and guidelines to enable the Board to develop a strategy for managing existing claims (e.g. Covina related claims and amounts due to contractors and taxpayers), and then put in place a robust framework for evaluation of potential litigation risk and trade-offs that will support the Board in developing its debt restructuring and stakeholder engagement strategy.
 - Critical Projects Evaluation Framework: Developing the processes to enable the Revitalization Coordinator to run a process with credibility that will catalyze the private sector investment and Public Private Partnerships (“PPPs”) and developing the framework for assessing which critical projects should be selected and fast-tracked by the Board drawing on sector specific key criteria and utilizing tools that allow for measurement of impact including:
 - Economic development benefits of the project (e.g. jobs for Puerto Rico, how lower cost of energy will impact households and industrial competitiveness)
 - Environmental impacts (e.g. compliance as well as environmental benefits)
 - Likelihood of project to reach completion in the near-term, including permitting
 - Project economics (e.g. cost to the Government of Puerto Rico, availability of private capital and project financial sustainability vs. default risks)
 - Alignment with strategic goals and plans, such as reducing reliance on oil and transitioning to sustainable power generation
 - Risks of not expediting the project, including interdependence with other infrastructure assets, unmet critical demand, or a continuing bottleneck to industrial growth
 - Restructuring Framework and Process: Design with the Board a bespoke restructuring process and strategy to restructure Puerto Rico’s public debt across all of its sovereign and sub-sovereign issuers, which will require innovative application of key principles of market restructuring practice and will include:
 - Establishing core principles for engagement and sharing of information following INSOL principles/London Rules, Chapter 9 and Paris Club practice
 - Developing a timeline for the restructuring process
 - Mapping and evaluation of creditor claims
 - Based on debt sustainability analysis from other workstreams, developing a creditor engagement strategy across all creditor groups
 - Government of Puerto Rico Framework, Initial Assessment and Benchmark: Provide the Board with the frameworks to evaluate the organizational structure of the Government of Puerto Rico and its agencies, instrumentalities, municipalities, and public corporations in order to identify specific areas of opportunity to improve the productivity, efficiency and performance of the Government, providing the basis for a fundamental redesign of the Government organization (e.g. consolidation) to facilitate increased transparency and better governance, to enable government services to be delivered more efficiently at a higher quality, and determine what elements of the Government should be served or provided outside of the government. McKinsey will:

- Develop initial framework for assessing organizational performance and structure by leveraging proprietary methodologies, customized to the Government of Puerto Rico’s context, including efficiency and effectiveness performance metrics and government organization structure spans and layers benchmarks
- Establish a baseline view of all aspects of the operations, organizational structure, and staffing levels
- Assess productivity and efficiency of organizational structure, applying proprietary tools (e.g., evaluation of services offered by departments, OrgLab spans and layers analysis) to run diagnostic and using benchmarks of employee productivity from states and countries to help identify where Puerto Rico’s performance may be an outlier and using benchmarks of government organizational structure in other state or territory governments
- Identify structural options and opportunities for improvement and redesign
- Pension Evaluation Framework, Initial Assessment and Benchmarks: Provide the Board with the tools to evaluate the highly distressed Puerto Rico pension system to rapidly identify “quick wins” for stabilizing the pension system in addition to developing a long-term, sustainable strategy. Our framework would be grounded in the three key levers of the pension systems tailored to Puerto Rico’s context: employee benefits/contributions, employer contributions, investment performance and operating costs, and build a fact-base on each of the key levers. McKinsey will then define potential reforms and quantify their implications and suggest a set of quick-wins for the pension plans.
 - Use hypothesis-driven approach to identify the set of realistic and high-impact reform options (including options that have previously been tested) across comprehensive suite of levers
 - Analyze the feasibility and value of each reform option, including using scenario analysis to incorporate findings from fiscal planning workstream (e.g., evaluate feasibility of Government coverage of benefits in short term)
 - Assess the full set of implications for the options to improve pension system, including savings potential, member cost, changes in level of benefit, and investment management cost savings or improved investment performance
 - Outline risks and mitigation strategies for each option
 - Lay out recommended strategic initiatives and metrics required to achieve the desired future state model
 - Identify “quick wins” to begin stabilizing pension system and opportunities to pursue in longer-term strategy

Timeline:

McKinsey will complete all initial frameworks during the first 30 days of the engagement and proceed with data collection, processes and assessments for some frameworks for the remainder of the engagement or according to the timing requirements of the Board.

3. Prioritize a set of short-and long-term initiatives (Objective 3):

Activities:

Based on the strategic plan and frameworks established and drawing from the comprehensive review and assessment of the Fiscal Plan, Pensions, Critical Infrastructure etc., McKinsey will generate a set of potential options for actions the Board may take or recommend in each area to support economic growth and improve government services, including both quick wins and long-term transformation. McKinsey will then deep dive to determine the net benefits of potential initiatives will be prioritized using criteria developed jointly with the Board, and structured into a portfolio of actions that together maximize the Board's impact and balance competing objectives

Timeline:

This work will be completed during the last 60 days of the initial term to allow the Board and McKinsey to gather, test and model the most practical initiatives with the most potential impact based on a deep set of facts and insights.

4. Revitalization Coordinator services

McKinsey will provide the individual team member selected by the Governor of Puerto Rico to engage in Revitalization Coordinator activities as part of the Consulting Services, subject to the below parameters. The Revitalization Coordinator activities for the initial period up to February 28, 2017 will be focused on set up of the critical projects process and program and shall include development of the critical projects framework, processes to be put in place for critical project evaluation and approval and workplan for the revitalization coordinator and critical projects workstream all to be approved by the Board. The activities of the Revitalization Coordinator per PROMESA will include identifying critical projects for acceleration by the Board by (i) reviewing submissions by project sponsors for potential projects following a set of defined criteria, (ii) identifying Government of Puerto Rico agencies relevant to the project, (iii) requesting these agencies review project submissions and propose expedited permitting plans, (iv) drafting a critical project report for public comment, and (v) submitting the critical project report to the Board for approval.

The Revitalization Coordinator activities shall be performed by the McKinsey team member until such time as the Board employs a long-term Revitalization Coordinator. If the activities extend subsequent to February 28, 2017, any renewal of Revitalization Coordinator activities will be subject to renewal by mutual agreement and according to the terms herein.

The Revitalization Coordinator activities shall be included in the scope of consulting services under this contract and shall not be considered or be interpreted to be a member of the Board. The Revitalization Coordinator activities shall not include:

- Decision-making
- Fiduciary duties
- Negotiation responsibilities
- Signature authority
- Authority to hire or fire
- Direction of Board or Puerto Rico employees

- Making public statements

TO CONSULTING AGREEMENT

Dated: March 9, 2017

Scope of Work (February 25-December 31st, 2017)

Introduction: This document dated March 9, 2017 amends and restates the Attachment 1 (Scope of Work) of the Consulting Agreement dated November 27, 2016 between McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States ("McKinsey") and The Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (the "Board" or the "Client").

Services:

From March 15th to September 30th, 2017 McKinsey will support the Board as follows:

1. Project Management Office & Organization Support

Activities:

The Project Management Office's ("PMO") core activities include working directly with the Board, the Executive Director and Board Staff in the following areas (as well as ad hoc and as needed support):

- Supporting organizational design and the on-boarding of staff
 - Finalize going forward work-plan with concrete actions and deliverables, including 120-day work plan
 - Refining and updating work-plans
 - Refining and updating budgets
 - Support on-going liquidity efforts, including monitoring liquidity and helping the Board and the Executive Director to provide substantive inputs to the on-going government management of any anticipated shortfalls in current forecasts. The scope of current efforts focus on the Treasury Single Account (approx. 2/3 of government cash flow). McKinsey will also support the Board to ensure alignment of implementation of measures with fiscal cliffs.
 - Integrate activities of restructuring and pension advisors into on-going fiscal plan efforts, including working directly with Citibank and actuaries to ensure fiscal plan measures are quantitatively and qualitatively aligned with restructuring strategy and pension reforms.
 - Provide on-going analytical support, including reviewing individual transactions submitted to the Board and the Executive Director for evaluation, comment and approval.
 - Support the Board in making specific recommendations to develop Board strategy and targets
 - Outlining and documenting key organizational processes

- Coordinating internal and external activities – Ensure close coordination to avoid misalignment in terms of scope, approach, and impact
- Monitor and provide to the Board and the Executive Director progress reports on multiple critical projects to be followed in “real time”
- Escalating issues to the Executive Director and the Board that will serve as countermeasures to fight deviations from project plans to be defined
- Defining and enforcing standards ensuring projects are defined and implemented in a consistent way on a timely basis
- Support the Executive Director and his successor in completing tasks necessary to complete critical projects and tasks on a timely basis.

2. Fiscal Plans Stress Testing

 McKinsey will develop a framework and approach for the Board to evaluate and certify fiscal plans and annual budgets for the Territory and certain covered Territorial Instrumentalities (including, but not limited to PRASA, PREPA, GDB, HTA, COSSEC and UPR). McKinsey will help Client identify the interconnections between the fiscal plans of the Territory and covered Territorial Instrumentalities.

Activities:

- In conducting the stress test, McKinsey will:
 - Build a high level model (or use models developed by the Government of Puerto Rico’s advisors) to assess the budget against the relevant plan, pressure testing across dynamic variables (e.g., cost of borrowing, macroeconomic forecast assumptions, population migration, government performance assumptions)
 - Prioritize critical inputs that are non-negotiables to inform scenario testing and outline key assumptions (e.g., future utilities revenues, operating expenses, capital investment, maintenance, pensions and debt coverage)
 - Develop future scenarios to test in model
 - Identify top risks and recommend initiatives to mitigate each of the risks identified for the Territory and the Territorial Instrumentalities (including, but not limited to, PREPA, PRASA, GDB, HTA, COSSEC and UPR)

3. Implementation Planning:

Activities:

Develop high level implementation plans related to key measures of the overall Fiscal Plan. These plans will include organizational enablers, sequencing of sub-initiatives, key performance metrics, risk mitigation approaches, and resourcing requirements.

4. Critical Projects Support:

Activities:

Continuing to support the processes to enable the Revitalization Coordinator to run a process with credibility that will catalyze the private sector investment and Public Private Partnerships ("PPPs") and finalizing the framework for assessing which critical projects should be selected and fast-tracked by the Board drawing on sector specific key criteria and utilizing tools that allow for measurement of impact including:

- Economic development benefits of the project (e.g. jobs for Puerto Rico, how lower cost of energy will impact households and industrial competitiveness)
- Environmental impacts (e.g. compliance as well as environmental benefits)
- Likelihood of project to reach completion in the near-term, including permitting
- Project economics (e.g. cost to the Government of Puerto Rico, availability of private capital and project financial sustainability vs. default risks)
- Alignment with strategic goals and plans, such as reducing reliance on oil and transitioning to sustainable power generation
- Risks of not expediting the project, including interdependence with other infrastructure assets, unmet critical demand, or a continuing bottleneck to industrial growth

5. Revitalization Coordinator services

McKinsey will provide the individual team member selected by the Governor of Puerto Rico to engage in Revitalization Coordinator activities as part of the Consulting Services, subject to the below parameters. The Revitalization Coordinator activities will be focused on set up of the critical projects process and program and shall include development of the critical projects framework, processes to be put in place for critical project evaluation and approval and workplan for the revitalization coordinator and critical projects workstream all to be approved by the Board. INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR SERVICES AGREEMENT

Effective Date: July 1, 2020

Project Assignment

PERIOD OF PERFORMANCE:

July 1, 2020 - December 31, 2020

CONTEXT:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board.

SCOPE:

McKinsey will provide expert support across the following range of topics:

- Provide analytical support for a series of individually-scoped "deep-dives" on reform priorities included in fiscal plan(s). McKinsey will support member(s) of the Board senior leadership team to identify where additional depth and expertise can meaningfully improve outcomes. McKinsey will work with the relevant Board senior leader to identify the specific analysis needs, deliverable expectations, and completion timeline taking into account prioritization of other support activities. Example topics could include:
 - Workforce development
 - Capital project productivity
 - Sector-based economic growth enablers
 - High visibility fiscal / government efficiency measures
- Provide support to Board staff on a handful of more complex reviews of the fiscal implications of government contracts, rules, regulations, executive orders and legislation, including compliance with the applicable fiscal plan(s)
- Provide light touch support and subject matter expertise to Board staff as they prepare materials and analyses related to fiscal plan implementation monitoring and updates across UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. The Oversight Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

FEES AND INVOICING:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis as set forth below:

Period of Performance	Fee
July 2020	$840,000/month
August 2020 – December 2020	$397,500/month

McKinsey will submit invoices on a monthly basis, on or before the 25th day of the calendar month following the month during which the services were performed.

ATTACHMENT 4 TO
INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR SERVICES AGREEMENT

Effective Date: July 1, 2020

ATTACHMENT 4

Modification to Prior Project Assignment for Commonwealth Title III Support

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. This approach was memorialized in the Independent Contractor Services Agreement for Title III Support effective as of July 1, 2020 (the "Agreement"), outlined in the Project Assignments in Attachments 1-3.

Services:

In regards to support for the Commonwealth Title III proceedings, in addition to the scope agreed to in Attachments 1-3 of the Agreement, from October 15, 2020 to November 7, 2020 the scope of work shall be modified as follows:

Activities:

Additional Activities

Preparation and maintenance of a Best Interests Test

- Incorporate updates to legal assumptions from Board's legal counsel as well as any other dependent data updates from other advisors
- Update supporting analyses and approach from prior Best Interest Test to account for most recent certified fiscal plan
- Prepare updated exhibit detailing the analysis and summarizing the outputs and scenario analyses

The Oversight Board and McKinsey explicitly agreed that these additional services were not part of the previously entered into Agreement or the Attachments 1-3 thereto and that the Oversight Board and McKinsey would separately agree any such provision of additional services. This Attachment 4 sets out additional services to support near-term Board priorities related to the Commonwealth Title III proceedings that have now been discussed and agreed as set out above.

Adjustments to Activities Underway

Upon execution of this Amendment, McKinsey will provide a list of activities under the existing project assignment that will be delayed to accommodate these additional services. Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

In Witness Whereof, the parties have executed this Project Assignment as of the date first written above.

Modification to Prior Project Assignment for Commonwealth Non-Title III Support

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board. This approach was memorialized in the Attachment 1 Project Assignment to the Independent Contractor Services Agreement for Non-Title III Support effective as of July 1, 2020 (the "Agreement").

Services:

In regards to McKinsey's support for the Non-Title III Board priorities, from November 1, 2020 to February, 2021 the scope of work shall be modified as follows:

Activities:

The modifications to the scope reduce McKinsey's support in certain areas, maintaining continued support in other areas, all while extending the end of the period of performance from the end of December 2020 to the end of February 2021. The specific modification are as follows.

Reduced efforts on "deep dive" non-Title III topics

The activities previously agreed upon in Attachment 1 included support on a series of individually scoped "deep-dives." McKinsey will continue to support the Board on a best efforts basis on these topics, but on a more targeted basis. For example, rather than creating end-to-end deliverables, McKinsey will focus its resources on specific analyses that can be incorporated into materials the Board is assembling. McKinsey will work with the relevant Board senior leader to identify the specific analysis needs, deliverable expectations, and completion timeline taking into account prioritization of other support activities

Continued delivery of priority expert support

McKinsey will provide extended expert support to the Board staff as it continues to build its internal capabilities. This expert support will focus on:

- Supporting Board staff on a handful of more complex reviews of the fiscal implications of government contracts, rules, regulations, executive orders and legislation, including compliance with the applicable fiscal plan(s)
- Providing subject matter expertise to Board staff as they prepare materials and analyses related to fiscal plan implementation monitoring and updates across UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA
- Providing a handful of onboarding sessions to ensure institutional knowledge is transferred on topics related to UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA

McKinsey will provide expert support to Board leadership to ensure that cross-FOMB capacity building efforts launched in FY2021 keep momentum. This will involve regular check-in sessions, consultations on building in feedback loops, and thought partnership on linking capacity building to long-term performance management.

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. The Oversight Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

FEES AND INVOICING:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis as set forth below:

Period of Performance	Fee
November 2020 – February 2021	$198,750/month

McKinsey will submit invoices on a monthly basis, on or before the 25th day of the calendar month following the month during which the services were performed.

In Witness Whereof, the parties have executed this Project Assignment as of the date first written above.

Modification to Project Assignment for Commonwealth Title III Support

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board.

Services:

In regard to support for the Commonwealth Title III proceedings, from February 1, 2021 to June 30, 2021 the scope of work shall be amended and replaced as follows:

Activities:

Provide support on fiscal plan modeling and integration to enable continuity on underlying logic and assumptions

- Provide support to Board staff on further development, refinement or updates to fiscal plan and/or models
- Provide factual inputs and advice to the responsible Board staff members as they assemble materials for Board consideration on matters related to the Commonwealth Fiscal Plan
- Review and provide feedback to the Oversight Board, government and stakeholders advisors on matters related to Plan(s) of Adjustment, Disclosure Statements, and other submissions related to the Title III proceedings
- Support Board staff to coordinate with government advisors and government representatives on development, review and Oversight Board certification of any revised/new fiscal plan(s) and/or supporting materials
- Provide analyses on the evolving fiscal landscape post COVID-19 recession, including impacts on government spending and revenues, federal and local economic support programs, and impacts on natural disaster-related recovery spending

Simplify fiscal plan processes and continue to build FOMB staff capabilities with the goal of FOMB leading fiscal plan process in Spring 2021 with lower reliance on McKinsey support

- Working with Oversight Board executive leadership, develop approach to enabling Board staff to fully manage the Fiscal Plan update and maintenance process, including milestones and capabilities required
- Develop training materials and conduct capability building activities to enable this approach over the first half of Fiscal Year 2021
- Work with Oversight Board staff and co-advisors to identify options to streamline fiscal plan maintenance processes and associated financial models, and implement selected option(s)

Provide targeted expertise in key Fiscal Plan domains

- Provide analyses and expert support to Oversight Board executive leadership on federal and local government health care revenues and expenditures, including analyses of government data on enrollment and actual expenditures, as well as long-term trends (in coordination with the Board's actuarial advisor)
- Provide support and guidance to Oversight Board staff related to agency-specific reforms, fiscal plan measures and associated implementation milestones
- Review liquidity analyses provided by the Government, and provide feedback for Board staff consideration, in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors
- Support FOMB full-time associates across fiscal plan topics where there is a need for onboarding, consultation on complex fiscal plan analyses, or as a second set of eyes on materials that FOMB associates develop in their day-to-day work

Support restructuring and Plan of Adjustment process

- Prepare content, participate in, coordinate and support cross advisor meetings and support stakeholder interactions
- Prepare content, participate in and advise the Oversight Board with respect to future mediation sessions
- Prepare content and analyses and work alongside Oversight Board, government and stakeholders advisors with regards to development of plan(s) of adjustment, disclosure statements, and other submissions related to the Title III proceedings
- Lead preparation of "best interests" analyses in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors
- Prepare analyses, support Oversight Board counsel and lead coordination of information diligence related to potential litigation involving the certified Fiscal Plan and/or other CW Title III matters
- Provide expert testimony on the Fiscal Plan as well as analytical support for such expert testimony, as mutually agreed by the Parties

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. The Oversight Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

Fees and Invoicing:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis, and will submit invoices monthly for services provided during that month, as set forth in the payment schedule below:

Period of Performance	Fee
July 2020	$1,417,500 / month
August 2020 – December 2020	$1,020,000 / month

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board. This approach was memorialized in the Attachment 1 Project Assignment to the Independent Contractor Services Agreement for Non-Title III Support effective as of July 1, 2020 ("Agreement") and in Attachment 2 to the Addendum to the Agreement effective as of November 1, 2020.

Services:

In regards to McKinsey's support for the Non-Title III Board priorities, from March 1, 2021 through June 30, 2021, the scope of work shall continue to be as follows:

Activities:

Reduced efforts on "deep dive" non-Title III topics

The activities agreed upon in Attachment 1 included support on a series of individually scoped "deep-dives." Consistent with the agreed upon activities in Attachment 2, McKinsey will continue to support the Board on a best efforts basis on these topics, but on a more targeted basis. For example, rather than creating end-to-end deliverables, McKinsey will focus its resources on specific analyses that can be incorporated into materials the Board is assembling. McKinsey will work with the relevant Board senior leader to identify the specific analysis needs, deliverable expectations, and completion timeline taking into account prioritization of other support activities. It is anticipated that this activity will be focused on individually scoped "deep dives" related to UPR during the month of May 2021, likely to include pressure testing key model assumptions or addressing ad hoc contextual questions to plan architecture (exact timing to be mutually agreed upon).

Consistent with the agreed upon activities in Attachment 2, McKinsey will provide extended expert support to the Board staff as it continues to build its internal capabilities. This expert support will focus on:

- Supporting Board staff on a handful of more complex reviews of the fiscal implications of government contracts, rules, regulations, executive orders and legislation, including compliance with the applicable fiscal plan(s)
- Providing subject matter expertise to Board staff as they prepare materials and analyses related to fiscal plan implementation monitoring and updates across UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA
- Providing a handful of onboarding sessions to ensure institutional knowledge is transferred on topics related to UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA

Consistent with the agreed upon activities in Attachment 2, McKinsey will provide expert support to Board leadership to ensure that cross-FOMB capacity building efforts launched in FY2021 keep momentum. This will involve regular check-in sessions, consultations on building in feedback loops, and thought partnership on linking capacity building to long-term performance management.

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. The Oversight Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

FEES AND INVOICING:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis as set forth below:

Period of Performance	Fee
July 2020	$840,000/month
August 2020 – October 2020	$397,500/month
November 2020 – February 2021	$198,750/month
March 2021 – June 2021	$198,750/month

Note: Monthly fees for July 2020 through February 2021 are listed here for informational purposes

McKinsey will submit invoices on a monthly basis, on or before the 25th day of the calendar month following the month during which the services were performed.

In Witness Whereof, the parties have executed this Project Assignment as of the date first written above.

Amended Project Assignment for Commonwealth Title III Support

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board.

Services:

In regards to support for the Commonwealth Title III proceedings, from July 2021 through June 2022 the scope of work shall be amended and replaced as follows:

Activities:

Provide support on fiscal plan modeling and integration to enable continuity on underlying logic and assumptions

- Provide support to Board staff on further development, refinement or updates to fiscal plan and/or models
- Provide factual inputs and advice to the responsible Board staff members as they assemble materials for Board consideration on matters related to the Commonwealth Fiscal Plan
- Review and provide feedback to the Oversight Board, and other advisors on matters related to Plan(s) of Adjustment, Disclosure Statements, and other submissions related to the Title III proceedings
- Support Board staff in their coordination with government advisors and government representatives on development, review and Oversight Board certification of any revised/new fiscal plan(s) and/or supporting materials
- Provide analyses on the evolving fiscal landscape post COVID-19 recession, including impacts on government spending and revenues, federal and local economic support programs, and impacts on natural disaster-related recovery spending

Simplify fiscal plan processes and continue to build FOMB staff capabilities to further the goal of FOMB leading fiscal plan processes

- Building upon progress achieved in building FOMB staff capabilities in FY2021, work with Oversight Board executive leadership to identify remaining gaps and develop plan to address
- Develop and deliver agreed upon training and capability building to further enable FOMB staff development and management of core fiscal plan processes
- Work with Oversight Board staff and co-advisors to identify options to streamline fiscal plan maintenance processes and associated financial models, and implement selected option(s)

Provide targeted expertise in key Fiscal Plan domains

- Provide analyses and expert support to Oversight Board executive leadership on federal and local government health care revenues and expenditures, including analyses of government data on enrollment and actual expenditures, as well as long-term trends (in coordination with the Board's actuarial advisor)
- Provide support and guidance to Oversight Board staff related to agency-specific reforms, fiscal plan measures and associated implementation milestones
- Review liquidity analyses provided by the Government, and provide feedback for Board staff

consideration, in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors

- Support FOMB full-time associates across fiscal plan topics where there is a need for onboarding, consultation on complex fiscal plan analyses, or as a second set of eyes on materials that FOMB associates develop in their day-to-day work

Support restructuring and Plan of Adjustment process

- Prepare content for and participate in cross advisor meetings
- Support FOMB stakeholder interactions in furtherance of Plan of Adjustment
- Prepare content and analyses and work alongside Oversight Board, government and stakeholders advisors with regards to development of plan(s) of adjustment, disclosure statements, and other submissions related to the Title III proceedings
- Lead preparation of "best interests" analyses in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors
- Prepare analyses, support Oversight Board counsel and lead coordination of information diligence related to potential litigation involving the certified Fiscal Plan and/or other CW Title III matters
- Provide expert testimony on the Fiscal Plan as well as analytical support for such expert testimony, as mutually agreed by the Parties

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. The Oversight Board will provide timely feedback for discussion and mutual agreement.

Fees and Invoicing:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis, and will submit invoices monthly for services provided during that month, as set forth in the payment schedule below:

Period of Performance	Fee
Months prior to Plan of Adjustment confirmation (expected to include months from July 2021 - December 2021)	$1,417,500 / month
Balance of Fiscal Year (expected January 2022 – June 2022)	$1,040,000 / month

McKinsey will submit invoices (Monthly Fee Statement) on a monthly basis, on or before the 25th day of each calendar month following the month during which the services were performed.

Project Assignment for Title III
Support for PREPA

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to PREPA. The scope below furthers and accelerates this important transition for the long-term sustainability of the Oversight Board.

Services:

In regards to support for the PREPA Title III proceedings, from July 2021 to June 2022 the scope of work shall be as follows:

Activities:

Provide support on fiscal plan modeling and integration to enable continuity on underlying logic and assumptions

- Support Board staff with context, facts, data, and analyses to support development of any revised/new fiscal plans for PREPA
- Provide context and factual support for the translation of the Fiscal Plan into the FY2023 budget for PREPA
- Review and provide feedback on submissions related to the Title III proceedings as related to the Fiscal Plan

Simplify fiscal plan processes and continue to enable FOMB staff with the goal of FOMB leading fiscal plan process in Spring 2021 with lower reliance on McKinsey support

- Working with Oversight Board executive leadership, refine approach to enabling Board staff to fully manage the Fiscal Plan update and maintenance process, including milestones and capabilities required
- Refine training materials and conduct capability building activities to enable this approach over the first half of Fiscal Year 2022
- Work with Oversight Board staff and co-advisors to identify options to streamline fiscal plan maintenance processes and associated financial models, and implement selected option(s)

Provide targeted expertise in key Fiscal Plan domains

- Develop affordability study (in coordination with technical advisors)
- Provide Board leadership and staff expert advice on topics critical to the PREPA Fiscal Plan, including generation planning, energy efficiency, distributed generation, capex delivery, operational improvement and financial projections

Support restructuring and Plan of Adjustment process

- Prepare content for and participate in cross advisor meetings
- Support FOMB stakeholder interactions in furtherance of any potential Plan of Adjustment
- Prepare content and analyses and work alongside Oversight Board, government and stakeholder advisors with regards to development of any potential Plan(s) of Adjustment, Disclosure Statements, and other submissions related to the Title III proceedings
- Lead preparation of "best interests" analyses in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors
- Prepare analyses, support Oversight Board counsel and lead coordination of information diligence related to potential litigation involving the certified Fiscal Plan and/or other PREPA Title III matters
- Provide expert testimony on the Fiscal Plan as well as analytical support for such expert

testimony, as mutually agreed by the Parties

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. Project Assignment for Title III
Support for HTA

Services:

In regards to support for the HTA Title III proceedings, from July 2021 to June 2022 the scope of work shall be as follows:

Activities:

- Support Oversight Board staff as they lead the HTA working group for Title III, including expert advice, preparation of analyses, and help with templates and tools
- Support Board staff as they refine or update the transformation plan and/or models for HTA for Title III. Provide targeted expert support on topics that could include:
 - Optimizing capex program priorities and efficiency measures, including prioritization approach, benchmark performance, delivery efficiency and impact on system outcomes
 - Opportunities to increase revenues, focused on toll fares, fines, and additional revenue opportunities (e.g., ancillary revenue)
 - Enhanced performance of the transit system and its performance and fiscal outcomes
 - Action plans to implement all measures identified in the Fiscal Plans with additional measures to achieve Fiscal Plan targets
 - Governance and management plans to enable delivery of actions
 - Clear timelines for delivery of the plan
- Support Board staff with expertise and materials on rationalizing infrastructure delivery, including the fiscal plan implications of a re-organization of HTA to operate as a toll-credit facility, optimal organizational ownership for current HTA assets, concrete plans for reorganization and implementation plans
- Review and provide feedback on submissions related to the Title III proceedings, including Plan of Adjustment, financial disclosures, implementation plans as it relates to the Fiscal Plan
- Lead preparation of "best interests" analysis in coordination with other Oversight Board advisors
- Prepare analyses and advise Board staff on matters related to liquidity of HTA
- Support Oversight Board staff as they prepare for public facing engagement on topics related to HTA's Fiscal Plan

Project management:

At the end of each month, McKinsey will provide a draft list of priority activities and deliverables that represent the bulk of the effort for that month, consistent with the scope above, for the subsequent month. Project Assignment for Non-Title III Support

Context:

McKinsey's support continues to evolve as the Oversight Board staff has grown. Over the last several years, the support model has increasingly focused on capability building for and knowledge transfer to Board staff, while still providing the Board with expert-based support on more complex issues across a wide range of topics related to the Commonwealth as well as its instrumentalities. Services:

In regards to McKinsey's support for the Non-Title III Board priorities, from July 1, 2021 through June 30, 2022, the scope of work shall continue to be as follows:

Activities:

Continued delivery of priority expert support

McKinsey will provide extended expert support to the Board staff as it continues to build its internal capabilities. This expert support will focus on:

- Advising Board leadership and staff on fiscal topics related to the University of Puerto Rico, including by providing "deep dive" support on specific high priority analyses, targeted capability building exercises for FOMB staff, and problem solving support to refine approach to implementation monitoring
- Supporting Board staff on a handful of more complex reviews of the fiscal implications of government contracts, rules, regulations, executive orders and legislation, including compliance with the applicable fiscal plan(s)
- Providing subject matter expertise to Board staff as they prepare materials and analyses related to fiscal plan implementation monitoring and updates across UPR, COSSEC, and PRASA

Project Assignment for Additional Non-Title III Support (DPS Procurement)

Context:

The Puerto Rico Department of Public Safety (DPS) has taken steps to implement shared services consolidation (e.g., by changing reporting lines), but consolidation implementation has not seen the full value in terms of improving agency efficiency and performance improvement. In addition, stakeholders have indicated to the Board that internal procurement processes are plagued by delays, lack of transparency, in some cases impacting front-line service delivery.

Based on discussions with the FOMB team, this document outlines a potential approach for FOMB – supported by its advisors – to work with DPS to improve core procurement processes. The primary goal would be to improve the responsiveness and quality of internal service delivery. Specifically, the effort would aim to reduce turnaround time, increase internal customer satisfaction, all in compliance with the GSA procurement regulations that the Board has supported. This project assignment includes the initial scoping work to baseline the current performance of DPS procurement and identify key potential reform initiatives.

The approach would involve setting up a working group composed of FOMB and DPS, with hands on, side by side support from FOMB advisors with expertise in improving internal service delivery of public sector procurement organizations.

The working group would be in-person and highly interactive, with the objective of having DPS take full advantage of external expertise in the design of the interventions while taking full ownership for implementation efforts that could result from this initial assessment. At the conclusion of this project assignment, additional efforts will be required to capture the impact identified and any additional support required would be subject to mutual agreement on future project assignments.

Services:

In regards to McKinsey's support for the these additional Non-Title III Board priorities, from May 2, 2022 to June 30, 2022, the scope of work shall be as follows:

Activities:

Diagnose the core issues and pain points

- Conduct procurement operational efficiency and effectiveness assessment including process / journey maps, identification of highest priority pain points, etc.
- Interview key stakeholders at DPS and bureaus to create a baseline fact base on the user experience in interacting with procurement functions
- Isolate the key sources of delays and inefficiencies
- Develop baseline of current state DPS procurement organizations – number of people involved, roles, etc.
- Assess periodic procurement planning processes (e.g., annual, quarterly, etc.)

Jointly identify priority interventions

- Identify gaps to leading practices, considering DPS context
- Facilitate workshop with DPS procurement leadership to identify high priority interventions that map to the pain points identified in the diagnostic
- Jointly develop an illustrative transformation roadmap with DPS, including milestones, measures and high level DPS resources needed (note: detailed initiative planning would need to occur in a future scope of work)

Assumptions:

In the development of this project assignment, the parties agreed that:

- The success of the initiative depends on frequent and open collaboration among the Board, DPS, its component bureaus, and FOMB advisors
- Upon signing of this project assignment, McKinsey personnel will work with the Board and DPS to create the list of data and documents required to kick off the effort; full-time onsite work will begin once critical mass of information has been assembled
- Assuming reasonable access to DPS personnel and data, final deliverables will be provided by June 30, 2022
- These efforts will leverage parallel FOMB efforts to assess the impacts Law 73-2019 on agency procurement efficiency and effectiveness (and not recreate the analysis independently)
- This initial project assignment is expected to last ~3 calendar months to build a broader case for change. Any additional support needed after the initial 3 months would be mutually agreed-upon based on the outputs of the first phase
- Day-to-day interactions would be with DPS functional and administrative leaders who are authorized to share information openly with FOMB and its advisors
- The content of our work together will be focused on supporting back office functions that are not connected to front line law enforcement activities

FEES AND INVOICING:

McKinsey will be compensated on a firm fixed price basis as set forth below:

Date	Fee Due
May 31, 2022	$240,000
June 30, 2022	$240,000
July 31, 2022	$240,000
Total fees	$720,000

In Witness Whereof, the parties have executed this Project Assignment as of the date first written above.

Company, Inc. (“McKinsey & Co.”) and which is registered with the SEC as an investment adviser.²

2. MIO manages assets for (i) pension plans sponsored by McKinsey & Co. (“Pension Plans”) in which roughly 30,000 current and former McKinsey and MIO employees and their respective family members, beneficiaries, and assignees participate and (ii) privately offered investment vehicles (“MIO Funds”) in which McKinsey partners, former partners, and their immediate family members can invest. Substantially all the assets under management at MIO are owned for the benefit (direct or indirect) of current and former McKinsey employees and their immediate family members, beneficiaries, and assignees.

3. I have been employed by MIO since 2004. I am MIO’s general counsel and secretary. As part of my role, I am responsible for collaborating with McKinsey and MIO management and other business functions regarding issues related to MIO operations.

4. Except as otherwise noted, the statements set forth herein are based on knowledge I have from my employment position and diligence undertaken by me or professionals reporting to me and, if called and sworn as a witness, I would testify competently thereto.

5. I understand that on May 16, 2022, McKinsey filed the Declaration of Dmitry Krivin, a Partner of McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States, Disclosing Connections to Material Interested Parties in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (the “Initial Krivin Declaration”) in the proceedings under Title III of the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management, and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA Proceedings”) in connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (“PRRADA”).

² As used in this Declaration, the term “McKinsey” includes any McKinsey entity that provides consulting (including bankruptcy advisory) services. The term “McKinsey” does not include MIO and its affiliated investment and advisory services related entities or their employees because they do not provide consulting or bankruptcy advisory services.

6. I understand that after McKinsey filed the Initial Krivin Declaration, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Puerto Rico (the “U.S. Trustee”) requested certain additional information in connection with the disclosures set forth therein, including the MIO-related disclosures. I submit this Declaration setting forth the additional information requested by the U.S. Trustee.

7. Although MIO and its employees are not a part of the McKinsey team serving the FOMB (or any other McKinsey client), consistent with the protocol that McKinsey uses for its disclosures and McKinsey’s approach of reviewing connections of all of its affiliates, MIO undertook a search for connections to interested parties in the PROMESA Proceedings.

8. Schedule 1 to the Declaration of Joshua Dennis, a Partner of StoneTurn Group, LLP, in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (“Dennis Declaration”) discloses a connection to the Puerto Rico Sales Tax Financing Corporation. This connection relates to MIO’s historical investment in certain COFINA bonds.³ One of MIO’s third-party managers approached MIO in 2014 and proposed to purchase and manage, on behalf of MIO, a position in municipal bonds issued by Puerto Rico or one of its instrumentalities. MIO agreed and allocated $58,345,000 to that third-party manager through a separately managed account (“SMA”) in an MIO-managed fund, which the manager used to purchase COFINA bonds in several transactions. Although the investment was proposed and managed by a third-party manager, because MIO’s professional investment staff specifically approved the investment in specific identified bonds (as opposed to allocating money to a manager who would subsequently choose specific investments) MIO treated it as a direct investment⁴ made in MIO’s own discretion, ³ This investment was previously publicly disclosed and described to the Court on page 72 of the Final Investigative Report of the Special Counsel to the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico [Docket No. 5154] (the “Special Counsel Report”).

⁴ MIO’s direct investment practices were previously publicly disclosed and described in the Declaration of Casey which was permissible under MIO's Direct Trading Policy at the time. The bonds were purchased in June and July of 2014, more than two years before the date that I have since come to learn that McKinsey began work for the FOMB (November 27, 2016). No other actions were taken with respect to the bonds until MIO sold approximately $8,345,000 of this position in three transactions in the first quarter of 2017, and disposed of the remaining $50,000,000 in two transactions in April 2018. An MIO-managed fund realized a total profit of approximately $765,000 from these transactions. These were MIO's only direct purchases of Puerto Rico bonds, and MIO has not held a direct investment in Puerto Rico bonds since April 17, 2018.

9. Months later, in September 2018, press coverage alleged potential conflicts of interest between MIO's investments and McKinsey's work for the FOMB. In response, and consistent with MIO's compliance commitment and desire to avoid even the appearance of a conflict of interest with McKinsey's consulting practice, MIO proactively revised the MIO Direct Trading Policy to prohibit direct investments in all municipal securities. I was not aware and am not aware of anyone else at MIO who was aware of McKinsey's role with FOMB prior to the September 2018 press reports, MIO's only purchases of Puerto Rico bonds were made more than two years before McKinsey's engagement by the FOMB, and MIO had completely exited the positions prior to the press coverage.

10. MIO's decisions to purchase and, later, to sell its position in the COFINA bonds had no connection to McKinsey's consulting work for the FOMB. This investment was not disclosed in any public filings, and based on the information barriers in place between MIO and McKinsey, no one working on McKinsey's Puerto Rico service team would have been able to learn of this investment at any time prior to the filing of the Special Counsel Report.

Lipscomb, In re: Alpha Natural Resources, Inc., Case No. 15-33896-KRH (Bankr. E.D. Va. Sept. 12, 2018), Dkt. No. 4152.

11. No other Puerto Rico bond purchases were made directly by MIO after these transactions, but the bonds are listed in Schedule 1 to the Dennis Declaration because Schedule 1 contains all connections for the period from November 27, 2014, through February 28, 2022 (the “Consolidated Look-Back Period”). Other than as disclosed in the Special Counsel Report and herein, MIO has had no other direct investments in Puerto Rico bonds during the Consolidated Look-Back Period.

12. I also note that Schedule 1 to the Dennis Declaration discloses a connection to three MIO-managed funds (Compass CSS High Yield LLC, Compass ESMA LP, and Compass TSMA LP). These connections related to proofs of claim filed by third-party managers retained by MIO on behalf of SMAs in MIO-managed funds that held positions in Puerto Rico public debt, which was described on pages 67-69 of the Special Counsel Report.⁵

13. With respect to “indirect” investments (i.e., transactions made by MIO’s third-party managers in their independent investment discretion), pursuant to my understanding of the protocol used by McKinsey for its disclosures, those instrument-level holdings have not been disclosed in Schedule 1 to the Dennis Declaration. MIO nonetheless wishes to disclose that in 2021 it determined that five SMA managers (Aristeia, ASA, Decca, Magnetar, and Maritime) traded Puerto Rico bonds at some point during the period from January 1, 2015 to January 29, 2021. As indicated in the Dennis Declaration, MIO’s professional investment staff allocates capital to each SMA, and capital allocated to those SMAs is then invested and managed by third-party managers pursuant to formal investment management agreements that grant full investment discretion to the third-party managers, subject to agreed investment guidelines, risk limits, and other general parameters.

14. A portion of MIO's assets under management are invested with third-party managers via private funds ("Third-Party Funds"). Based on prior searches of MIO's centralized database in 2019 and 2020, MIO knows that several managers mentioned Puerto Rico bonds in their investor materials. However, other managers could have had a position in Puerto Rico bonds without MIO's knowledge. In addition to the SMA managers listed above, the Third-Party Funds that MIO is aware of that mentioned Puerto Rico bonds in their investor materials are: Autonomy, Aristeia, Carlson/Black Diamond, FCO Advisors, Maritime, Polygon, Schroders, and Whitebox. If any of these Third-Party Managers appeared on any of the expanded lists of material interested parties and other related parties in the PROMESA Proceedings received by MIO's counsel, they were disclosed as such. Because MIO does not have access to information about the instrument-level investments made by Third-Party Funds beyond that which the fund chooses to provide to investors generally, and because the type of instrument-level investment information that is made available varies from manager to manager, MIO's knowledge about the holdings of the Third-Party Funds in which MIO has invested is, at best, incomplete. MIO is therefore unable to identify all of its indirect investments in Puerto Rico bonds through Third-Party Funds that it has invested in. As indicated in the Dennis Declaration, Third-Party Funds are managed by third-party managers who exercise full investment discretion for the benefit of all investors in the fund, and MIO has no ability to direct the investment decisions of Third-Party Funds.

15. Pursuant to the policies described in the Initial Krivin Declaration, MIO and McKinsey do not communicate regarding MIO investment decisions generally, and did not communicate regarding any actual or potential MIO investments in Puerto Rico debt securities.

16. MIO is overseen by a board of directors (the “MIO Board”). Prior to October 31, 2021, the MIO Board was composed of current and former senior McKinsey partners and (as of November 2017) independent directors who have no previous employment relationship with McKinsey. As of October 31, 2021, however, no current McKinsey partners serve on the MIO Board. Over time, the MIO Board’s composition has shifted from a majority of current McKinsey partners to exclusively independent directors and former partners. Pursuant to its charter, the MIO Board is responsible for matters such as: overseeing the overall strategy and mandates of MIO; establishing mandates for the committees of the MIO Board; monitoring and reviewing the performance of those committees; overseeing MIO’s governance policies, including policies concerning recusal and the operational separation between MIO and McKinsey, which the Board does both directly and by appropriate delegation to the Governance Committee of the MIO Board or to the officers and employees of MIO; overseeing the investment of the assets entrusted to MIO (as described further in paragraph 17 below); monitoring and reviewing the performance of the officers and employees of MIO regarding their delegated duties; reviewing and discussing the health of MIO and making recommendations to improve MIO’s health; monitoring and reviewing the performance of existing MIO products and services and catalyzing new product and service innovation, which the Board does both directly and by appropriate delegation to the Advisory and Client Service and Investment Committees of the MIO Board or to the officers and employees of MIO; providing an interface to network and communicate with clients of MIO; and overseeing and monitoring MIO’s risk management processes.

17. The MIO Board is not responsible for making investment decisions on behalf of the Pension Plans or MIO Funds and does not exercise investment discretion with respect to such investments. Rather, the MIO Board has delegated to MIO's professional staff responsibility for making investment decisions (including all direct investments and allocations to third-party managers) on behalf of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds. Although the MIO Board does not currently ratify any direct investments made by MIO's professional investment staff or allocations third-party managers, prior to September 11, 2017, the Investment Committee of the MIO Board took a formal vote on a quarterly basis to ratify the allocation and redemption decisions made by MIO's staff in the prior quarter. However, the MIO Board and Investment Committee did not ratify any direct investment decisions made by the MIO staff.⁶ Moreover, the ratification process never involved an up or down vote on any specific allocations; rather the Investment Committee ratified all Third-Party Fund and third-party manager allocations made by MIO's professional investment staff as a whole. Accordingly, MIO Board members did not communicate with MIO's professional staff regarding investments in Puerto Rico bonds prior to press coverage on the subject beginning in September 2018.

⁶ As described above in paragraph 8, MIO's investment in 2014 in certain COFINA bonds was treated as a direct investment.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

of MIO Partners, Inc. (“MIO”), which is a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of McKinsey & Company, Inc. (“McKinsey & Co.”).² MIO is registered with the SEC as an investment adviser. StoneTurn has been engaged by MIO to assist in the preparation of the schedule of MIO connections to interested parties in the proceedings under Title III of the Puerto Rico Oversight, Management, and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA Proceedings”), as described below.

2. MIO manages assets for (i) pension plans sponsored by McKinsey & Co. (“Pension Plans”) in which roughly 30,000 current and former McKinsey and MIO employees and their respective family members, beneficiaries, and assignees participate and (ii) privately offered investment vehicles (“MIO Funds”) in which McKinsey partners, former partners, and their immediate family members can invest. Substantially all the assets under management at MIO are owned for the benefit (direct or indirect) of current and former McKinsey employees and their immediate family members, beneficiaries, and assignees.

3. I have been employed by StoneTurn since 2004, and I am a partner there. As part of my role, I help lead StoneTurn’s Data Science and Analytics practice, which assists companies and counsel to companies with matters involving complex data analysis.

4. In the course of StoneTurn’s engagement with MIO, I have become personally knowledgeable about the business operations of MIO that are described below. Except as otherwise noted, the statements set forth herein are based on knowledge I have from my employment position and diligence undertaken by me or professionals reporting to me, including through discussions with and representations from MIO personnel, and review of written documents. If called and sworn as a witness, I would testify competently to the statements set forth herein.

Background

5. I understand that on May 16, 2022, McKinsey filed the Declaration of Dmitry Krivin, a Partner of McKinsey & Company, Inc. United States, Disclosing Connections to Material Interested Parties in Connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act (the “Initial Krivin Declaration”) in the PROMESA Proceedings in connection with the Puerto Rico Recovery Accuracy in Disclosures Act.

6. I understand that after McKinsey filed the Initial Krivin Declaration, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Puerto Rico (the “U.S. Trustee”) requested certain additional information in connection with the disclosures set forth therein, including the MIO-related disclosures. I submit this Declaration to describe the process for preparing the schedule of MIO connections to interested parties in the PROMESA Proceedings, and to provide additional information requested by the U.S. Trustee.

7. MIO has represented to me that it does not provide any client consulting services and has never performed any work or services for the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (“FOMB”). The FOMB is not seeking to engage MIO, nor has it engaged MIO in the past.

8. I was involved in the process of preparing both the schedule of MIO connections that is attached hereto as Schedule 1, and the schedule of MIO connections that was attached as Schedule 3 to the Initial Krivin Declaration.

MIO Disclosure Process

9. Although MIO and its employees are not a part of the McKinsey team serving the FOMB, consistent with the protocol that McKinsey uses for its disclosures and McKinsey's approach of reviewing connections of all of its affiliates, MIO undertook a search for connections to interested parties in the PROMESA Proceedings.

10. Specifically, on April 11, 2022, MIO's counsel received the lists comprising the Material Interested Parties List and an Expanded Material Interested Parties List as of such date from counsel for McKinsey. MIO then compared such lists to a list, compiled to the best of MIO's knowledge, of MIO's third-party investment managers, direct investments, financial counterparties, and service providers (such as vendors) (collectively, "Connections") for the period from January 1, 2016 through February 28, 2022³ for the initial look-back period of November 27, 2016 through February 28, 2022. Counsel to MIO delivered the results of this comparison to counsel for McKinsey, and the resulting matches are set forth in Schedule 1(a) attached hereto.⁴

11. MIO subsequently compared the Material Interested Parties List and Expanded Material Interested Parties List that it received on April 11, 2022 against an additional list, compiled to the best of MIO's knowledge, of MIO's Connections for the period from November

³ To ensure that such list was comprehensive given the nature of MIO's records, MIO pulled information about its Connections dating back to January 1, 2016.

⁴ The "Connection Type" column in Schedule 1 identifies each MIO connection as a Third-Party Manager/Managed Fund, Direct Investment, Counterparty, or Vendor. Third-Party Manager/Managed Funds are third-party managers with which MIO has contracted, or third-party funds managed by a third-party manager. Direct Investments reflect security-level investments made by MIO's professional investment staff, exercising their own investment discretion, pursuant to the MIO Direct Trading Policy, including debt or equity indices and exchange-traded funds, bonds issued by sovereigns, municipalities, or government agencies, credit default swaps on financial counterparties of MIO-managed funds, the sale of in-kind distributions of securities received from third-party funds, or the sale of securities in liquidated separately-managed accounts. MIO-Managed Funds are MIO-controlled investment vehicles that hold assets for the Pension Plans and MIO Funds. Counterparties are financial counterparties of MIO-managed funds. Vendors are service providers retained by MIO.

27, 2014, through December 31, 2015, to account for the expanded look-back period of November 27, 2014 through November 26, 2016, for this supplemental set of disclosures.⁵ Counsel to MIO delivered the results of this comparison to counsel for McKinsey, and the resulting matches are set forth in Schedule 1(b) attached hereto.

12. Thereafter, MIO's counsel received from McKinsey's counsel on June 7, 2022, and August 11, 2022, respectively, two additional lists of new parties that had been added to the Expanded Material Interested Parties List. MIO compared the June 7, 2022 list of new parties to a list, compiled to the best of MIO's knowledge, of MIO's Connections for the period from November 27, 2014, through February 28, 2022, and it compared the August 11, 2022 list of new parties to a list, compiled to the best of MIO's knowledge, that included MIO's Connections for the full look-back period from November 27, 2014, through February 28, 2022.⁶ Counsel to MIO delivered the results of these comparisons to counsel for McKinsey, and these resulting matches are also set forth in Schedule 1(b) attached hereto.

Additional Disclosures

13. The information available to MIO regarding instrument-level investments made by third-party managers varies depending on whether MIO has invested with the manager via a private fund ("Third-Party Fund") or a separately-managed account ("SMA").

14. Approximately 50% to 60% of MIO's assets under management ("AUM") is invested in Third-Party Funds, which are private funds that are not owned, operated, or managed by MIO. As an investor in a Third-Party Fund, MIO is merely one investor among other institutional or individual investors. Third-Party Funds are managed by third-party managers who exercise full investment discretion for the benefit of all investors in the fund, and MIO has no ability to direct the investment decisions of Third-Party Funds. The degree to which MIO receives information about instrument-level investments made by the Third-Party Funds depends on the manager and the information that the manager chooses to share with investors in its funds. The type of instrument-level investment information that is made available varies from manager to manager—for example, some managers may provide performance reports, market commentary, or a representative sample of winners/losers from the previous quarter; other managers may not provide that information. MIO does not have the right to obtain instrument-level investment information from Third-Party Funds beyond that which the fund chooses to provide to investors generally.

⁵ As noted above, MIO had already compared the Material Interested Parties List and Expanded Material Interested Parties List that were received from McKinsey's counsel on April 11, 2022 to a list containing MIO's Connections for the period from January 1, 2016 through November 26, 2016, in connection with preparing the list of connections to interested parties that is set forth in Schedule 1(a) attached hereto.

⁶ The list of Connections used by MIO for the comparison to the August 11, 2022 list of new parties was overinclusive and actually included all of MIO's Connections from November 27, 2014, through June 30, 2022.

15. Approximately 30% to 40% of MIO's AUM is managed in SMAs. An SMA is an account within an MIO-owned and operated special purpose fund. MIO's professional investment staff allocates capital to each SMA. Capital allocated to those SMAs is invested and managed by third-party managers pursuant to formal investment management agreements that grant full investment discretion to the third-party managers, subject to agreed investment guidelines, risk limits, and other general parameters. In many instances, the third-party manager is managing the SMA to mirror a Third-Party Fund that the manager is already managing for many other investors. Because MIO owns and operates the special purpose funds in which the SMAs are housed, MIO has access to records of the instrument-level holdings in the SMAs.

16. Although materials received from managers of Third-Party Funds are generally stored in a centralized MIO database, MIO does not record or track the names of specific securities or financial instruments mentioned in those materials, and MIO personnel do not necessarily even read these reports. Thus, any instrument-level investment information that is provided to MIO by Third-Party Funds is not easily searchable and would not provide a complete view of the Third-Party Funds' underlying holdings for all funds. As a result, MIO's knowledge about the holdings of the Third-Party Funds in which MIO has invested is, at best, incomplete.

17. In any event, MIO exercises no investment discretion over the investment decisions made by third-party managers in either Third-Party Funds or SMAs.⁷

18. For approximately 10% of MIO's AUM, MIO professional staff makes instrument-level investment decisions⁸ on behalf of the Pension Plans and the MIO Funds in investment vehicles operated by MIO. As a matter of MIO policy, however, primarily to avoid any appearance of conflicts of interest with McKinsey's consulting businesses, MIO is prohibited from directly investing in the debt or equity of corporate issuers or governmental issuers, except securities issued by sovereign governments. For clarity, "sovereign governments" does not include the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or its instrumentalities

⁷ MIO's relationship with its third-party managers was previously publicly disclosed and described in the Supplemental Declaration of Casey Lipscomb, In re: Alpha Natural Resources, Inc., Case No. 15-33896-KRH (Bankr. E.D. Va. Nov. 9, 2018), Dkt. No. 4160. As described in that declaration, MIO's professional investment staff may confer on an as needed basis with third-party managers in the exercise of the staff's oversight responsibilities, including about particular investments in some cases. Nevertheless, investment decisions remain with the third-party manager for all Third-Party Funds and SMAs.

⁸ MIO makes two types of investment decisions. First, it can decide to allocate a certain amount of capital to a third-party manager who will then invest the capital on behalf of the Pension Plans and MIO Funds according to the manager's own discretion, and MIO plays no role in selecting which instruments the manager decides to invest in. Second, MIO can decide to make an investment directly in individual financial instruments (for example, a U.S. Treasury bond or an exchange-traded fund). In such cases, MIO is subject to a strict trading policy prohibiting direct (i.e., not through a third-party manager) investments in certain types of instruments. It is this second category of investment decisions that is meant to be captured by the term "instrument-level investments." The term is meant to identify circumstances in which MIO is exercising its own investment discretion to choose to invest in a particular financial instrument, and to distinguish from circumstances in which MIO allocates capital to a third-party manager who makes all of the "instrument-level investment" decisions.

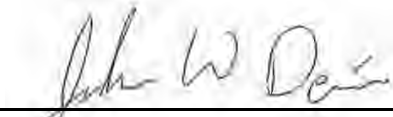

(including the debtors in the PROMESA Proceedings (the “Debtors”)). This policy prohibiting direct investments in the debt or equity of corporate issuers or governmental issuers has been in effect since at least 2012. Prior to a revision to the MIO Direct Trading Policy that was adopted on March 13, 2019, MIO policy previously permitted direct investments in the debt of municipal issuers (such as Puerto Rico).

19. Any information that MIO receives from third-party managers regarding their investments, irrespective of whether such investments are managed by Third-Party Funds or SMAs, and any information that MIO has about the 10% of assets under MIO management, is subject to strict information barriers that are the subject of formal compliance training and monitoring. The operational separation between MIO and McKinsey is designed to restrict the flow of information between MIO personnel and McKinsey consultants and ensure that (1) information regarding MIO investments will not influence McKinsey’s client engagements and (2) information from McKinsey’s client engagements will not influence MIO’s investment decisions. MIO and McKinsey maintain policies and procedures designed to ensure this separation. Pursuant to these policies, any information that MIO may receive from third-party managers regarding investments, either for Third-Party Funds or SMAs, may not be shared with McKinsey personnel in any form, except as previously provided for in the policies with respect to members of the MIO board of directors in the course of their oversight role (and in that case, only prior to October 31, 2021, after which no MIO board members were active McKinsey partners or consultants). In other words, “information flow” between MIO and its third-party managers on the one hand, and McKinsey consultants on the other, is strictly prohibited by MIO and McKinsey policies and procedures.
